

CONVICT FIRST WOMAN ON MANN ACT CHARGE

Husband Is Also Sentenced for Threatening Witness.

Detroit, March 31.—In sentencing Katherine Prdjun to serve two years and six months in the Detroit House of Correction Judge Tuttle pronounced a precedent.

Katherine Prdjun is the first woman to be tried, convicted and sentenced on a charge of white slavery in the United States District court in Detroit.

The defendant, who is an Austrian, was charged with having induced pretty Zorkie Asdics, a bride of seventeen, to leave her husband in Newark, O., and come to Detroit to work in her "restaurant" on Rivard street.

ASK COURT TO BAR CANDIDATE

It is Said Man Running for Mayor is Not Citizen.

Port Huron, Mich., March 31.—A bitter political fight has developed in Yale, St. Clair county, over the mayoralty race and an application for an injunction was filed here to prevent the election board of the city from placing the name of Herbert T. Hennessy on the official ballot as the candidate on the citizens' ticket for mayor.

After Mr. Hennessy had been nominated, his political opponents charged that he had never taken his citizenship papers and in their court proceedings they alleged that Mr. Hennessy went to Detroit on March 16 and fled with the clerk of the United States court his intention of becoming a citizen.

HELD AS BROTHER'S SLAYER

Authorities Think They Have Solved Mystery of Henry Pyne's Death.

Alpena, Mich., March 31.—Harry Pyne, aged twenty-five, was arraigned in Harrisville on a charge of murder in connection with the death of his brother, Henry Pyne, aged thirty-one, whose mutilated body was found beside a railroad track there about a month ago.

Rumors have connected Harry Pyne's name with the case for some time and the authorities say they have strong circumstantial evidence. The authorities were on guard as soon as they heard Pyne intended leaving Harrisville. All outgoing trains were watched. Pyne insisted that he was innocent.

Well Known Wagon Maker Dies.

Detroit, Mich., March 31.—Philo G. Belnap, for more than 50 years a well known wagon manufacturer and blacksmith of Detroit and for forty-four years a member of Zion lodge, No. 1, E. & A. M., died at his home, 195 Eighteenth street, aged eighty-seven years. The cause of death was given as uraemic poisoning.

Finally Dies of Injuries.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 31.—Frank Cebulski, thirty-six years old, is dead here as the result of injuries suffered in a wreck last September.

Not Strong for the Chapel.

Jackson, Mich., March 31.—The chapel at Jackson prison is being redecorated for the first time in twenty-five years.

SAUL REJECTED BY THE LORD

1 Samuel 13:16-22—April 4.
Disobedience to the Heavenly King Cost Saul His Throne—His First Servant Test—His Second Test—Was the Condemnation of the Amalekites Just? Saul's Wrong Attitude of Heart, Beauty and Strength of the Prophet Samuel's Character.

"Behold, to obey is better than to sacrifice."—1 Samuel 15:22.

SEVERAL years after King Saul's coronation his first great test, noted in our lesson of two weeks ago, came to him. At that time a war was instituted against the Philistines, who dominated Israel. Saul waited for the Prophet Samuel to come to offer sacrifice previous to giving battle. Samuel was providentially detained; and the king, after waiting for a time, offered the sacrifices himself and proceeded to the battle, the result being the defeat of his forces. This incident may be said to have been the beginning of Saul's rejection by the Lord.

Although the Lord, through the Prophet Samuel, announced King Saul's rejection, the prediction was evidently not fulfilled for several years afterward. Quite possibly the king was properly exercised by his rejection and became more attentive to the Divine will; and David, who was probably anointed about this time, was not yet sufficiently developed to be the Lord's representative in Saul's stead.

King Saul's next severe trial was in connection with the Amalekites, a fierce nomadic people who had on several occasions done injury to Israel. In sending the message to the king, the Lord gave special instructions that the Amalekites should be utterly destroyed. He also specified that the destruction was on account of Amalek's opposition to Israel in the way when the Israelites came out of Egypt, several centuries before.

Was Their Condemnation Just?

This narrative is seized upon by skeptics to prove that if God should thus command the wholesale slaughter of human creatures and dumb animals, He must be lacking in justice, pity, sympathy and love. There is but one answer to this matter, and it should be satisfactory to all who understand it. It is this:

The slaughter of the Amalekites did not mean, as usually inferred, that they went forth to eternal torture. To them, death had the same meaning that it had to their cattle—a termination of whatever was desirable in the present life. Slaughtered by the sword, the Amalekites suffered far less than if they had died of hunger or disease. All went down to the great prison-house of death—Sheol, Hades, the tomb.

God had already arranged a great redemption, not only for the Amalekites, but for all mankind. That redemption, secured by the great sacrifice of Christ centuries after their death, will by and by secure to them release from their imprisonment—an awakening from the death sleep. They will be amongst those mentioned by our Lord, saying, "All that are in their graves shall hear the voice of the Son of God and shall come forth." They will come forth under much more favorable conditions, to learn of Divine grace in Christ and to be amongst the families of the earth to be blessed by the Seed of Abraham—Spiritual Israel.

King Saul's Willful Disobedience.

In this trial King Saul's error was his failure to carry out the Lord's commands explicitly. He slew all the Amalekites except the king, whom he kept alive, possibly thinking to exhibit him in a triumphal display. As for the flocks and herds, he consented with his people to spare all that were good and desirable. At this juncture the Prophet Samuel arrived, and the colloquy of our lesson ensued.

The Prophet's indignation and the Lord's positive statement clearly indicate that King Saul had not misunderstood his instructions, but had deliberately violated them. Consequently his words to the Prophet must have been to a great extent hypocritical. The Prophet stopped the King in his explanation, and told him in the Lord's words of the night preceding—in Jewish reckoning "this night," because their day begins in the evening.

King Saul sought to defend his course and to lay the responsibility upon the hosts of Israel. The Prophet's answer is the pith of today's Study, and contains its Golden Text. He clearly pointed out what the king should have known and what all should recognize—that a sacrifice is far less pleasing to the Lord than is obedience to His Word.

So with God's people today. It is not so much of ill-gotten wealth that we may sacrifice to the Lord; it is not so much of the proceeds acquired, directly or indirectly, by wrong doing that we may sacrifice acceptably. Our sacrifice must be from the heart. First of all must be the will. Whoever gives his will to the Lord gives all; whoever comes not into heart obedience to the Lord cannot offer acceptable sacrifice.
