

also Farmers' Club.
 An February meeting was held at Grand View farm with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Greenwald as host and hostess. Despite the bad roads there was a good attendance of members and visiting friends. While the hostess and assistants served a fine dinner all were jolly and enjoying a visit with their neighbors, sociability being no small feature of the club meetings.

At one o'clock President Place called order, all joined in song. Invocation, Rev. Leonard. The committee on visiting sick reported Mr. Clapp ill and the entertainment committee reported that Mr. and Mrs. August Stewart wish the March meeting.

Pending national legislation in which we are interested as farmers and reasons for our concerted action as clubs in their behalf. Mr. Carson says we as farmers are interested in all legislation. What affects one line affects all, not long since legislation put iron on free list which caused the mines to shut down, the miners became destitute, a canvass was taken from house to house among the farmers with the result that the mines were reopened, if miners have no money they cannot buy farm produce which of course affects the farmer. We are interested in railroad legislation wherein the small shipper is driven out and a monopoly given the large shipper. We are perhaps at the present time most interested in the reduction of tariff on Philippine sugar which would be woe to the Michigan farmer.

Some extracts from the late speech of Hon. J. W. Fordney were read.

When and how to do the sweeping? Mrs. Willoughby sweeps every day but give general sweeping once a week; dust and remove furniture; sprinkle carpet with coarse salt and sweeps it off. Mrs. Smith prefers wet tea leaves as salt rusts carpets. Mrs. C. Miller wets newspaper with hot water, wrings as dry as possible breaks in bits and places over the floor to gather the dust. Mrs. Stiles does not want any dampness on her floors before sweeping but opens windows to let dust escape then wipes carpet with cloth wet in warm water with a tablespoon of ammonia added to the pailful.

Mrs. Stiles and Miss Rena Willoughby flavored the meeting with two piano duets.

What do you think of the free distribution of seeds by the government? Mr. Willoughby does not think it profitable, the government pays for them and nine-tenths of them are wasted. Mr. Sawyer thinks it the only way the farmer gets a cinch on his city brother as the latter has to help pay for the seed. Mr. Peterson has not had experience with Government seed but thinks the money is better expended, but if used a report should be made. Mr. Smith thinks the money would be better expended if used to perfect the mail routes. Mr. Robertson says if we know what the government is trying to do we would think it all right; he has asked for certain kinds of seeds, has planted them and then reported. Mr. Place, we have hosts of friends at Washington who show their friendship by doing it into little bundles of seeds for political favors but thinks a great improvement has been made on best seed by the government. Mr. Greenwald has had good success with the seed but did not report.

Song, I Want to be There by quartette, Mrs. Stewart, Miss Willoughby, Messrs. Sawyer and Willoughby.
 Which is the cheapest and best to exchange wheat for flour at the mill or sell the wheat and buy flour at the store. Mrs. Stiles thinks it as cheap to sell the wheat and buy flour and better because you can get the brand of flour you want, she prefers Blue Bird flour if she could get it. Mr. Smith would buy his flour as the best grades are shipped farthest from where manufactured, prefers Gold Medal flour. Mrs. Lowell likes Ann Arbor Patent and Mr. Willoughby is satisfied with the flour from the Owosso mills.
 Mrs. Clapp read a well chosen selection on Past and Future.
 Miss Mattibel Getman read articles on the lives of Washington and Lincoln.
 What is the cost of a meal for the farmer? Mrs. Stewart says at the present time a meal for four can be gotten up for forty cents and mentioned a good bill of fare with the cost of each article that far exceed the fifteen cent lunch of the restaurants.

News of the world, by Mrs. Getman, the following are some of the topics: The work women are doing managing farms, etc. Fire insurance assessments are liable to increase. A canal from New York to Oregon a possibility. The twenty four million dollar state house at Albany, N. Y., is at fault. A collection of rare china by Mrs. Roosevelt formerly belonging to Martha Washington down to Mrs. McKinley. Death of Paul Lawrence Dunbar at Dayton, Ohio, Feb. 9th. Norway's new Queen's rules for governing her children a good example for others. Automobiles for the feet at a cost of $90 per pair.
 Fern Greenwald gave a humorous recitation, "Buckwheat cakes" which was enjoyed by all.
 What can the busy farmer do at this season of the year to advance the busy work of spring. Get up a good wood pile, trim trees, draw fertilizer, repair fences, get machinery in working order, grub out fence rows. The talk on this last subject drifted into forestry, all were in favor of saving all the trees possible. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Greenwald for hospitality shown.
 The meeting closed with a recitation "Peekin through the window," by Miss Mattibel Getman.
 Program for March.
 Club extension work—How can each local club best work in adjoining territory to establish new clubs?—Mr. Freeman, Mr. Lowell; What does it cost to grow a bushel of corn?—Mr. Stiles; Why do most boys have a desire to run away from home?—Mrs. L. D. Carson, Mrs. E. O. Place; When cooking in what are you apt to be successful? Each lady; Discoveries and happenings—Mattibel Getman; Are the farm implements in order for the spring business?—Each gentleman; The use of incubator and brooder and how early to set the eggs?—Mr. Sawyer, Mrs. Partridge; New conveniences discovered by a day at shopping—Mrs. Spalding, Mrs. Smith.

 Wm. Hovey, aged 55, of Holly, died on a Lake Shore electric car in Cleveland Friday morning. When the conductor asked him for his fare he found him dead. Heart disease was the cause. Mr. Hovey was a machinist.
 Because of the prevalence of smuggling, carried on by teams, it is alleged, over the ice between Port Huron and the Flats, custom officers have become very active. The goods brought from Canada are chiefly woolen clothing.
 Boys skating on Portage lake near Houghton Friday, discovered the body of Yohan Lakso imbedded in the ice. The body was badly decomposed. It is supposed Lakso lost his way in one of the big storms during the winter, laid down, and froze to death.

