MORRISVILLE AND HYDE PARK

L. H. LEWIS, Editor and Manager

Demon Rum appears to have been chiefly accessory before the fact in the destructive Youngstown riots.

Prosperity and industrial expansion have invariably followed a Republican tariff. This is an established economic fact.

Perhaps if a little more care had been taken in selecting ambassadors to European countries, it would not now be necessary to send Col. House abroad to instruct them in diplomacy.

Tests in three colleges have shown that the students are ignorant of common current affairs, which are familiar to newspaper readers. Undergraduates appear to have little time to devote to newspaper reading. Of fifty-nine students to whom were submitted twenty-one questions, none answered all correctly and only three did better than ninety per cent. For instance, forty-two out of fifty-three students of Bowdoin College failed to identify Saloniki, the scene of important events in the Balkan campaign. Some of them thought Saloniki was in Poland and others did not attempt to locate it at all. A daily course in history in the making might be profitable in the institutions of higher learning. Of course this does not refer directly to our Vermont higher institutions, but all the same it might be well to "think it over."

Automobile Taxation

Automobile owners who had feared a tax on their cars have been reassured by Mr. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, who has issued a statement explaining that the proposed tax on the horse power or motor cars refers entirely to a tax on the automobile before it leaves the factory, to be paid by the manufacturer, and paid only once to the Federal government. He adds that "no yearly taxation of automobiles and motor cars similar to the license taxes of states is contemplated, nor has it, at any time, been suggested that a Federal tax be imposed on automobiles already in use by private owners." Thus owners are to be exempted from any direct tax, though they may pay the tax indirectly if the makers conclude to get their money back by advancing the price of cars.

The Olive Branch

At a meeting of the Progressive National Committee at Chicago, recently, the Bull Moosers issued a statement which opens the way for a re-union of the Progressives and Republicans. The Progressives extend the Olive branch of peace to the old party and express the hope of a reconciliation before the national convention.

The date of the Republican convention is June 7, at Chicago, and the Progressives have chosen this date and place for their national assemblage. In a declaration of principles signed by all the committeemen, and having, it is said, the assent of Col. Roosevelt, a declaration for the amalgamation of the two factions is issued to the end that the Progressives may return to the Republican party and join with them in the task of driving the Democratic party from power. A statement is also made by George W. Perkins, one of the generals of the Progressive party, that Progressives will not insist upon the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt. Justice Hughes or some other progressive Republican will be satisfactory to the prodigals.

Col. Roosevelt, in his greeting to the National Committee of his party, outlines what he conceives to be the great issue of the hour. These are in his judgment, preparedness and the maintenance of the national honor. His declaration on these two engrossing questions heartens every good American, whether he likes the Colonel or not, and on these propositions, the national defense and an exhibition of real Americanism in our foreign relations, Republicans can agree with Progressives. On certain minor issues, including the tariff, the two factions are in accord. On the essential political and economic questions which engross the thought of the republic, the Progressives are in harmony with the Republicans, and both are emphatically out of tune with Democratic ideals, Democratic foreign and domestic policies and Democratic accomplishments. Both are eager to banish the Democratic party and all its works from the seat of power. The only way to realize this ambition is to get together; it cannot be done if the breach is not bridged.

The Progressives make a fair proposition. A little tact, a little diplomacy, a forgiving spirit and a disposition to let bygones be bygones will close the door through which the Democratic donkey blundered. It may be hard for some of the old line politicians to shake the hand that held the knife, but nursing a grudge pays no dividends and wins no campaigns.

For Stains.

For stains on light dresses, etc., lay the garment flat on a table and cover the stains with dry pipe clay. Leave for half an hour, then shake out, and apply a second lot if necessary. Take out stains as soon as they are made as possible, for if they are allowed to dry in they are more difficult to remove.

THE WHOLE BODY NEEDS PURE BLOOD

The bones, the muscles, and all the organs of the body depend for their strength and tone and healthy action on pure blood. If the blood is very impure, the bones become diseased; the muscles become enfeebled, the step loses its elasticity, and there is inability to perform the usual amount of labor. The skin loses its clearness, and pimples, blotches and other eruptions appear. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood. It is positively unequalled in the treatment of scrofula and other humors, catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, that tired feeling. Be sure to get Hood's and get it today. All druggists.

No More "A B C" Business

Talk of intervention in Mexico by a combination of the nations of the Western hemisphere which has been provoked by a resolution presented in Congress, is absurd. If the slaughter of Americans in Mexico is to be avenged it must be done by the United States Government. The responsibility rests upon this government alone. It cannot be divided and the suggestion that the United States shall depend upon the help of a half-dozen Latin Republics to perform a duty which concerns the United States alone is anything but agreeable to the American people.

