JUDGE SMITH TO THE JURY.

A Lucid Exposition of the Law, and an Excellent Admonition to the Jurors in the Circuit Court.

At the convening of the circuit court last week Judge Smith called together all the jurors drawn for the term and instructed them as follows:

Gentlemen:—You have been selected by lot to come here; to leave your private business and occupations, come out of the walks of private citizenship and become a part of the most important tribunal in the land. There is no other court of general original jurisdiction in the country. Under our system the circuit court is the only court of general original jurisdiction and you become a part of this tribunal.

I presume that many of you have been here on juries before, or as jurors in other places, but undoubtedly there are some of you who have not been called upon to discharge the duties of this high and important office, and therefore it has been my custom on the first day of the term to call the jurors together and have a little preliminary talk with them, advising them relative to their duties as jurors.

As I said, you have been practically selected by lot. In the first place, the supervisor of your assessing district is required by law to send up a certain number of names each year to the county clerk. Those names are to be selected from citizens who understand the English language, men of integrity, property holders, taxpayers, men of known probity, in the possession of all their faculties; and the presumption is that the supervisor in selecting you has passed upon all of these questions. He certainly has if he has done his duty; and as such men I shall talk to you, and as such men I shall deal with you while you are here. I shall deal with you as men, as honorable citizens.

After the supervisor sends up a list to the clerk, he writes off the names sent from each assessing district on a separate slip of paper, and puts them in a bunch by themselves. Fourteen days or more before the first day of any regular term of court it is the duty of the clerk and the sheriff and two justices of the peace to get together and draw a jury for the term of not less than twenty-four men, and as many more as may be ordered by the court. I have thought it advisable and economical, and satisfactory in my experience, that we have thirty jurors, as there are some who desire to be excused—two in this panel have desired to be excused, so we have twenty-eight left.

One of those bundles from an assessing district is taken and placed in a box, a name is drawn from it and the bundle put away for future use. Then they take up the next bundle from the next assessing district and draw out a name and put that bundle back for future use, until they have got around the assessing districts and drawn the necessary number. Sometimes they lap over, but the drawing of the names for the next term begins where they left off at the last term, that is, during the year. At the end of the year a new list is made for the next year. So you see you are drawn from among your fellow citizens by lot.

The selection by lot is not then determined or ended, but when we come to the trial of a case, the clerk takes the twenty-four or thirty names, or as many as there are on the jury, puts them in a box, shakes the box, and without looking at the names, draws out the names of twelve men to serve on that particular jury. So you see here is another selection by chance.

Now we come to the examination of the jurors as to their qualifications; that is you are sworn to true answer make to such questions as shall be put to you relative to your qualification to sit as jurors on the trial of the cause. Now attorneys have a right to know all about a jury that is to pass on their case. They have a right to know their pursuits, their private history, their inclination this way or that way, or anything that would be likely to influence them one way or the other. Human life is a strange thing. We hardly know ourselves what may influence us or why we did this or why we did that. You thinking men might perhaps go home tonight, or on any other day, after having performed your various duties, and try to give a reason why you did the various things which you did that day—that is, the motive why you did them—and you will find yourselves unable to give a reason why you did or did not do such and such things that day. But attorneys, in the interests of those whom they represent, have a right to know about your qualifications and in making this discovery, and finding out about these things they ask a great many questions, questions that may often be deemed as impertinent.

Sudden Death of A. M. Young.

The people of this city were surprised Saturday morning last to hear of the death of Abram M. Young, supervisor of the third ward, which occurred at 9 o'clock the evening before. Mr. Young had been troubled for months with rheumatism and was unable for days at a time to get about, still his condition was not regarded as serious. On Thursday he was at work at his trade, returning home a little earlier than usual on account of the pain he was suffering. On Friday he did not leave the house, the trouble having gone to his heart. Just about 9 o'clock he called to his wife but before she reached his side the angel of death claimed him, the end having come almost as quick as a flash. The death of Mr. Young removes a citizen who was much interested in the prosperity of Owosso. Two years ago he was elected supervisor of his ward, since which he has devoted a large part of his time to the duties of the office. His roll was always a model of neatness and perfectly accurate. He took pride in the work and aimed to discharge every duty with fairness.

