Now that the fishing season is on let every man see to it that the laws are observed. Let the fishing game be played fair by the anglers seeing to it that not only is a violating neighbor prosecuted, but take it to himself to "play fair," and when he lands an undersized trout see to it that it is put back and not into his pocket. Everybody lives to fish, but it is not everybody that keeps within the law. Be honest with yourself, Mr. Angler.

Myron Wilson, the veteran newspaper man of Bristol, announces his candidacy for the State Senate. Now, if anybody in Vermont knows nearly how the affairs of the state should be managed, it is the same Wilson. He has had legislative experience and that, with his long and useful newspaper career, well fits him to take a hand in cutting down state expenses and regulating state affairs generally. Addison county should see to it that this worthy citizen is called to assist in the best reform movement that every candidate is pledging himself to. By all means send "the gentleman from Bristol" to the Senate.

The Northfield News deprecates the fact that our public schools are not giving the attention they should to "training young people in public speaking." This is very true and decidedly lamentable. Attention surely should be given to this training. We know of no better way to fit the young mind for public speaking than the restoration of the old-fashioned debating school—or "lyceums," as they used to be called. This used to be a drawing card in the days of district schools and many an orator received his training there that came in good in after years. Cut out some of the dead languages and put in the study of oratory. It will be better for the boys—and the girls, too—in after years.

Vail medals have recently been distributed among employees of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. for "conspicuous examples of noteworthy public service." This is good and the late Mr. Vail did no nobler act than the making of this provision. And that reminds us that it would be a very worthy act should the management of our local telephone companies do likewise. There is no class of employees that receive more "cussing" than those connected with the telephone. Especially is this true of the telephone girl, who, in spite of her arduous work in attending to the hundreds of calls, is called down almost invariably by some disgruntled person who does not get an immediate answer to his call. A bit of recognition on the part of the management, or even by the public, would go far to alleviating the anguish that comes too often to the person who is endeavoring to give prompt and correct service.

"AS TO STATE'S ATTORNEY"
"What about the next State's Attorney?" is a question that has been put up to us by more than one. Will the present occupant of the office ask for another election, or will he step aside and let someone else take the job? Mr. Tracy has filled the office several terms and there are those who say he should step down and let another take the position. Maybe he don't want it any longer and if that is the case, who will take it? Looking over the list of members of the bar we find but two names that have not filled the position and those are Attorney Lafountain of Morrisville and F. H. McFarland of Waterville.

Should those who have already filled the place one term be called to take the office again is another question. It may be thought best that a selection should be made from those—as they have had experience therein. There are Attorneys Fleetwood, Cheney, Hulburd and H. M. McFarland—all men of ability. The columns of this paper are open for suggestions from the people, as to this office not only but any of the various offices that are to be filled at the next election.

FELCHERVILLE

Walter Strong out exercising that fine Morgan mare, one of the breed that made Vermont horses worth while stopped and left $1.00 toward getting things for the school. I thank him for the teacher and little folks. I hardly dared hope we could do so much when I started, but a little later when roads get good I want to have a bee and grade around the school grounds, cleaner for the children to play, and the ladies will see that you have a good dinner.

The children all gone back to school at the L. C. A., but the rest did them good.
Sugaring has gone by for this year. The frogs are singing, the grass is starting and the trees are budding. A large bunch of pussy-willows well opened was brought in Monday evening. How quick the change from cold winter. While we are finding fault all has changed.
I asked for someone to kindly loan us an oil stove and the paper was hardly in the hands of the people Wednesday when a lady from Morrisville called me up and told me I could take one nearly new. We kindly thank Mrs. John Ovitt and will go and get it. Two others were offered Thursday by letter and I thank them also for their kindness.
Will Grimes and Frank Baker have finished tearing down the Bliss sugarhouse. One by one the old landmarks disappear. By the way, Grimes is rebuilding his barn and putting up a cover for barn refuse, and other improvements. He is an up-to-date farmer; makes butter, has private customers, delivers twice a week, also sells eggs, and the buttermilk finds sale among the sick.
The drift wood and ice bothered quite a bit at the plant, loading the rack down. It keeps the boys busy through the high water time.

New surfaces for your home and car

On your car and in your home—wherever the sheen of newness has faded and left a surface dull and drab—we recommend Murphy Da-cote and Univernish. Da-cote is the famous enamel that 2,000,000 men have used to renew their cars at home. Anyone can use it. Dries overnight. Costs about two dollars. We have Da-cote in black and white and ten colors. Univernish is the "universal" varnish. Renews floors, trim and old furniture. Wonderfully durable; won't turn white from soap, boiling water, alkali nor even ammonia. Comes clear and in six wood colors.

On any painting problem, come to paint headquarters; we are always glad to make suggestions