One Hundred Spelling Demons

Professor W. F. Jones, Head of the Department of Education, University of South Dakota, has published as one of the results of his extensive investigation of the material of spelling, a list which he calls the "one hundred spelling demons of the English language". These words are supposed to be spelled correctly by pupils below the fifth grade. This list has been sent to all of the schools in this supervising district with the request that it be tried by the pupils of the grammar grades as well, and thoroughly learned wherever necessary. The names of the pupils who spelled all of these words correctly on the first test will be printed later. Older people might profitably refresh their memories upon these words. The "one hundred demons" are as follows:

Which, their, there, separate, don't, meant, business, many, friend, some, been, since, used, always, where, women, done, hear, write, writing, heard, does, once, would, can't, sure, loose, lose, Wednesday, country, February, know, could, seems, Tuesday, wear, answer, two, too, ready, forty, hour, trouble, among, busy, built, color, making, dear, guess, says, having, just, doctor, whether, believe, knew, laid, tear, choose, tired, grammar, minute, any, much, beginning, blue, coming, though, early, instead, easy, every, through, they, half, break, buy, again, very, none, week, often, whole, won't, cough, piece, raise, ache, read, said, hoarse, shoes, tonight, wrote, enough, truly, sugar, straight, here.

ARTHUR L. CHENEY'S SUCCESS

Great Popularity of Plan to Sell Medicine at Half Price and Guarantee a Cure

Arthur L. Cheney the enterprising druggist rather than await the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Dr. Howard Co., to secure a quick sale for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by offering the regular 50c bottle at half price. The wonderful success of this plan was a great surprise even to Arthur L. Cheney and today there are scores of people here in Morrisville who are using and praising this remarkable remedy.

OVERWORKED MOTHER Finds Health In Our Vinol

Collinsville, Ill.—"I suffered from a nervous break-down and terrible headaches, and was tired all over, totally worn out and discouraged but as I had a large family I had to work despite my suffering. I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it, and within two weeks I noticed a decided improvement, and now I am a well woman."—Mrs. ANA BECKER.

MORRISVILLE

James Billings resumed school Monday, after a week's illness from grip.

M. S. Hawley and son, Donald, of Jeffersonville were visitors in town last Saturday.

Mrs. P. A. Wakefield and son, Wendall Stewart, of Hardwick came Saturday night for a few days' visit with relatives in town.

Mrs. C. E. Melendy and Mrs. Elsie Wood and son, Leighton, were guests Thursday of Mrs. Melendy's son, Ellis Melendy.

George Norton has been quite ill the past week at his home on Richmond street, suffering from an attack of grip. His condition is improving.

Miss L. Merle Phillips of White River Junction, a former employe of this office, was a guest over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Kramer.

Mrs. Dora McNall of St. Johnsbury and sister, Mrs. William Clemens of Hardwick, were guests last Thursday and Friday of friends in town.

Mrs. M. H. Boardman returned from Burlington last Thursday, where she was called by the illness of her daughter, Miss Allie Boardman, who is now better.

The many friends of George Wallace, who has been critically ill for several months, are pleased to know that his condition is steadily improving. He was able to ride out last Sunday.

Mrs. Simpson, who came last week to live with her daughter, Miss Mary Jean Simpson, and the other teachers at "Le-Rendezvous" on Court street, has been suffering from the prevailing distemper the past week.

Mrs. F. A. Cutting, who has been ill several days the past week, suffering from a bilious attack and heart trouble, is better. Her daughter, Mrs. Harold Billings, of Stowe came last Saturday to remain a few days.

The condition of Ruth Clark, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Clark, who underwent an operation at Mary Fletcher Hospital last week Tuesday, is improving very satisfactorily. She will be able to return home in a few days. Her mother has been with her since the operation.

The Uplift Club met last Wednesday with Mrs. J. W. Wakefield on the Elmore Mountain road, eight members being present. The meeting was a most enjoyable and profitable one. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Harrison Dodge invited the members to meet at her home on Wednesday, January 26.

BASKET BALL

Hardwick Trims up P. A. in Fast Game

The second league basket ball game of the series played here last Wednesday night furnished plenty of excitement for the fans and there was a large number present, many coming from out of town. It was a game filled with thrills for everybody and while the supporters of P. A. were in the majority, both teams were given loyal support and good feeling prevailed throughout.

P. A. took the lead at the start and were consistent favorites up to the last ten minutes of play, when the boys from the granite town came from behind and with a whirlwind finish, in which was displayed a fine quality of basket ball, fairly played P. A. off their feet, snatching victory from what had seemed sure defeat by a score of 19 to 13.

At the end of the first half the score was 8 to 4 in favor of P. A. The locals played a strong game during this period, showing fine team work and speed. The visitors played clean and fast, but the ball was kept in P. A. territory most of the time. In the middle of the last half H. A. let out a few links and played rings around the astonished locals, who, while having hard luck in losing several easy shots, were outclassed for the last few minutes of play.

H. A. Towne, rf Ig, Campbell; Battye, lf rg, Cordella; Silloway, c rg, Cordella; Ward, rg lf, Lewis; Smalley, lg rf, Thompson.

BASKET BALL LEAGUE STANDING

Montpelier High	1	1	0 1000
Stowe High	3	2	1 666

Spaulding High	3	1	2 333
Montpelier Sem.	2	0	2 000
St. Johnsbury Acad.	2	0	2 000

The battle is on in earnest. Everyone is watching and prophesying the outcome; however, it is a long ways to the end. There are forty-seven more games to be played. The winning team will hold the championship cup one year. There are only five more league games to be played on the local floor. Watch this column each week for the standing. The order may not be exactly the same next week.