Mr. Young was born in Canandaigua, N. Y., April 14, 1837. While still a young man he graduated with honor from the academy in that place. At the age of 17 years he came to this State, where he has since resided. He taught school for several years in Livingston county, afterward taking up the carpenter's trade and studied surveying. Later in life he was ordained as a minister in the United Brethren church, serving different congregations acceptably. For some time after removing to Owosso he was engaged as a travelling salesman. His ability fitted him to fill in an excellent manner nearly every office in the several fraternal orders to which he belonged. He gave much time to the advancement of Odd Fellowship, being a member of the subordinate lodge, encampment and uniform rank and at the time of his death was the secretary of the subordinate lodge and captain of the uniform rank. He was also a member and secretary of the National Union, in which order he carried $2,000 life insurance.

Mr. Young was twice married, his second wife being Mrs. Rebecca Maxted who, with a son, Felix Maxted, and a daughter, Pearl Young, survive him.

The funeral services were held at the family residence on Monday afternoon, in charge of Semper Fidelis Canton I. O. O. F., the subordinate and Rebekah lodges attending in a body. Rev. C. V. Northrop preached an appropriate and consoling service. The remains were interred in Oak-hill cemetery.

Mighty Good Goods

C. S. Churchill, a Mail Carrier, Makes a Valuable Find.

"In his 'tramp, tramp, tramp,' for the last seven years C. S. Churchill, a Kalamazoo mail carrier, has been exposed to all kinds of weather, through slush and sleet, wind and wet he has run Uncle Sam's errands. But all this exposure had its effect. Rheumatism crept into his joints, and made misery that was unceasing. And then he tried Rheumacure—read it in Mr. Churchill's own words: 'Specific Remedy Co., Kalamazoo, Mich. DEAR SIR:—Answering your inquiry whether Rheumacure benefited me, I will say (and my testimony may be published if you see fit) that ten years I had been a sufferer from Rheumatism. My occupation for the last seven years being that of mail carrier, have been exposed to all kinds of weather. Have tried many so-called remedies, but without benefit until I began taking your medicine, which has helped me wonderfully. One of its great charms to me is, that instead of disturbing my stomach, as all other rheumatic remedies did, it has the effect of stimulating it to healthy action, and I believe it to be the best tonic and appetizer ever produced. Truly, C. S. CHURCHILL, Mail Carrier, Kalamazoo, Mich.'

Rheumatism is a positive specific for Rheumatism. It stimulates the stomach and other organs, enriches the blood, infusing it with new life, so that it is enabled to dissolve the poisonous deposits and conduct them through the natural channels from the system. It can be taken and retained by the most sensitive stomach. Full particulars regarding Rheumacure will be sent on application to Specific Remedy Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., or ask your druggist for a book on the subject.

MRS. PINKHAM CONQUERS BACKACHE.

Four Women Who Owe Their Present Happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I wrote to you last June, I was not able to do anything. I suffered with backache, headache, bearing-down pains, pains in my lower limbs, and ached all through my body. Menstruations were very painful. I was almost a skeleton. I followed your advice and now am well and fleshy, and able to do all my own housework. I took medicine from a physician for over a year, and it did not do me a particle of good. I would advise all suffering women to write to Mrs. Pinkham. She will answer all letters promptly, and tell them how to cure those aches and pains so common to women.—Mrs. C. L. WINN, Marquez, Texas.

I think it is my duty to write and let you know what your medicine has done for me. For two years I suffered with female weakness, bearing-down pains, headache, backache, and too frequent occurrence of the menses. I was always complaining. My husband urged me to try your Vegetable Compound, and I finally did. I have taken three bottles and it has made me feel like a different woman. I advise every woman that suffers to take your medicine and be cured.—Mrs. GARRETT LIGHTY, 612 S. Prince St., Lancaster, Pa.

