STATE LIBRARY OF APPROVAL FROM MONTPELIER MAINE

of the News and Citizen was an editorial on of debating in schools which would most warmly commend. Anyone who has had occasion to observe the stuffing process to which the pupils in most of our schools are subjected under our modern system,—a system wherein the pupil resembles a more or less elastic receptacle into which is crammed as much of other people's opinions as possible,—would welcome any line of instruction which would teach them to think for themselves and to preserve and develop the individuality which is their inalienable right. At a teachers' convention not long ago in a Maine city, a leading educator declared bluntly "our school system is all wrong." Be that as it may, it is certainly capable of improvement, like most systems and it would seem that the real education, the leading out, as derivation of the word implies, should be one of its main endeavors.

In regard to the introduction of debating into the schools, it might be of interest to some of your readers to know what has been done in Maine along that line. Three years ago Bates College was instrumental in forming what is known as the Bates Interscholastic League among the high schools of the state and a cup was offered as prize to the winning schools, the same to be retained permanently by the school winning it two years in succession. About forty schools entered the contest, some of them having since dropped out. These schools were divided into triangles according to location and debated around the triangle. Each school had a negative and affirmative team; the former debated away from the home town, the latter at home. There were strict rules governing the debates which were closely adhered to. The winners in the first debates were formed into new triangles, which debated for the semi-finals and these strove together for the final contest. At each contest the best debater was named by the judges, irrespective of whether that team won or not and this and other points told for the school as well as the winning of the debate. This year the cup was won by Cony High at Augusta, which has had an almost uninterrupted succession of victories. The debates have developed friendly relations between the schools and given the young debaters confidence in themselves and the ability to think quickly and speak to the point, as the debates are closely limited as to time. There seems to be general approval of the league and a disposition to believe that it is more value to the pupils than ancient history or other dead issues.

HYDE PARK

Miss Alice Fairbanks was home from Burlington over Sunday.

Mrs. B. W. McFarland is spending a few days at the home of Bennett Douglass in Burlington.

George Seguin, who has been spending a couple of weeks here with his daughter, Mrs. Godette, has returned to his home in Charlotte.

Dan Smith has greatly brightened up the buildings on his premises by newly painting the same. His pretty home on Golf avenue attracts much attention from passers-by.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Campbell, Mrs. Flora Hyde, E. B. Collins, A. B. Collins and Miss Mabel Collins were among those from this town who attended the funeral of Charles Campbell at Barre last Sunday.

Did you receive one of those poll tax reminders from the town clerk? He is no respecter of persons—those of legal age—and the only way to pacify him is to pay him $3.40 on or before July 1. If you don't, Bert Crowell will get after you and if he does, the Lord have pity on you—he won't.

Mrs. Jennie White and son, Raymond, who have been spending the past month with her sister, Mrs. John Gray, left Monday for a visit in California. Mrs. White is a daughter of the late Orlo Holbrook of Belvidere and has many relatives in this vicinity. This was her first visit here in 17 years.

The sudden death of Charles Campbell of Old Orchard last week causes sincere sorrow among a host of friends and relatives here. He was the oldest son of the late Calvin Campbell, a native of this town, and spent his boyhood-days here. He was a successful business man and owner and manager of the Vesper House at Old Orchard, with which he had been connected many years. To the bereaved ones sincere sympathy goes out from many hereabouts.

The wife and five children of Henry Sibley, the man who drove the car of "boozie" that was seized at Wolcott last week and who was kept in jail several days pending disposal of the case, came from Springfield, Mass., last Saturday evening and visited him until Sunday evening. Besides the family there were two men, making eight which were crowded into one auto. The children ranged from ten years down to about two and were a nice looking bunch.

May Lose Her Leg

The surgeons attending Mrs. Lynn I. Stearns, who has been indicted for the murder of her husband March 30 and who lies in the hospital at Belwells Falls, closely guarded, suffering from a broken leg, report it is probable that the leg will have to be amputated.

The leg was broken by her leaping from a third story window after the shooting occurred. She still refuses to talk with anyone, even refusing this past week to have two brothers admitted to her room who had come from Philadelphia on purpose to see her. She did, after two days, consent to their having a short interview, but would not speak of the tragedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Emerson attended the burial services of Vernon Jewett.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dick and son, Willie, were Sunday visitors at Thomas Black's at Hyde Park village.

Corporal Elsa Gagnier spent last week at the home of his father, Sam Gagnier. He returned to camp at Portland, Me., Monday.

Hugh Hurly, who has spent several months in the West, returned to Morrisville last week. He was a caller at Harold Jewett's Sunday.

Delmer Jewett is planting potatoes for the neighbors of this vicinity and other parts of the town. Darwin Salls is having 30 acres planted.

Little John Grey, who has been seriously ill, is now gaining steadily and is now able to sit up a short time each day. The nurse has returned to Burlington.

Lloyd Turner, secretary of the Boys' Calf Club, with Guy Finney and Willie Dick attended the Calf Club meeting at Hyde Park one day last week. Accompanied by Jessie Gilmore they went to East Cambridge, where they purchased a fine Guernsey calf for one of the members.

The body of Vernon Jewett of Montpelier was brought here for burial at the Center cemetery Sunday. Those who came from Montpelier were his wife, Mrs. Agnes Jewett, Fred Jewett and wife and son, Carlisle, and Mrs. Albert Hall and son, Dean. Rev. Mr. Huntly of Morrisville officiated at the grave.

WOMEN'S CLUB NOTES

Attention is again called to the special meeting of the Vermont Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held this week Friday in the Wood Art Gallery in Montpelier. Mrs. Thomas G. Wheeler of Minneapolis, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak in the afternoon. A large attendance of club members is desired.

