Owosso Lodge M. P. A.

Owosso Lodge, No. 1, Michigan Protective Association, was organized Wednesday evening when the eighty-six charter members met at Odd Fellow hall, East Main street, and elected officers as follows: Past loyal president, Vesta Fritsch; president, M. F. Grove; vice president, Elmer Brown; chaplain, Miss Merle De Smythe; marshal, O. C. Launstein; recording secretary, Miss Ora Packard; financial secretary, W. O. Phillips; treasurer, A. E. Osmer; inner sentinel, Louis Williams; outer sentinel, Stewart Byerly; physician, Dr. F. A. Watts; trustees, R. S. Coy, Claude Nutson and Archie McCally.

After the election, during which ceremonies M. F. Grove acted as instituting officer, light refreshments were served and a general good time enjoyed. The officers will be formally installed on Thursday evening, February 15th.

The organization of Owosso lodge follows long and determined effort upon the part of Messrs. Grove and E. B. Ruddock, who have been busy establishing the association. It is planned, by systematized organization work, to establish lodges throughout the state. Mr. Ruddock leaves Friday for Romeo to start the work of organizing a lodge there. The order is intended to furnish fraternal insurance for its members.

Arrested For Violating Local Option Law

Sheriff Herrick, Undersheriff Bert Griffin and Deputy Joe Sproule made a raid on the house occupied by Mrs. Maud Perry on Laverock street late Monday night, believing the woman with the help of some male admirers was conducting a "blind pig." The officers will have but little trouble in proving the case as several quarts of beer and four or five gallons of whiskey were found when entrance was forced into the house. Several men were found in the round-up, all of whom were subsequently released except Amion R. Wheeler, known as "Kid" Wheeler, and Sam'l. Roark, who with Mrs. Perry will be examined before Justice Friegel, Feb. 18th, on a charge of violating the local option law. Sheriff Herrick has no question as to his ability to prove the sale of liquor by the parties. The woman and her husband, who is at present absent from the city because he was wanted on a similar charge, have been suspected for a long time of liquor selling.