I had suffered for over two years with backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness, falling and ulceration of the womb, leucorrhoea, and about every ill a woman could have. I had tried doctors, but with no success, and it seemed as though death was the only relief for me. After using five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and four packages of Sanative Wash, I am well. Have had no more pain, womb trouble, backache or headache.—Mrs. CLAUDIA HALPIN, Cream Ridge, N. J.

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was afflicted with female complaints so that I could hardly walk. My back ached terribly, in fact, I ached all over. Was not able to raise myself up some of the time. I had no appetite and was so nervous that I could hardly sleep. I have taken but two bottles of your Compound and feel like another person, can now eat and sleep to perfection, in fact, am perfectly well.—Mrs. SUS McCULLOUGH, Adlai, W. Va.

Ninety-six young people from Ovid chartered a car and came to this city Wednesday evening and repaid the visit made them about two weeks ago by the Baptist Young Peoples Union of this city. Arrangements had been made by Rev. Northrop, and the Owosso Union was prepared to give the visitors an evening of pleasure. A banquet with an elaborate menu, was served, after which many toasts were responded to by her young people from both unions. Rev. C. V. Northrop acted as toast-master. The banquet over, all repaired to the parlors, where a fine musical treat was listened to. After this part of the program was rendered all turned in for a good social time, the entire church being thrown open to them. It was at a late hour when the visitors departed for the depot, all claiming the Owosso Union to be royal entertainers. They returned to Ovid on the 3 a. m. train.

In the illustrated magazine numbers of The Outlook are being published some extremely interesting articles relating to the municipal activities of the new city of New York. The first of these appears in the March Magazine number, and deals with "The New York Fireman," treating more especially of the heroism of the fireman, but also of the efficiency and mechanical accuracy of the working of the department. The author of the article is Mr. James R. Sheffield, ex-President of the New York Board of Fire Commissioners. Some very striking full-page pictures have been drawn for this article by Mr. C. T. Hill, who has made a study of the New York Fire Department, even living for some time in an engine-house in order to acquire full personal knowledge. ($3 a year. Not For Everything.

But if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble you will find Swamp-Root just the remedy you need. People are not apt to get anxious about their health soon enough. If you are "not quite well" or "half sick" have you ever thought that your kidneys may be the cause of your sickness?

It is easy to tell by setting aside your urine for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate, scanty supply, pain or dull ache in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder need doctoring.

There is satisfaction in knowing that the great remedy Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, fulfills every wish in relieving weak or diseased kidneys and all forms of bladder and urinary trouble. Not only does Swamp-Root give new life and activity to the kidneys—the cause of trouble, but by treating the kidneys it acts as a tonic for the entire Constitution. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar, or by mentioning THE TIMES and sending your urine address with three two cent stamps to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. you may have a sample bottle of this great discovery sent to you free by mail.

Order of Appearance.

State of Michigan, in the Circuit Court for the County of Shiawassee, in Chancery.
Amanda Needham vs. William H. Needham.
Suit pending in the circuit court for the County of Shiawassee, in chancery, at Corunna, on the tenth day of March, A. D. 1898. In this cause it appearing from affidavits on file, and from the return of the subpoena also on file, that the defendant, William H. Needham, cannot be personally served with subpoenas, nor can he be served with the same at his residence in this State, but is at present absent from his usual place of abode and from said State, on motion of Van R. Pond, complainant's solicitor, it is ordered that said defendant, William H. Needham, cause his appearance to be entered on the file, and from the date of his appearance that he cause his answer to the complainant's bill of complaint, to be filed, and a copy thereof to be served on said complainant's solicitor, within twenty days after service on him of a copy of said bill, and notice of this order; and that in default thereof, said bill be taken as confessed by the said defendant. And it is further ordered, that within twenty days the said complainant cause notice of this order to be published in THE OWOSSO TIMES, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said county, and that such publication be continued for at least once in each week, for six weeks in succession, or that she cause a copy of this order to be personally served on said defendant at least twenty days before the time above prescribed for his appearance.
JOSEPH H. COLLINGS,
Circuit Court Commissioner.
