Pearce, Chicago; Dr. Wm. Byron Forbush, Detroit; Prof. E. A. Fox, Louisville; Miss Clara Louise Ewalt, Warren, Ohio; Rev. A. C. Dixon, Chicago; G. C. Tullar and I. H. Meredith, New York.

The Constitutional Convention.
The constitutional convention will be called to order at noon on Tuesday next in representative hall at Lansing by Secretary of State Prescott. The contest—if there is one—for president will be between John J. Carton, of Flint, and Maj. Boynton, of Port Huron. After the organization it is probable that adjournment will be taken to allow the president to select the committees. Delegates W. M. Kilpatrick and A. B. Cook will be present for the opening.

County S. S. Convention.
The annual convention of the County Sunday School Association was held in Bancroft, Monday and Tuesday, with nearly 100 delegates present. Evans by a vote of 30 to 28, and on motion of Mr. Evans the election was made unanimous. The officers are all popular with the boys and it is believed that the efficiency of the company will be maintained in every way. Capt. Van Dyne is an excellent disciplinarian.

Ask For Permanent Decrees.
Representing a part of the original petitioners who asked for a temporary injunction in January, 1896, restraining the county treasurer from paying the court house indebtedness, Kilpatrick & Pierpont have filed a petition asking to have the decree entered made permanent. The decree as entered restrained any payment until further order of the court. The move now is to have all restrictions stricken out. The petition will be heard by Judge Wisner of the Genesee circuit, on Nov. 4th. At the same time a petition will be filed by M. H. Knapp asking to have the original decree modified so that his claim can be paid. It is understood that no opposition will be made to his request. It is probable that a vigorous fight will be made against making the injunction permanent and the case will be watched with interest all over the county. Interested parties are of the opinion that the case will go to the supreme court for final action.

Drain Injunction Dissolved.
Judge Miner has dissolved the temporary injunction granted on the petition of Leonard Crouse and Geo. Smithgall restraining the village of Morrice from putting a drain through the land of these gentlemen to connect with a county drain. It was charged that the drain would be a menace to the health of the community.

These beans represent practically the crops of these brothers for the past three years. —Durand Express.

Come out and have a good old fashioned time at our good old country place.

Suspended from School.
Four high school students are out of school for four weeks as the result of an attempt to get other students into trouble. The boys' punishment is generally commended by the people of the city and the school authorities will be upheld if similar action is taken in all cases which may lead to a recurrence of the rowdism which marked the close of the last school year. In this case the attempt was to get the freshman class into trouble by painting the figures "11" on the wall of the central building, on Thursday evening, the freshmen having been out earlier in the evening painting the figures on the walks around the city. Prompt action Friday morning soon resulted in finding who the guilty ones were and their punishment was speedy. The boys can consider themselves fortunate in escaping more serious trouble for defacing a public building. On Tuesday three of the freshmen boys were suspended for three weeks for painting the walks.

Wager of Battle.
In 1817 one Richard Thornton, called to the bar of the king's bench charged with the murder of Mary Askford, in open court threw down his glove and defied his accuser, whereupon there was a pretty do. Wager of battle, it was supposed, had died a natural death in the dark ages, but Lord Ellenborough after much consultation of precedent held that it was still the law of England and ordered a field to be prepared. Thornton's accuser thereupon declining combat, the prisoner was discharged. Next year parliament passed an act abolishing this privilege of appeal to the strong right arm.

Picking on Him.
A first grade boy brought perfect spelling papers home for several weeks and then suddenly began to miss five and six out of ten.

"How's this, son?" asked his father.

"Teacher's fault," replied the boy.

"How is it the teacher's fault?"

"She moved the little boy that sat next to me."—Lippincott's.

Practical.
Sound practical advice given by a misanthrope: If ever you should be attacked by night never shout "Murder" for no one will bother about you. Yell "Fire!" and everybody will be out of doors in a jiffy.

It Should Not Have Ended Thus.
Riding north on a Northwestern avenue car, a young man allowed himself to become annoyed at the conduct of the conductor. The latter important official seemed to be in a hurry. He was making it a practice to give the "let's go" signal before alighting passengers were fairly on the ground. Once or twice he had frightened women in this manner, and many an angry glance followed him as his car bumped onward.

Near Sixteenth street the annoyed young man arose to leave the car. It stopped and he started to swing off the running board.

"Ding, ding!"

The conductor had jerked the bell cord. The young man, strong and athletic in build, could have dropped off without effort, but he didn't. Instead he reached up and jerked the bell cord a single jerk. The car, in the act of gathering momentum again, stopped suddenly.

"What do you mean by that?" demanded the conductor.

"I'm taking the time you should have given to those ladies," answered the athletic young man, with a satisfied grin. Then coolly, carefully, still grinning at the angry conductor, he stepped off—into a puddle of dirty water.

It should not have been so, but the conductor had the last laugh.—Indianapolis News.
