WATERVILLE

Death of Rev. J. H. Wills The death of this beloved pastor, that occurred at his home in Underhill June 13, will bring sorrow to countless friends in this county, where he was pastor of the Methodist Church at Waterville, and through the state. He had been in ill health for some time and had retired from the ministry, his last pastorate being at Binghamville. While at Waterville, he was elected chaplain of the House of Representatives, his name being presented first by this paper. He served so acceptably, that he was re-elected by the next legislature. A good man has gone to his eternal home. A life of great usefulness has closed, deeds will be his best and most lasting monument.
