Mrs. Mattie Baker and daughter, Miss May, from Boston came Saturday night for a week. Misses Clara Hill and Doris Elwood were at home from Montpelier Seminary over Sunday. Davis, the magician, gave a very pleasing entertainment to a large audience Friday evening. A truck from Boston was here Saturday to get a load of ninespins purchased from C. F. Hayward. Peter Alexander, former proprietor of the Fruit Store who has spent the last year in Italy came Friday night. Mrs. D. B. Smalley, sister, Mrs. Gates and son Tracy, went to Montpelier Saturday to attend a Montpelier Seminary ball game. Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Wells and children of Rutland were guests of her aunt, Mrs. H. A. Paul at the Everett over Sunday. His mother, Mrs. E. E. Wells accompanied them back. It does not speak well for the morals of certain people in our community, that they should commit the States' Prison crime of "breaking and entering" an unoccupied house, plainly for immoral purposes. The terrible tragedy of last summer, here, should have taught them a salutary lesson. More church-going and less attendance of promiscuous dances, might influence their lives toward better things.

Congregational Church

The next meeting of the Young People's League will be held in the Methodist vestry on Friday night, the speaker will be Miss Gary of Rutland, the State Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. For the social hour to follow, come and see. This is the season for our contributions to the Congregational World Movement. Our quota is high this year and we hope to secure it only by a very earnest effort and hearty response from every one. This plan does away with many appeals throughout the year. Let us be ready for the visit of the canvassers. We had a strong and inspiring message last Sunday from Rev. Dr. Guttererson of Boston, District Secretary of the American Missionary Association. He outlined the various activities of the several Missionary Societies speaking of their heroic campaign for a reconstructed and orderly world, made safe for democracy and permeated with the principles of Christian truth and brotherhood. At the session of the Sabbath School Dr. Guttererson told a story from real life of the rise of a colored bootblack to the presidency of an important educational institution.

Found After Wandering Away

Henry Peppin, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Peppin, who seems to have a mania for wandering away and secreting himself for days at a time, left home about nine o'clock Friday evening. When he had not returned Sunday morning a dozen men of the neighborhood set out to hunt him up. During the forenoon the missing boy was seen to ride out of the barn at A. L. Gale's on West Branch on one of Mr. Gale's horses. He came to the house and said he had been in the barn all the time of his absence. When asked what he was doing with the horse he said he was playing with it. He was allowed to ride away, but soon returned and was later taken in charge by Sheriff G. W. Buzzell. It was intended to take him to the State hospital at Waterbury Monday, but one of the younger children at the Peppin house is ill with diphtheria and the family is in quarantine, so the boy will be kept until a clean bill of health can be given him from Burlington. The boy was at the Mary Fletcher hospital all winter, having treatment for his feet, which were frozen during a week's wandering the last week in November. He made an attempt to leave home soon after his return from the hospital, but was intercepted. It was thought that he was heading south toward Moscow during the storm Saturday night, but he claims to have been in Mr. Gale's barn and his clothing was dry when he appeared Sunday. He was in his shirt sleeves wore no coat. "He is being cared for at a cell in the Apeley Memorial building.

Congregational Church

Will members of the Sunday school note that supper will be served by the losing side in the recent contest, on Thursday night at seven sharp; all enrolled members of the school are invited. The lecture Sunday night was well attended; Myrtle Sulham sang a solo. Next Sunday, the annual canvass for Benevolence will be made. The subject of the sermon at the morning service of worship, will be "Perils of Protestantism"; the pastor will have a story for the children. Church school at noon. Young People's meeting in the afternoon at three. Stereopticon lecture in the evening at seven; subject, "The Meeting Houses in which our Fathers Worshipped." This is the story of church architecture in the Pilgrim church, for three-hundred years; eighty-six colored slides. The food sale previously announced for next Saturday, is postponed.

A. C. CHURCH NOTES.

Hebrews 10:37 was used last Sunday as a text for the subject "Questions on the Return of Jesus Christ." The pastor said, in part: There are three classes of questioners on this subject—those who refuse to believe there might be such an event; those who admit the Bible teaches it, but question the authenticity of the records; and those whose faith has weakened because of lapse of time since the promise was made. Again, there are those who partly believe it, and those who wholly believe. There are 318 New Testament references in favor of the event. Also the present day omen outnumber those of any other period of time. There is a waiting church saying "Come, Lord Jesus," and a waiting Christ ready to say "Come, my people." The young people's meeting was in charge of Mrs. Edna Miller. In the evening Mr. Pander spoke on subject of Contentment. This is one of the important steps in the Christian life. Teacher Training class meets this week with Dr. Frey. Prayer service and study class Wednesday evening at 7:30. Services at the usual hours next Sunday.

Methodist Church Notes

There will be a preaching service in the Methodist church, at Morrisville Corners this evening. Mrs. Alton Lawson will preside at the organ and Mr. Lawson will play the violin. Mr. Best will sing accompanied by the autoharp. Harriet Johnstone led the Junior League Sunday afternoon. Two sets of stereopticon pictures were shown and an interesting talk given by the pastor. Orland Batten led the Epworth League service Sunday evening, giving a good talk on Recreations. The subject created a heated discussion, several persons speaking twice. A pleasing feature of the meeting was a solo by Mrs. Lawson. The Sunday school board will meet at the close of the prayer meeting Thursday evening. Although the weather was somewhat unfavorable Sunday, there were 137 in Sunday school. There was a large attendance at the morning service. The anthem by the choir was exceptionally good, the solo being taken by Mrs. Raymond. At the service next Sunday morning the pastor will give out folders containing the names of all officers and committees in the church. This is a folder that every member will want to keep for at least one year. "A Message from the Sky" will be given by the pastor next Sunday morning. The Woman's Foreign Missionary society will meet with Mrs. Burnham this evening. Mrs. G. A. Morse will have charge of the meeting.

Christian Science Society.

The services of this society are held every Sunday forenoon at 10:45 in the hall over E. W. Gates' store. The subject for next Sunday is "Probation After Death." There is a Sunday school at the close of the morning service.

Grange Notes

The regular meeting of Lamoille Grange was held at the Grange Hall Thursday evening last with a large attendance. An interesting program was presented. The next regular meeting will occur on Friday evening, April 20, at which time the first event of the contest between the ladies and gentlemen to see which can present the most interesting program, will be held. The ladies will have their innings first, and it is urged that a good sized crowd be present to witness their efforts. Mrs. Josie Hollis will occupy the master's chair, and Mrs. Helen Shaw will act as lecturer. All the other chairs will be filled by ladies. Don't forget that the Grange play is coming soon. Keep the date in your mind. Earle O. Joslyn, of Lacomis, N. H., is going to move to Morrisville to represent the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn.
