

The marriage of Miss Jane Frid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Frid, of Hamilton, Ont., to Mr. George W. Valentine was an event of Monday. Raiding the home of Walter Prowski, 49, at 1603 Henry street, Saturday night, police officers found a large still, and about 50 gallons of rye mash, ready to be put through the still. They locked Prowski up on a charge of violation of the prohibition law and confiscated the still and mash.

The officers who made the raid were Acting Chief George Denyes, Captain William Robertson and Patrolmen Jewell and Martin.

According to Denyes, the officers have been watching the place for several days and have proof of sales by Prowski. When they visited his place at 10 o'clock Saturday night, and told him of their mission, he smiled smugly and told them to go ahead and search. After a long search the still was found, in the lattice over one lean-to on the house, the only means of entrance to which was through a false door. This was discovered by Denyes only after continued sounding of the walls.

used a two-burner oil stove on which to heat the mash and his coil ran through two tubs of cold water, which were placed near the stove.

All of the mash was taken to headquarters by the officers. Several gallon jugs and two-quart cans which smelled strongly of liquor, were also found in Prowski's house, police said.
