

Local and General.

M. A. Miller returned Monday from a brief visit to Portland.

Mr. F. Prince, we are glad to say, is slowly recovering under the care of Dr. M. Allister.

Look out for the new furniture store, of F. H. Roscoe & Co. Bed-rock prices takes the goods.

The Dolce Far Niente club will give a dance at the Opera house, Albany, on the evening of July 4th.

J. P. Donnan of Sweet Home, gave us a call on Monday. He reports everything "lively" in his burr.

B. F. Irvine of Seio, was in town Wednesday. Mr. Irvine is one of the solid prohibitionists of that section.

The Lebanon Prohibition League meets this (Friday) evening, at 7:30 everybody invited. Interesting program.

The Lebanon hose team came home Saturday night, all covered with glory. Astoria did not get away with everything this clatter.

Special attention is directed to the shoe "ad" of Samuel E. Young, Albany; also that of H. Roscoe & Co., new furniture store.

Mr. D. W. Kamp, special agent for the Home Mutual Insurance Co., for Oregon, Washington and Idaho, gave us a call Wednesday.

We understand there was a large concourse of people at the campmeeting; being held at Sodaville, under the management of the C. P. church.

J. S. Morris, P. M. of Seio, accompanied by his wife and little daughter, called at Lebanon a few minutes on Sunday last, on their way home from campmeeting.

Sweet Home will celebrate on the coming Fourth of July. Orators and readers have been secured for the occasion, and the time is anticipated. Let joy be unconstrained.

We direct attention to the shoe "ad" of Samuel E. Young, Albany which appears in another column. Mr. Young is a very pleasant gentleman to do business with and see him.

Mr. A. A. Bushor, P. M. and merchant of Seio, gave us a pleasant call Wednesday, leaving his measure for an "ad" to which we direct special attention. Call and see him when you go to Seio.

Through inquiry we learn that the snow slide referred to, which before last is now removed so that teams can pass safely. Travel over the Santiam wagon road will unusually be large this season, so everybody profits.

There will be a meeting of the W. C. T. U. held at the First Presbyterian church, at Lebanon on Friday evening, July 1, 1887. The president Mrs. B. M. Reynolds, desires a full attendance of all members. Remember the date.

W. W. Saunders, who received his second trial for the murder of Charles Campbell, was found guilty of murder in the second degree in the Marion county circuit court, last week. He was given a life term in the penitentiary.

Marshal E. M. Miller has entered upon the duties of his office and is making some needed improvements on the streets. The council did a wise act in appointing Mr. Miller marshal, as he is a man who never flinches from what he knows to be his duty.

The thermometer indicated 92° in the shade on Tuesday last. Were it not for the refreshing sea breeze in the afternoon, these days would be somewhat depressing. The cool nights, however, being sweet rest, and all things considered, when it is nice in the Willamette Valley, it is "just too splendid for anything," as the girls say.

Rev. G. W. Gilmore of the Princeton Theological Seminary, has accepted the charge of the First Presbyterian church of this city, and will hold services on Sunday, morning and evening. We take pleasure in extending to Mr. Gilmore a cordial welcome among us, hoping his stay here will be a happy one, and that his efforts in the ministry, will be crowned with success.

A few days ago we called at the dental office of Dr. A. H. Peterson, where we were shown thousands of teeth which the Doctor has extracted during his practice. Judging from the shape and size of many of them, it must have taken a long, tough pull to fetch 'em; but the doctor is skilled in the art of extracting, and they come without any fuss or bother. At the close of this operation, Mr. Downing, gave us an address that did honor to his antecedents as an anti-temperance politician both in the republican and democratic parties. Mr. R. L. Derby made a short, snappy speech in favor of prohibition and there was a great interest manifested, which went to show that the people in Fox Valley are wide-awake, with their founders to the wheel, helping to roll for prohibition, with the great temperance army that is marching on to a glorious victory in November next.

On Thursday June 23, the Rock Hill Union Sunday school will give a picnic in which all friends of Sabbath school work are invited to participate. Speakers have been secured for the occasion and no doubt the day will be a pleasant one to all who attend.

Serious Accident.

On Sunday last Frank Craig, a young man 20 years of age, who lives eight miles south of Lebanon, met with a very serious accident while cleaning a double-barreled shotgun. One of the barrels being loaded, was discharged resulting in very serious injury to both hands, while ten or twelve nails entered his body. The wounds in the hands were of such a nature as to necessitate the amputation of one thumb. Two of the fingers were broken. Dr. Courtney, assisted by Frank Baird, amputated the thumb and reduced the fractures of the fingers, and extracted most of the shot. This is a sad lesson for the young man, and another almost fatal example of the results of careless handling of fire-arms. The young man has our best wishes for a speedy recovery.

