LESSON TEXT.—Isaiah 23:1-18. Memory Verse, 11.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection."—1 Cor. 9:27.

Comment and Suggestive Thought.

In order to understand this great prophecy of Isaiah, our lesson for today, we must first have a vivid realization of—

The Historical Situation.—Read 2 Kings 17:1-23; 18:1-10; Chron. 29, 33. It is about 725 B. C. Isaiah, the royal prophet, was in Jerusalem, the capital of Judah. The good King Hezekiah, the rulers and leaders of the state were his audience. The nations were going astray. They were worldly, drunken, selfish, cruel, luxurious, oppressing the poor, neglecting religion, forgetting God.

From the northwest were coming great hordes of Assyrian soldiers devastating everything on their way. They had reached the northern kingdom of which Samaria was the capital. Like an overwhelming scourge these semi-savage armies were overrunning the country with all wanton crimes and cruelties, destroying everything good.

They were sweeping away cities and villages, farms, cattle, orchards—everything. The prophet sees them drifting, as in the rapids of Niagara swiftly toward destruction. He sees the storm-clouds on the horizon threatening tempests and lightning blast and destruction.

Within three or four years Samaria, the capital, was captured, and the northern kingdom swept out of existence by the Assyrians.

But the people of Jerusalem felt comparatively safe, for their city was a mighty fortress, a very Gibraltar, rarely captured, and probably it never could be captured if the people within were brave, united and true.

The prophet, pointing to the northern kingdom, warns his own people that nothing could save them if they continued to sin. "Repent, or this overwhelming scourge will sweep over Judah and Jerusalem in its devastating course."

V. 1. "Woe." Not a wish or a prayer for woe, but a warning that woe was coming. "To the crown of pride." The capital, so called, because it crowned the hill, or because its battlemented walls resembled a crown. "To (better of) the drunkards of Ephraim," put for the whole kingdom, because Ephraim was the leading tribe. "Whose glorious beauty,"

The "glorious beauty" of Samaria was a beauty of magnificent luxury. "Summer" and "winter houses," distinct each from the other (Amos 3:15); "ivory palaces" (1 Kings 22:39; Amos 3:15); a wealth of "gardens, vineyards, fig-orchards and olive yards" (Amos 4:9); residences of "hewn stone" (Amos 5:11); feasts enlivened with "the melody of viols" (Amos 5:23); "beds of ivory" (Amos 6:4); "wine in bowls" (Amos 6:6); "chief ointments" (Amos 6:6) constituted a total of luxurious refinement beyond which few nations had proceeded at the time.—Rawlinson. "Is a fading flower." It was a kind of beauty that was liable to fade. It had nothing of the riches that endure.

V. 2. "The Lord hath a mighty and strong one." The Lord would use the Assyrian power, "as a tempest of hail, and a destroying storm" to punish the wickedness which was injuring the people far more than the Assyrian hordes could their outward prosperity.

V. 4. "As the hasty fruit." R. V. "the first ripe fig," swiftly decaying or destroyed by the birds.

V. 5. Turning from this "crown of pride" and "fading flower" and "decaying fruit" of sin, the prophet points to the only true "crown of glory and diadem of beauty, the Lord of hosts."

V. 6. For he would bring to them the "spirit of judgment," justice, righteousness, and turn back "the battle at the gate," defeating and scattering their enemies.

V. 7. Then he shows one source of their woes, "erred through wine" out of the way . . . through strong drink," therefore "they err in vision, they stumble in judgment."

The Jerusalem drinkers indignantly ask:

V. 9. "Whom shall he teach knowledge? What right has Isaiah to talk to us thus? Are we babies just weaned from the milk? Are we mere school children to be chided and warned in this way?"

V. 10. "For precept must be upon precept." The R. V. gives the true meaning: "For it is precept upon precept." The prophet is telling the same story all the time, continually repeating, everywhere, all the time, in season, out of season, the same old warning.

The prophet answers: "This seems monotonous to you, but you will have another kind of monotony if you do not give heed to my words." "For with stammering lips." Better as R. V. "For by men of strange lips, and with another tongue," (viz., that of the Assyrian hordes) "will he speak to this people (11) to whom he said, 'This is the rest . . . this is the refreshing.' God had pointed out to them how they might have rest and prosperity, yet they would not hear (12)."

13. Therefore by the Assyrian invasion, they should find "precept upon precept," etc., a monotonous teaching by afflictions and sorrows, till they fall backward, and be broken, and come to pass in after years.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily. When unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

B. F. Bagan, E. Broadway, Anadarko, Okla. says: "For about ten years kidney trouble had me in its grasp, no doubt being caused by hard work and my back became so lame that at times I could hardly get about. The passage of the kidney secretions were too frequent, dizzy spells often attacked me and I had distressing feelings in my head. On the advice of a friend, I procured Doan's kidney pills from the City Drug store. I improved steadily from the first and was soon entirely relieved. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a most efficient remedy for any trouble arising from the kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's—and take no other.
