

"He That Stays Does the Business."

All the world admires "staying power." On this quality success depends. The blood is the best friend the heart has, and "faint heart" never won anything. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best friend the blood ever had; it cleanses the blood of everything.

If you would be strong in the race of life and "do the business," you must "stay." Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the struggle easy. It gives clear, strong blood; gives perfect health ensues.

Hives—The itching of hives which troubled me last summer was terrible; blotches came all over my body. Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills cured me. Mrs. MARY IRETT, 235 South Wolf St., Baltimore, Md.

All Run Down—"I was as tired in the morning as at night, had no ambition, weak and run down. Three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla built me up and cured me. Can eat well and sleep well." Mrs. CHAS. MOZ, 418 Madison St., Sandusky, Ohio.

Female Troubles—"I would have welcomed death any time as a relief from the pain of the womb and other serious troubles. The best physicians said my case was hopeless. I stopped taking everything else and took Hood's Sarsaparilla. New life came to me and I gained until I am perfectly well and strong." Mrs. EMMA J. FISHER, London, Missouri.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, are non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL
WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

The Detroit Sunday News-Tribune contained the following dispatch from its Washington correspondent: "Congressman Fordney left for his home in Saginaw tonight and it is intimated that his renomination may take place before he returns. As a new member few have done better than he. His work in committee has been particularly valuable on account of his knowledge of business, and his habit acquired in a long business experience of thinking things out for himself before he places himself on record."

The gubernatorial issue.
From the Saginaw Courier-Herald.

The time has arrived when the republicans of Michigan should give the matter of the selection of their candidate for governor serious consideration. * * * Colonel Bliss was a candidate for the nomination for governor four years ago against Gov. Pingree. He was a candidate not only because he desired the honor himself, but for the reason that he was urged to become a candidate by a large element in the republican party in the state not in favor of the nomination, of Mr. Pingree. Col. Bliss made a vigorous effort to secure the nomination but the popularity of Gov. Pingree resulted in the defeat of the stalwart Saginaw veteran. Col. Bliss made the sacrifice not only for himself but for those who urged him to become a candidate. He accepted his defeat manfully, supported Gov. Pingree and the entire state ticket during the campaigns of 1896-98, and has ever been an active and consistent republican. He has never shirked a single political obligation imposed by his party and his friends believe that those Michigan republicans for whom he stood four years ago owe it to the party and to him to use every honorable effort to give him the nomination at the next state nominating convention.

Justice at the hands of the republican party entitles Col. Bliss to the nomination. Not only this, but in view of the existing conditions Col. Bliss and he alone can unite the elements of discord which divide the party on the subject of who shall be the standard bearer of the party in the ensuing campaign. It is a presidential year, and hence essential that every vote be lined up for the party. With Col. Bliss in the lead the Pingree and anti-Pingree contention will disappear and in close and magnificent array the grand old party in Michigan will sweep forward to triumph in November next.

Republican voters.
The supreme court says that any extra marking on the ballot, than to designate how you wish to vote, by making the cross in the circle under the head of the ticket, or the cross in the square at the left of the name you wish to vote for, are distinguishing marks, and the ballot must be thrown out. The safest way is to make only a cross under the head of the republican ticket, thus voting the ticket straight.

He Fooled the Surgeons.
All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world. Surest cure on earth. 25c a box, at J. S. Hazzard and Will E. Collins & Co.'s drug store.

Governor Mount on Good Roads.
Governor James A. Mount, of Indiana, who has been a practical farmer all his life since reaching an age of maturity made the following statements in an address before the Indiana State Board of Agriculture:

"Good roads are inseparably connected with progress. Like abundant harvests, they contribute to the good of all. The isolation of the country home is the farmer's greatest barrier. Bad roads enlarge this barrier." "Iron sharpeneth iron, so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend." This proverb reveals a truth found in everyday experience, that by friction of mind through frequent contact, the intellect is quickened and the mind expanded. Conditions that tend to isolate, should be removed as speedily as possible. Facilities for daily contact with the world's best thought and progress, should be accelerated. The highest success, socially, financially and intellectually, cannot be attained until we have good thoroughfares. The restriction of marketing farm products to periods when the roads are passable, prevents marketing to the best advantage, both as to time, cost and price.

I heard a farmer in southern Indiana say, that $2,000 was lost to the farmers on hay alone, on one road extending eight miles from the market into the country. This loss, which was sustained in one year, was caused by impassable roads when prices were best. One year's loss on one crop, would have paid for improving one-eighth of the distance. This illustrates the financial loss caused by bad roads.

The farmer whose family is held in the thrall of bad roads for a large part of the year, is subjected to an ordeal that trammels progress, fetters social growth and retards intellectual development. The farmer who lives on a mud road, will be likely to have all his environments in harmony therewith. He sees the passer-by, plodding his weary way through the heavy roads, and likewise moves in a sluggish manner; goes with muddy boots into his home; sits down with his hat on; chews his tobacco and spits in the fire. Such a farmer is apt to lose much of his pride and self-respect. His home has but little of brightness and good cheer, and his family are subjected to the necessity of staying at home, or going out in a manner that humbles their pride, and as a result, their dislike for the country is intensified. The farmer located on a good thoroughfare, who sees the fine turn-outs rapidly hurrying by, the occupants handsomely dressed, people, is inspired by the scene, steps quicker, thinks faster, and keeps his home surroundings in harmony with what he sees. A sense of pride prompts him to greater efforts to have for his family, a good conveyance, to provide about his barn good drives, free from mud, and to have about his home, good brick or cement walks. His children go to school over good roads; his family goes to church, to lectures, to town; they are in touch with the world's progress. The need of combining small country schools, the demand for township high schools; will heighten the need of road improvements.

