STATE AND COAST.

Clipped from our Exchanges Throughout the West.

Forest fires have about ceased

The Portland Exposition opened Saturday.

The Southern Oregon fair opened last Tuesday.

Hop picking throughout the state is nearly completed.

John Karlin shipped 13 carloads of sheep from Moro to Chicago last week.

There were 254 pupils enrolled in Corvallis at the opening of the public schools last Monday.

M. Wilkins, of Onburg, has received a certificate of award for an exhibit of clover, rye, wheat and grasses at the World's Columbian Exposition.

John Savage, who has been a resident of Oregon for 50 years, and who has a $100 gold brick on deposit in the Salem bank, was 70 years old yesterday.

L. A. Neil delivered the first can of milk to the first creamery in Jackson county, in Ashland, last Monday. The first butter was made Tuesday.

The only cannery yet receiving fish at Astoria is that of J. O. Hawthorn & Co. The fisheries at The Dalles are said to be receiving large catches.

The Bandon Recorder says: Bandon must submit to the humiliation of having it advertised abroad that she charged a blind man wharfage that came here to camp.

There were nearly 2000 Indians camped at Wallowa county, near Enterprise, for a number of days, but they left no less than $500 with the business men of the town.

Peter Thuson, who was drowned near Cottage Grove Monday, was a former neighbor, at Ord, Nebraska, of Martin Paulsen, of Albany. Thuson's father was murdered about 12 years ago.

F. C. Dezendorf, of the United States land office of Roseburg, has been promoted to the law department of the general land office at Washington, and will leave Roseburg about the first of next month.

A. J. Borie, of Pendleton, will sever his connection with the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company this month, and, with his wife will leave for Southern California.

The cattlemen in the region south of Ashland have made no sales at all of their fall beef yet. The buyers are offering a little lower figure this year than last, when they offered 2 1/2 gross.

Forest fires raged last week on the east fork of the north fork of Coos river. The fire swept through the great timber, and threatened Peterson's logging camp, but but by hard work, aided by a change in the wind, the logs were saved.

District Attorney Jeffreys will move for the dismissal of the Fiester case in the supreme court. It is thought Josephine county will be rid of it this term, as Feister will either be hanged or sent to the insane asylum. This case has cost Josephine county about $3000 already.

The last of the Niagara mill property was sold at auction last Saturday at Corvallis. This sale virtually brings to an end the Niagara receivership, and Receiver Davis expects to submit shortly his final report, and to bring to an end his receivership at the regular term of court next November.

The cannery at Empire was crowded with fish last week, and orders were issued last Saturday to send it no more salmon for the present. The supply of cans run short, but a shipment was received on the Truckee, and the crew worked extra time to put up the catch.

A Portland business man refused to advertise with a paper there because it was in favor of free silver, and the paper got mad and practically advised free silver men not to trade with the man. Injudicious conduct on the part of both. The live business man seeks for trade wherever he can get it, while the newspaper should never show a failure to get business, whatever the cause, in its columns.

J. E. Moore, committed suicide in San Francisco, Monday, by drowning himself. He was well known in Portland, having served as a special policeman there for several years. He was removed during the early part of Chief Minto's administration, because of his convivial habits, and went to San Francisco, where he succeeded in securing a boat as a special, which he lost for the same reason.

A lady passenger on the Farallon dropped her purse over board, while the steamer was lying at the railroad bunker, in Marshfield, last week. The water is 15 feet deep at low tide where the purse was lost, nevertheless Ed Tower made a dive and recovered it, and on returning it to the owner received a reward of $5. The purse contained over $40.

The difference of opinion as to the cost of electric-lighting of the city between the city council and electric light company of Eugene still keeps that city in darkness. The council finally offered the company $8 50 per month for the necessary arc lights, and if the offer is not accepted, to take steps for the city to run its own electric light plant.

John Abbott's four horse team ran away last Sunday morning on Smith's hill, between Wolf creek and Jump-off Joe, in Josephine county, and struck an ox wagon belonging to Kelley Bros. with such force that the wheel-horse was killed. At the scene of the accident a few years ago, a woman was thrown from a wagon and killed.

The Bandon and Coos Bay canneries have started work, with a fair run of fish at each place. Work has also begun at Smith river, and at Chetco work is expected to begin soon. On the Siletz the new cannery started up with imported fishermen. Several of the Indians say the canneryman offered 15c per fish, but the Indians refused to take it, and, unless given 25 cents, they said they would catch fish and dry and smoke them themselves, as in days gone by.

Eugene Guard: Justice of the Peace Yates' son, aged about 10 years, was injured this morning at Irving by the combustion of a can of boiling water. He filled the can full of water, screwed the lid down tight and then placed the can on a fire. The expansion of steam as the water heated caused the can to explode, one piece of tin striking the boy on the cheek and cutting a gash to the bone.

Governor Lord, Secretary of State Kincaid, State Treasurer Metcham and W. H. O'Dell, clerk of the board of school land commissioners, are in Astoria for the purpose of investigating the question of the value of the tide lands in Clatsop county, taking evidence of the contestants to the lands claimed, and also to decide whether the state has the right to sell certain lands under the title of tide lands.

The Springfield camp, Woodmen of World, has decided to hold a match hunt. Captains have been chosen and the camp divided into two sections. The hunt will be for China pheasants and other game birds. Each bird will represent a certain number of points, and the side scoring the smaller number of points will be obliged to prepare and cook the game killed and provide other refreshments necessary for a fine banquet. Members of the camp and their families will be invited to participate. A good time is expected.