 An Old News Rag.
 A curious relic of the old days of the paper duties which so much hampered journalistic enterprise in the first half of the nineteenth century is the first number of Berthold's Political Handkerchief, being a news sheet printed on cotton fabric instead of paper. It is dated London, Saturday, Sept. 3, 1831; price, fourpence. And the letterpress, which is fairly legible, is as remarkable as the material on which it is printed. The tone of this news rag is intensely radical, but it reproduces the order of ceremonial to be observed at the coronation of King William IV, and Queen Adelaide on the following Thursday, and it is announced that a proclamation to the people of Europe will appear in our "next cotton." It is embellished with a medallion woodcut of Napoleon crossing the Alps, but the ink in this pictorial effort was too much for the cotton, and the Alps are in a fog and the emperor, on horseback, very indistinct.—London Mail.

Six Mile Creek.
 The Elite of the Creek have a dance in the hall about once in two weeks—CC Day and family attended the Farmers' Club at Mr. A Spittler's. A fine program and good music made every thing lively. A splendid dinner was served at twelve o'clock and every one said they had a lively time, long to be remembered—A family from Owosso has moved into the Bodan house, he will run the engine at the mine—The social held at Ernest Richards on Friday evening was a decided success bringing in almost thirteen dollars—Mr and Mrs P Beswick went to Battle Creek on Saturday to attend the funeral of a relative will return the last of the week—Mr Thiemann is shearing sheep this week—The roads have been too bad for hauling coal for a few days—Mrs George Canz is much better—Very little sickness in this vicinity, a healthy place to live—Several parties are looking for farms; soon be moving time.

Flance and Sweetheart.
 For centuries we have tried to get the word that expresses the relation of the man to the maid he intends to marry. "Intended" has been tried and found wanting. "My bloke," "my young man"—these combinations are not heard in the best circles. "My betrothed," a phrase used in Germany, has not taken root in England. "My sweetheart" is pretty enough, but it lacks the official sound. Young men and maidens become engaged and marry, but they have to cross the channel for the word that lends them to the altar. One might suggest to the blushing girl who has to allude to the man of her acceptance "my future." French maidens speak of "mon futur," and it sounds comprehensive.—London Chronicle.

Advertising.
 Until business is successful without a proper store, proper employees and the right amount of capital, it must be assumed that these three conditions are essential to the conduct of profitable trade, and it is as obvious that so long as advertising accompanies the business of profit advertising is necessary for the upbuilding of business. The mere appearance of advertising indicates that business is being done or will be done, and so long as everybody prefers to buy of men of success rather than of men of failure just so long will the man who advertises be likely to do the largest business.

The Moat.
 Before the days of artillery the moat was an effective means of defense, particularly when filled with water. In very large forts or castles it sometimes assumed the dimensions of a lake, being often 100 yards wide and ten to twenty feet deep. The moat was crossed by a drawbridge, which could be raised at an instant's notice. When the moat was too wide to permit of this bridge covering the entire distance a slight wooden bridge was employed.

Its Curious Origin.
 The word "eavesdropper" has a curious origin. In the early part of last century the penalty of listening to or overhearing secret assemblies, especially Masonic ones, was suspension under the eaves of a house on a rainy day till the water ran through the clothing and down to the shoes of the offender.—London Express.

Court Terms.
 A court of law is a reminiscence of the time when justice sat in the open courtyard, and the "dock" is from a German word meaning a receptacle, while the "bar" is a Welsh word meaning a branch of a tree used to separate the lords of justice from their vassals.

ELECTION NOTICE.

How to Save Time and Labor in Plowing
 Plowing is the drawing a load—the lighter the load the faster you go. But you can draw more on a wagon than on a stone boat, can't you—and draw it faster?
 And the wagon is easier on your team.
 Some plows are like stone boats when it comes to drawing. Others are more like the finest, easiest pulling wagon.
 The Oliver Plows are "the wagon kind."
 They are the lightest draft plows made.
 Want to know why?
 The diamond-shaped furrow slice falls of its own weight.
 Every part of an Oliver Plow is balanced, adjusted and centered toward the pull.
 Because they are shaped right, they go through the land easily—offer the least resistance.
 Oliver chilled metal scours perfectly.
 Not an ounce of pull is lost.
 The No. 40 Plow Has a World-wide Reputation
 The mold board is always smooth and bright. It does not corrode—surface rust will wear off after a few minutes' use.
 The standard is set well back so no rubbish can gather between it and the share.
 OLIVER CHILLED PLOWS.
 Always the Best,
 Now Better than Ever

William Purfield, a shoe merchant, and one of the leaders among the younger business men of Ann Arbor, informed his friends Monday that he was secretly married at Detroit Feb. 6, the bride being Miss Gertrude Fuhrman, of Ypsilanti.

Over Two Million Are in Use
 We are the largest plow making concern in the world. We turn out more plows every year than any other concern in existence.
 And it is this extra quality and large production that enables us to give you better plow value for your money than you can obtain anywhere else.
 Oliver principles of construction cannot be improved.
 But this year we are able to get better material than we could ever before procure.
 And the finish of our goods has been made a little finer.
 It will pay you to investigate our claims before you buy.
 We have studied the soil conditions in your state and this No. 40 plow will meet them.
 Why not see your dealer today?
 If he hasn't the Oliver, wait till you can write to us.
 We will see that you are well served.
 Isn't it worth attending to at once?