The Picnic at Halsey.

On Saturday last a large concourse of people repaired to the beautiful grove a short distance east of Halsey, where Colonel Woodford addressed the citizens from all parts of "Old Linn" on the question of prohibition. The Colonel was at his best and held the large audience for an hour and a half with increasing interest. The roll of the Prohibition League at Halsey was handsomely increased during the meeting. That the meeting was fraught with good results, there is no doubt whatever. Such indisputable arguments as Colonel Woodford used, must make friends for the great cause of temperance reform wherever he goes. We hope he will be encouraged to visit every village, town and city in the state, before the election. We wish him God speed in his grand efforts to help us in carrying the state for prohibition. Everybody, the rum-seller, included, should hear Col. George Woodford on the good results coming from prohibition in Kansas and Iowa.

THE FIREMENS' TOURNAMENT

The Lebanon Hose Team Secures Two Prizes, But are Counted Out of the Second Prize for the State Championship, by the Astoria, So Called State Board of Directors.

Until this year Astoria has had the honor in getting away with the boodle at the state tournaments. At the one held at Vancouver, last week, the Lebanon team got in and won the first prize on the wet test, and the second prize of $100 on the state championship.

They did this with twelve men against Astoria's team of sixteen. When the contest was made there was a difference of opinion which was finally settled in favor of the Lebanon team, by a committee of ten persons, five of which exclusively belonged to the Astoria company, while, he it said to the honor of Lebanon, our boys were willing to leave it to five disinterested men, knowing perfectly well the race would be decided in their favor. The Astorians, apparently changing their mind, by twelve men to their sixteen, wait till they get home, and with the state board of directors, composed entirely of Astorians, count the Lebanon team out, and send the $100 fairly, and squarely carried by our boys.

To this Astoria, so called state board of directors, evidently besting more honor (?) in carrying off prizes than the agility and good management of the men composing their companies. Take the money, gentlemen. You are welcome to it. You certainly need it very badly to keep it under such straining circumstances.

In his description of the races, our reporter said it had rained the night before and the streets were somewhat muddy, which naturally put our "wobblers" boys in their element, and when Chief Kellogg gave the signal the Lebanon team waded through 21-2 seconds ahead on the wet test, and unquestionably secured the second prize of $100 for the State Championship. Be it said to the honor of Lebanon, her firemen on account of their gentlemanly deportment and cool display of speed, fire coupling fees, etc., made a host of friends during the contests. They really had more friends at Vancouver than any company of the association. It was admitted by all that Geo. Pfeiffer made the finest coupling during the tournament.

On their return home Saturday evening the boys were met at the train by the Lebanon coronet band and escorted to the C. P. Hotel, where they were banqueted by Dr. A. Anderson and M. A. Miller. Judge F. M. Miller in a few appropriate remarks congratulated them on the success they had achieved, which was thankfully acknowledged by the genial and enterprising captain, Mr. C. C. Hackleman.

After partaking of the good things, and receiving many hearty congratulations, the boys retired to rest, impatient of the fact that there was a glorious scheme on foot in Astoria to rob them of their honestly earned laurels.

From Fox Valley.

June 17.

As you are interested in Prohibition, I thought perhaps a few items from the above mentioned valley, might be of some interest to your readers.

The Hon. County Commissioners' court visited the proposed bridge site at Melama, on the North Santiam and the members of the court, as well as Mr. Martin Paine, of Albany, who accompanied them, were favorably impressed with the location for the bridge.

On Saturday the people of Fox Valley having been previously notified that there would be a public discussion of the constitutionality, as well as the practicality of the proposed constitutional prohibition amendment, at the school houses at 2 o'clock P. M. The meeting was organized by appointing Mr. Mills chairman. After which Mr. J. Trask called on the Hon. T. P. Goodman to explain the objects of the meeting, but Mr. G. expressed himself as being a spectator only. Hon. Alexander Downing, formerly of Marion county, being present, was called upon to explain the objects of the meeting but declined as he was there to oppose the amendment, whereupon Mr. Parker being called for, took the platform, and for about forty minutes delivered a stream of eloquence which from his manner one would have supposed he thought he had annihilated everything but reformed drunken democratic prohibition. At the close of this position, Mr. Downing, gave us an address that did honor to his antecedents as an anti-temperance politician both in the republican and democratic parties. Mr. R. L. Derby made a short, snappy speech in favor of prohibition and there was a great interest manifested, which went to show that the people in Fox Valley are wide-awake, with their founders to the wheel, helping to roll for prohibition, with the great temperance army that is marching on to a glorious victory in November next.

