McCaughna-Webster. The wedding of Miss Mae Webster and Mr. George B. McCaughna took place Wednesday afternoon...

At four o'clock the bride and groom, accompanied by Miss Flo Webster, sister of the bride, and Dr. J. B. Dowdigan, took their places before the bay window in the west and there, in the shaded and mellow light of the afternoon sun...

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McCaughna took the evening train for Toledo, from which city they left via one of the lake steamer routes for Mackinac Island. They will visit the Soo and then continue their lake trip around to Milwaukee and Chicago before returning home.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McCaughna are among Owosso's most popular young people. The bride, both as a school girl in the Owosso schools and later as one of the teachers in the same, has made no small number of friends...

Their many friends unite in wishing them all possible success and happiness, and even before the wedding ceremony was over, telegrams from friends and many substantial reminders in other forms of the good wishes of the donors were received at the house...

The out of town guests were Mrs. Dr. W. W. Nichols and daughter, of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Louisa Wright and Miss Emma Spoor, of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McCaughna and Mr. and Mrs. John D. McCaughna, of Byron, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Euler, of Bancroft, and Mrs. P. P. Bilhorn and Miss Kittie McCaughna, of Chicago.

Shiawassee Pioneer Picnic. The Shiawassee County Pioneer Society held its annual picnic at Caledonia Park, yesterday afternoon, with an attendance somewhat smaller than usual...

After a brief but appropriate speech by the chairman, Mr. Fitch, a poem was recited by Mr. Pratt, of Durand, which turned the minds of the listeners backward, as one would infer from the title, "In the New Country."

THE RIGHT KIND. Some styles of Glasses look well on some people while other styles look better on other people. There is a good deal of science in selecting and adjusting frames. I often hear my customers say that they cannot bear to wear glasses because they look so horrid. Every pair they have ever tried on was unbecoming to them. I believe that I can select glasses that will be becoming to every one. I have made considerable study of the different styles and their effects upon different faces. Some look best with Oval Springs, some with Straight Springs, some with Rimless glasses while others look better with the rims. Spectacles are becoming to some faces while eye-glasses suit other faces. In furnishing you glasses I give you the benefit of my experience in selecting different styles. I will promise to make your glasses look stylish and becoming. F. B. HOLMAN, SCIENTIFIC OPTICIAN, OWOSSO, MICH.