Parties desiring free transportation to Montpelier should leave their names with Mrs. Chapin not later than Thursday noon in order that there may be no confusion and ample opportunity to arrange for all. Owing to the fact that the cars may start out at different times there will be no central meeting place, but Mrs. Chapin will see that each person knows in advance with whom she is going and at what hour a car will call for her.

MRS. GEORGE F. EARLE DIES

Mrs. George F. Earle, who had been in feeble health for the past two years, died at her home on Brooklyn street Tuesday at 11:30 a. m., following a shock which she suffered Monday. Funeral services will be held from the house Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, the Rev. George F. Fortier of the Universalist Church officiating.

Emma Earle was the only child of Hiram R. and Lucy Neuland Burke and was born in Hyde Park 61 years ago. Her education was received in the graded schools and at People's Academy.

Forty years ago she was united in marriage to George F. Earle, who survives her. To this union was born one son, Charlie Earle, who was drowned about 28 years ago. She had always resided in Morrisville and for the past 50 years in the home where she died.

Mrs. Earle was a very intelligent and industrious woman, having assisted Mr. Earle in the postoffice for six years and in the Earle Store for 27 years until her health failed. She assisted in forming the Morrisville Cemetery Association and was an active worker in the organization. She also was a regular attendant at the Universalist Church. Mrs. Earle possessed a pleasing personality and had a very wide circle of friends in this and nearby towns.

Death of Mrs. Lydia M. Shaw

Mrs. Lydia M. Shaw, nearly a life-long resident of the village, died at her home on Upper street Thursday, May 11, at 6:00 a. m.

Funeral services were held from the late home Saturday at 2:00 p. m. and were largely attended, the W. R. C. attending in a body. The Rev. George E. Goodliffe of the Congregational Church officiated, and interment was made in Mountain View cemetery, Morristoryn Corners, beside her husband. The bearers were the sons, Ned and Bert Shaw, son-in-law, J. S. Banister, and Gerald I. Towne. There was a beautiful display of flowers as follows: Spray hyacinths from W. R. C.; hyacinths, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Shaw; sweetheart roses, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Banister, Miss Rena Merrill, Gerald Towne; spray of flowers from Miss Lou Rand, also many bouquets from neighbors and friends.

The deceased was born in this town January 5, 1846, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Wood. On March 22, 1866, she was united in marriage to Carlos B. Shaw of this town, who died last July. To this union were born three children, Mrs. Almay Banister of this place, Bert B. Shaw of Burlington and Ned S. Shaw, also of this village, who survive. She is also survived by a brother, Ani Wood of Morristoryn; and a sister, Mrs. Edgar Thorpe, who resides in the West, Mr. Thorpe having practiced law in this village several years ago.

Mrs. Shaw was a member of the Woman's Relief Corps and was an active worker in the organization. She was most highly esteemed in this community, where practically her whole life was spent. A large circle of friends extend deepest sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

Long life seems to be the rule in Vermont. There are many people in the state who have passed beyond the allotted time and some who are near the century mark. A remarkable case of longevity is noted in North Hyde Park where Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Wescomb celebrated the 70th anniversary of their wedding on May 1. The young men may think other fields offer greater opportunities than Vermont, but they will likely live longer by staying in their native state.—Burlington Clipper.

CHRISTY DISTRICT

Bert Griswold was a recent visitor on the Hill.

Elmer Sweet has one hand injured while building a fence.

Ruth Sweet has returned home from Boston for a vacation.

Fred Akerson took a Sunday trip to Burlington and Winooski.

Hugh Haselton of Winooski has commenced work in the mines.

Hern Hines has resigned from the mine force and there have been several other changes.

For the information of John M. French of Milford, Mass., it may be stated that the spelling of the name "Christy" was changed a short time ago while the paper was printed at another office. Perhaps somebody gave the name a feminine twist to match the new order of things. But it is just as well to preserve old landmarks when they have a historical value, and the original spelling will be the geographical sign.

The many friends of Mrs. Clara Wrisley of Fayston, formerly of Morristoryn, will be sorry to hear of her critical illness of high blood pressure.

LAMOILLE COUNTY COURT

Special Term

A hearing is going on as we go to press in the case of the United Farmers' Cooperative Creamery Association, Inc., vs. A. L. Dow of West Hartford, before the full bench, Superior Judge F. L. Fish presiding, with Judges Waterman and Benson. The evidence was being taken yesterday, and the hearing held in the office of Hon. F. G. Fleetwood, by agreement. The case grows out of a difference of opinion over the terms of a contract between the two creameries and may last two or three days.

Refuted Statement of Hide House Fire

A small fire broke out in the engine room of the Page hide house one day last week and it has been erroneously stated that this village called on the Stowe fire department for aid. This is not true. The village fire company had it under control at all time. A phone call was sent to Stowe to reach R. S. Payne, who happened to be in that village at that time. It was purely a personal call, and no general alarm.

Lamoille Listers to Meet

Through the efforts of S. B. Waite, Esq., a meeting of all the listers of this county has been called for Wednesday, May 31, at the court house to discuss appraisal of real estate.

It is expected the state tax commissioner will be present.

"THE GREAT IMPERSONATION"

A Paramount Special Production From the Novel of E. Phillips Oppenheim

It is a story of pre-war days in England, Africa and Germany. The two chief characters, portrayed by James Kirkwood, are a German spy and an Englishman. Their resemblances provoke a series of remarkable incidents, which make this one of the great dramatic pictures of the year. George Melford produced "The Sheik." He also produced this special.