In last week's issue of the LEBANON EXPRESS, your correspondent stated that a lecture took place at the M. E. church on the evening of Wednesday 15th. The statement was incorrect as at the appointed time the lecture was given by Luther J. Dennis, failed to put in appearance, having been arrested on suspicion of being a fugitive from justice wanted in New York, for defrauding several societies. The prisoner was taken to Salem in charge of the arresting officers.

Waterloo Notes.

June 22.

Grain and gardens looking fine. John Gilliland went home last week. His hand seems to be better.

Robert McAllister has about finished a large pole barn and shed, which is a valuable addition to his farm.

Elder A. Hays was down from Sweet Home a few days since, to get an arrangement for a house in which to hold meetings.

At the close of the theological debate at Sweet Home, of which mention has heretofore been made, several seemed highly elated over the result.

William and Jacob Schmidt, assisted by G. W. Klum and I Saltmarsh, are raising their barn and putting under new sills and otherwise repairing it so they can put up plenty of feed. This is right, as people will fail to put up plenty of feed lose money every time.

Joel Vail and sons completed their contract of 55,000 feet of logs for the Lebanon saw mill, and expect to go to their home and single camp in a few days. Any one needing either boards or shingles, can be supplied by sending their orders a few days ahead.

I do not desire in speaking of this place, to call attention to the soda spring here, for every person in the county, and in fact in the State, knows of it and its medicinal properties; but I desire to inform your many readers that, as heretofore, Mr. Gosch is prepared to accommodate all persons desiring to visit this place for their health. He is prepared to furnish campers with anything in the way of groceries, canned fruits, meats, etc. Tourists will find the best of food and other accommodations. All orders for what is wanted, will be filled with everything desired by the most fastidious. Mrs. Gosch's experience as a cook at this place has taught her how to please the taste of persons here, or have been sick, and for this reason the public cannot find a better place to spend a few weeks than here. Any person desiring to visit Waterloo, who will notify George Gosch by mail, of the entertainment given at Waterloo, will be met by him and conveyed to his place, at reasonable rates.

Col. George Woodford.

Col. George Woodford suddenly appeared on the platform at a crowded audience at The Dalles, and as suddenly the magnetism of the man was felt.

"To your feet, and sing out!" resounded from his commanding service while he gave the loudest example himself, and the roof of the M. E. church echoed back the inspiring words.

"And crown him Lord of all!"

Col. Woodford has a commanding presence; he is a noble looking man, his voice and manner is telling, and he perfectly understands the art of graciously interesting his people, captivating them first and then capturing them for the cause he loves. You don't reckon time while hearing Col. Woodford speak. It goes as an evening bell when you find from one to two whole hours fled, and you are not aware of having drawn more than one whole breath the while he speaks without notes, and hot from the heart.

The soundness of his arguments, each perfect in itself, are only broken by the humorous anecdote, that nobody seems to enjoy better than the Colonel himself every word that he deals with is real, fun and all.

When he comes to this county let the country folks roll up in waves to hear him talk.

To obtain Col. Woodford's services address Mrs. H. R. Briggs, State President W. C. T. U. corner Front & Wood streets Portland.

DIED.

HARRIS.—At Carthage, N. Y., on June 9, 1887, of consumption, CHARLES A. HARRIS, aged 21 years, 7 months and 10 days.

ROOSEVELT.—At Lebanon, Linn county, Oregon, on the 21st of June, 1887, of cholera, the infant son of James L. and E. A. Harris, who resided in Albany until their death, some years ago, leaving him and two other children orphans. In June, 1886, he, and his brother and sister went to Carthage, where his father's relatives reside. After two years he returned to Lebanon where he remained until last January. His health falling, he, and realizing that his time on earth must be short, he had an earnest desire to see his brother and sister, where his father's relatives reside. After two years he returned to Lebanon where he remained until last January. He was a promising young man of bright intellect, and unusual ability. He suffered with the First Presbyterian church of this city, one year ago.

The subject of this notice was a grandson of J. W. Bell, and a nephew of Dr. and Mrs. Hope, of this place, with whom he made his home while here. Peace to his remains.