Rural free delivery of mail, so much needed among our farmers, can never obtain except in localities possessing good thoroughfares, insuring rapid transit at all seasons of the year.

The profit of a gold mine depends, not on the amount of rock crushed, under the stamps, but upon the amount of gold which can be extracted from the rock. In a similar way the value of the foot which is made, does not depend on the quantity which is taken into the stomach, but upon the amount of nourishment extracted from it by the organs of nutrition and digestion. When these organs are diseased they fail to extract the nourishment in sufficient quantities to supply the needs of the several organs of the body, and these organs cannot work without nourishment. The result is heart "trouble," liver "trouble," and many another ailment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acting on every organ of the digestive and nutritive system, restores it to health and vigor. It cures diseases remote from the stomach through the stomach in which they originate. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

FIRST CLASS COUNTRY STORE.
No Fault to Find with C. M. Loynes' Store but Kicking on Mail Service.

It is generally conceded that for a small country post office and settlement, Chapin, just over the Shiawassee line in Saginaw county, is one of the most wide awake and thrifty trading centers which a man would be likely to find in more than one day's travel. Although it is five miles from the nearest railway station, it is within seven miles of a station on a second railroad and is located on the old Ridge road, one of the best known and most traveled roads in this part of the state, running through a country of fine farms and helping to make the Chapin settlement or Bell's Corners as it is sometimes called, one of unusual prosperity.

Besides the Chapin cheese factory, a description of which has heretofore appeared in the columns of THE TIMES, a factory which brings in all the dairy farmers to this point every day, there is another feature which might not at first glance seem to have so much to do with giving the corners a business like tone but which is nevertheless an important factor in maintaining such a state of affairs. This is the general store, in which the Chapin post office is also located, belonging to and conducted by Mr. C. M. Loynes.

The business, which was built up by Mr. Geo. W. Clark, now of Elsie was taken in hand by the present owner in November of last year but in spite of the fact that Mr. Loynes had had no previous experience in the conduct of any business other than farming, having gone directly from his Fairfield farm to the Chapin store, his attention to business has been so close, his common sense and general desire to make himself accommodating and agreeable so persistently shown day after day, that the business has continued to make a steady growth requiring the constant help of two clerks besides a harness-maker who runs a shop in a part of the store and partly in connection with it, carrying also a small line of harnesses and similar goods. This force is further supplemented by the constant attention of the proprietor himself, while Mrs. Loynes, who is a very pleasant lady to meet, also frequently assists in the work in the post office and some of the lighter work about the store when business is rushing and household duties will permit.

As to the stock carried, while it would obviously be foolish to attempt to carry a full line of all fancy articles in any line, it may be said that the great majority of the wants of those residing in the vicinity, so far as they can be supplied at any store, can be supplied here, while the ease which articles can be ordered for customers and secured from the larger places makes the work of this store still more complete. The stock carried covers dry goods and notions, a line of boots, shoes, and rubber foot wear, a very complete line of groceries and a good stock of crockery and hardware supplies. In addition to the retail trade Mr. Loynes supplies some of the more remote country stores with a considerable part of their wares.

Besides furnishing a place where the farmers can secure the most of the articles needed in their everyday work, a market is also supplied for all their surplus butter, eggs, poultry, etc., which Mr. Loynes always stands ready to take at a good cash price. During the last few months this trade alone has amounted to a considerable sum and he has shipped a good quantity of produce.

The postoffice in connection with the store, offering facilities as it does for the transmission of money either by registered letter or money order is a great convenience, which might however be made much more valuable than at present by a change in the star route by which mail is carried to and from the office and by taking the mail from Oakley, as formerly, instead of from Elsie, as at present. The mail now going from Chapin and Olney does not reach Elsie in time to leave that night except on the late north bound train, while if the morning north bound train is a few minutes late, much of the mail for these places is a day later than it used to be. As much of the business transacted by mail is done with Saginaw, the advantages of having the star route run to Oakley on the Saginaw division of the M. C. are very apparent to Chapin and Olney patrons of the offices who now have to put up with the delay of a round about course which makes a delay of one or two days in the transaction of business. With this matter corrected the residents of the vicinity will feel that they are once more as comfortably supplied with the provisions for carrying on business as they need to be, although they are hoping that another season may bring them telephone connection at the store and would welcome an electric road with open arms. As for the store, however, it is voted all right.

A Fiendish Attack.
An attack was lately made on C. F. Colver, of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not sleep without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c. at J. S. Hazzard and Will E. Collins & Co.'s drug stores.

Her Only Regret

Mrs. Peabody Had Passed Through the Most Trying Experience of Her Life Before She Found a Remedy for All Women's ills.

Nobody who sees Mrs. Mary M. Peabody, of 43 Water Street, Haverhill, Mass., to-day will find it easy to believe that she has passed her 63d year and has endured more suffering than comes to the ordinary lot of women. How she regained health and happiness is best told in her own words. She says:

"Last winter and spring I had the most terrible nervous system all run down. I also suffered from female weakness and troubles peculiar to women. I had no strength and no ambition. My friends did not think that I would live and I was afraid that I was going to die. I had been in a former illness, and had had a long time taking medicine. They did not disappoint me. I used several boxes of them and from a total wreck I was made a healthy woman. My only regret is that I did not know of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People when I had the chance of life. I am now enjoying the best of health, eat heartily and sleep soundly—all due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. There are many facts about my case that I do not care to have published but I will gladly answer any woman who cares to write me about the subject."
MAY 11, PEABODY.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this first day of September, 1899.