Klamath Falls has just completed a new water works system. Of it the Republican says: Sunday night water was pumped into the reservoir to a depth of seven feet, and Monday afternoon the test was made. For three hours three streams of water from the hydrants ascended 70 feet into the air. Main street was flooded and the water in the reservoir was lowered three feet. The elevation of the reservoir above the power house is 200 feet, affording on Main street a pressure of 85 pounds to the square inch. The reservoir is the largest under cover in the state. Its depth, on an average, is 10 feet; diameter, 60 feet. When full it will run three streams from the hydrants ten hours. The supply of water is from a large living spring of pure, crystal water. There are over two miles of mains, 10,653 feet. The amount of capital expended in the construction of the water works foots up to nearly $19,000, $4000 of which was expended for labor.

The Yaquina's Close Call.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Notwithstanding the efforts to conceal the facts, it leaked out today that the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Yaquina had an exceedingly close call on her recent voyage down the coast from Seattle.

She had been out of Seattle but a day or two when it was discovered she was leaking badly. All hands were ordered out, the pumps manned, and a heroic effort made to get the water out. It was soon found that the hold was filling faster than it could be emptied, and the next order from the bridge was to jettison the cargo. At the same time the steamship's bow was headed for the coast and she made all the speed possible. After much of the coal had been thrown over board, the vessel was found to be light enough to keep afloat with the assistance of her pumps.

The Salem Bridge.

The big holes in the planking of the Polk county end of the big bridge still exist and are not getting any smaller. On the contrary more of the planking is breaking and wearing away, and it is high time that something was done for the safety of those passing over it. The place is getting extremely dangerous and vigorous complaints are daily made by people who have occasion to drive across the bridge into Polk county. If the bridge cannot be repaired it should be closed to travel until such time as adequate repairs can be provided for. A very serious accident is liable to happen any minute, the consequences of which may be far-reaching and expensive to the authorities.—Salem Statesman.

The Astoria Road.

A document was filed for record today whereby the A. & C. R. R. Co. gives to the Central Trust Co. of New York, a blanket mortgage on its line of railway, now constructed and to be constructed from Goble to Tillamook bay for the purpose of securing the payment of a series of 4 per cent first mortgage bonds of one thousand dollars each. These bonds may be issued at the option of the railway company, but shall not aggregate more than eight million dollars or exceed forty thousand dollars for each mile of railroad constructed.—Budget. Work on the road has been temporarily suspended.

Arctic Explorer Nansen Re-Married.

An extraordinary story is current in the European press to the effect that the Arctic explorer, Dr. Nansen, is about to be re-married to his wife, in consequence of the fact that prior to his departure on his last voyage in search of the North Pole, he divorced her in order to permit her to marry again in case of his disappearance or death, without going to the trouble of proving his decease. In order to understand this it must be explained that in many countries in Europe great strictness prevails with regard to the re-marriage of women whose husband's death cannot be legally proved, absence of seven, ten and even fifteen years being required by law to furnish satisfactory evidence that a missing spouse is no longer in the land of the living.

The first creamery butter ever manufactured in Jackson county or that part of Oregon was manufactured at Ashland with the new plant of the Jackson County Creamery Company yesterday. Stock sufficient to start the enterprise was subscribed two months ago, the subscribers being most of them substantial farmers adjacent to Ashland, who made an outlay of $3900 for building and machinery, and seem highly pleased with their investment. The creamery is a model one in every way, with the latest improved machinery for manufacturing butter. Its workings so far seem to be entirely satisfactory. The plant has a capacity for from 6000 to 9000 pounds of milk per day.

Judge Fullerton, at Corvallis Tuesday, ordered the residue of the $100,000, purchase price of the old Oregon Pacific railroad, to be turned over by ex-Clerk Hunter to Clerk Watters. The amount is now reduced to $841 78 and this amount patiently awaits old Oregon Pacific creditors holding claims to call for and carry it away. Some of these creditors are dead, some have gone to distant lands, and how large a portion of $3900 now left will never be called for remains to be seen. Ex-Clerk Hunter got a snug fee for his services in acting as the court's disbursing officer in distributing the $100,000 among the creditors. His claim for the service was $500, and for that amount the court allowed him in full. Mr. Hunter says that more than $200 was paid out by him for clerical work in making the disbursement.

A Clubbing Offer.

A great many of our readers in Linn county like to take the Weekly Oregonian. We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish it at a reduction from the regular price to those who want both the EXPRESS and the Oregonian. The regular price of the Oregonian is $1.50 per year, and of the EXPRESS $1.50 when in advance. We will furnish both for $2. per year in advance, a saving of one dollar to the subscriber. The Oregonian gives all the general news of the country once a week, and the EXPRESS gives all the local news once a week, which will make a most excellent news service for the moderate sum of $2. per year. Those who are at present subscribers of the EXPRESS must pay in all arrears and one year in advance to obtain his special price.

On account of the Oregon Industrial Exposition to be held at Portland, the Southern Pacific Company will sell round trip tickets on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, between Friday, Sept. 18th and Friday, Oct. 16th, at the rate of $5 50 from Lebanon to Portland and return. This includes two admissions to the Exposition.

Kareful, considerate consumers consider considerably concerning clothes cleaning kemical compounds. Beg pardon, but the idea we wish to convey is that those who use Soap Foam washing powder find it does not make the hands sore, nor "yellow the clothes." It is unequalled for the laundry, kitchen or bath.

There's more clothing destroyed by poor soap than by actual wear as the free alkali rots them. Hoe Cake is pure, and only 4 cents.
