County Sunday School Picnic.

The executive committee of the County Sunday School Association met at Durand on Friday last and decided to hold the annual picnic at McCurdy park the latter part of this month.

Judge Miner Sustains Temporary Injunction.

There will be no Sunday ball game on the new grounds on the Cornua road for the present at least. Judge Miner having sustained and strengthened the temporary injunction granted a few weeks ago on the application of property owners residing in the vicinity. The motion to dissolve the injunction will be heard at the September term of the circuit court.

American Farm Products Company In Hands of Receiver.

The business of the American Farm Products Co., throughout the country passed into the hands of a receiver on Saturday morning. It is thought that matters will be arranged in a few days so that the business in this city will go on as usual. The affairs of the company so far as the local plant is concerned are said to be in good shape. The outcome will doubtless be a reorganization and the continuance of the entire business.

Horse Killed in Runaway.

A horse belonging to Verne Young who lives nine miles west of Owosso, was killed, the buggy in which Young and Frank Luce were riding was wrecked and both men were somewhat bruised, Sunday night, when the animal taking fright on Howard street jumped sideways throwing the men out and started on a run, the vehicle colliding with a tree. The horse continued to Michigan avenue running into a hydrant breaking its leg. The men came down town to find a veterinarian, and on returning found the animal dead. They took off the harness and left, but returned Monday morning after the dead horse and wrecked rig had caused much comment and worry to police officers.

Strike on Grand Trunk Declared Off.

Peace and happiness have followed threatenings and dissatisfaction at every point along the line of the Grand Trunk Ry System in this country and Canada where any number of the striking employees of that road resided, and nowhere is this more true than at Durand. The news which was sent out Tuesday evening to the effect that a wage agreement had been reached and settlement of the strike effected was hailed with delight by the railroad men and the residents of the towns through which the road runs and, again, nowhere was this more true than at Durand. True, neither side to the controversy won a decided victory, each yielding something for the sake of harmony. On the one hand the men accept the 18 per cent increase in wages previously offered by the road, the same to date from May 1 last, on the other hand the men agree to wait until December 31st, 1911, to have the standard scale of wages of the C. P. R. put into effect. The old men are to be put to work as fast as possible, without however compelling all the new men to give up their positions.

Such in brief is the story of the strike in a general way. Locally, the sending of 500 members of the Michigan National Guards—400 more than were suggested by Sheriff Watson as being enough to answer every purpose—to Durand on Thursday of last week as mentioned in our last issue, the holding of indignation meetings at Durand to protest against the presence of the soldiers, the visit of Gov. Warner to that point and his decided stand that the soldiers must remain until Sheriff Watson was certain that he could handle any situation which might arise are all well known and nothing farther need be said—indeed too much has already been published, and it would have been far better for all concerned if many statements had gone unspoken and unpublished.

Let us all hope that the trouble is all over.

Osborn an Ideal Candidate.

Attorney Robert P. Hudson of Sault Ste Marie, was in the city Monday in the interest of Hon. Chase S. Osborn, candidate for governor. Mr. Hudson has recently made an extensive tour of the western and southern portion of the state, and has had an exceptional opportunity to observe the political situation. Mr. Hudson in discussing the gubernatorial situation said:

"Mr. Osborn has been receiving a most cordial and enthusiastic reception wherever he has been. Through the southwestern and south central part of the state where I have just been, his candidacy is gaining in strength daily, and his audiences have been uniformly large and enthusiastic. His earnest eloquence and his frank statements of the issues have been making him friends and adherents everywhere.

"The upper peninsula is practically unanimous for him and in the lower peninsula the sentiment is steadily and rapidly crystallizing into enthusiastic support.

"He is making a whirlwind campaign and holding all the way from ten to fifteen meetings a day, and is in fine physical condition in spite of the arduous tour he is making in the state.

"Mr. Osborn is an ideal candidate. His wide experience in state affairs and his exceptional business and literary attainments, supplemented by wide travel make him especially fitted for the governorship."

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Edwards of Elkhart, Ind., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Reineke this week.

A company of friends surprised Mrs. A. H. Letts, Wednesday afternoon at her home on Main street west, and enjoyed a picnic lunch, leaving a beautiful souvenir of the event. Mrs. Letts will soon move to Saginaw.

Warren Leisinger, machinist at the Reliance truck factory, fell from a truck in which he was riding, Tuesday, on Shiawassee street and was severely if not fatally injured. He regained consciousness, partially, Wednesday and has improved some since, and his good health and strong constitution may make his recovery complete.

Mrs. Wellington Hart, aged 57 years, died Wednesday evening after a long illness of creeping paralysis. Mrs. Hart was born in Beverly, Ont., and has resided in New Haven township over forty years. She was a member of the New Haven Methodist church and other organizations. She is survived by her husband and three children, E. B. Hart of Owosso, D. M. Hart, New Haven township, and Mrs. Charles Collard of Bancroft. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at the Union church, New Haven.

Death of Jos. E. Kohn.

Joseph E. Kohn of Bay City, general superintendent of the Owosso Sugar Co., and the Michigan Chemical Co. in his home city, died very suddenly Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. He had attended to his duties as usual during the day and returned home, going directly to his room accompanied by one of his children. Within a few moments the child called its mother, who came to the room and found Mr. Kohn in great distress from heart trouble. She ran to summon a doctor a few doors from the home and returning found Mr. Kohn dead. Mr. Kohn was about 52 years of age and came to the United States 14 years ago from Prague, Austria. He was from an old and highly respected Bohemian family and had been given a splendid education as a chemical and mechanical engineer in European universities. He was a natural genius, a great worker and successful in whatever he undertook. Surviving are his wife, two sons and a daughter. Mr. Kohn had many friends in Owosso who greatly regret his death.

Maple River Farmers' Club.

The Maple River Farmer's Club held its July meeting at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Waugh. The attendance was one of the largest for some time and the program full of splendid discussions. The busy harvesting season over, a large number of visiting friends from the city and other clubs were present and greatly helped in their able discussions of timely questions of economic importance.

A. B. Cook gave an excellent talk on "The True Function of the Institute Worker," in which he somewhat surprised his friends in saying that all the institute workers were not the most progressive farmers. It is a hard matter to get a real busy farmer to travel over the state and attend institutes at the price paid. The farmer who is making a great success of his business is a business farmer and his work occupies all his time.

"The Farmer's Dietetic Errors" was the subject of a very thoughtful and suggestive paper presented by Mrs. Nettie Rush Reynolds. The farmer is so careful in the selection of eatables as he ought. There are two kinds of food required to build up and sustain the working of the body. Carbohydrates and nitrogenous food. Farmers eat too much meat during the summer months. The French are less inclined toward eating large amounts of meat and consequently are more free from diseases.

The program for the remaining part of the afternoon was furnished by the young people, Harold Richardson acting as chairman.

"My Four Year's Experience in High School," was the theme of an essay read by Vera Richardson who spoke of numerous incidents relative to high school life. High school opens the door to higher education. No one should feel that a high school course fits them for life's work. It simply prepares them to lay plans for future development of the mind.

Vivian Bilhimer read an excellent paper on the "History of Passion Play" in which she reviewed a biblical incident showing its influence upon the mind. No other incident has more permanently fixed itself and directly influenced the mind of mankind than passion play. Miss Bilhimer's paper was ably composed and well delivered.

Harold Richardson gave a short talk on the part young people should have in club work. He expressed gratitude that a part of one month had been recognized as a young people's day and they had been given an opportunity to show their interest in club work. The future club material lies in the young people. If they are allowed an opportunity to take part on the program they will grow up feeling they have a part to perform on every monthly occasion.

"Entertaining Friends" was the subject of a splendid paper by Mary Hardy. We should endeavor to make our visiting friends feel they are at home when visiting us. They should not be made to think they are a burden and must perform daily work. Have friends visit you when you are least busy and have time to spend with them.

Marie Vandekarr read an interesting paper on "The Value of a High School Education." A high school training acquaints one with elementary science and stimulates a desire for a higher education. It also lays the foundation to acquaintance with one's self. After one has completed a high school course they are in a position to decide for themselves what line of work they desire to follow in life.

During the afternoon Albert, Mary, Clayton Jr., and Benjamin Cook, Helen and Lucile Richardson gave excellent recitations which were well rendered. Mrs. Halstead and Don Richardson furnished excellent songs which were highly entertaining.

Congressman Townsend to Visit County.

WEDDING BELLS.

At the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McKay, on Tuesday, August 3, at high noon, when their daughter Miss Janet, and Mr. Arthur E. James of Detroit were united in marriage by the Rev. M. Morton Clark. The home was tastefully decorated, and a bountiful repast served to the few invited guests. The bride was beautifully attired in a white organdie gown. New Lothrop has always been the residence of the bride with the exception of several years spent in Detroit as a student at the Detroit Conservatory of Music. She is an accomplished musician and a favorite in the home church and community, having been the highly appreciated organist at the Methodist Episcopal church for ten years. It will be a difficult matter for the church to secure as competent and willing a successor.

Mr. James is a bright, well educated and industrious young man of good habits. He is at present acting as house salesman in the furniture establishment of A. A. Gray Co. Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. James left on the evening train for Detroit. Before taking up their residence there they will enjoy an extended trip through the East, visiting Buffalo, Niagara Falls, New York City, Philadelphia and Atlantic City. The happy couple were the recipients of many elegant and costly gifts. Mrs. Ethan J. Huff, sister of the bride, acted as bride's maid, and Ethan Huff was best man. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Huff of Marquette.

Odell Chapman was in Midland part of the week trying a law suit in the Midland circuit court.
