STATE AND COAST.

Clipped from our Exchanges Throughout the West.

Politics are very hot throughout the state.

Two trainloads of sheep and cattle will be shipped from Ontario to the Eastern market.

An offer to bet $1000 that Bryan will not be elected has been posted in Ashland for a week or two, but hasn't been taken yet.

It is reported that the government will put in the harbor lights in Coos Bay as soon as the location is decided upon. They will be four in number.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian synod of Oregon will be held in Union, Oct. 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, in the First Presbyterian church.

The bank at Joseph, Wallowa county, was robbed last week. One of the robbers was killed and another wounded, while one with the coin escaped.

The Fort Klamath creamery has made 9000 pounds of butter and four or five tons of cheese. During the season the supply was from 250 cows.

Charles Sandoz will contribute to Wasco county's exhibit at the Portland exposition a squash that is about two feet in diameter and weighs about 117 pounds.

Levi Shepard, of Pine Grove, Klamath county, 81 years of age, is a spry old gentleman. He showed that fact by handling sacks of grain just to show the boys what he could do.

When John Read went up recently to Professor Van Winkle's new summer resort on the mountain, "Summit View," he ran across the bone of a human leg, while out hunting grouse, says the Weston Leader.

Harvey Lockwood and "Zip" Overton, two small boys, while trolling in the Rogue River near Wedderburn, last week, hooked and landed a 40-pound salmon. They hooked another one, which broke the line and escaped.

The contract for building a mill for the Columbia Mining Company, on Fruit creek, in the Cable Cove mining district, has been let to the Gates' Company, of Chicago and the machinery for the mill is on the way.

The poles for 60 miles of telegraph line are being landed at Warrenton, by the Western Union Telegraph Co., says the Astorian. That place is to be made the base of supplies of the entire line from the lower Nehalem to Gobel.

Mrs. G. L. Gilbert, of The Dalles, is one of the possible heirs to a tract of land 60 miles square, where St. Paul and Minneapolis now stand. The heirs are all descendants of Johnathan Carver, one of the early explorers of the headwaters of the Mississippi river.

Bids for building a one-story brick building, to replace the Polk county bank building, were opened last week. The highest bid was $3595 and the lowest $1870. The contract will be awarded Snooks, of Salem, who was the lowest bidder.

William Percival recently purchased 31 head of sheep of D. L. Keyes, of Corvallis, and sold them to J. B. Butler, of Monmouth, for $5 per head. The sheep were of the pure imported Costwold breed, and were as fine sheep as were ever seen in Oregon.

McGuire's opera house, Butte, Mont., was torn down last week because the parties owning the ground and those owning the building could not agree on buying or selling. A large force was put to work quietly and in a few hours the $50,000 building was gone.

The North Bend Mill, on Coos bay, is sawing lumber for Guatemala, Central America. The lumber will be shipped from Marshfield direct, on the Webfoot. This will make the third foreign shipment of lumber from the North Bend mill for 1896.

The Crescent City & Grants Pass telephone people have commenced the construction of a branch line from Anderson's in Josephine county, to the Siskiyou Copper Company's mine, and thence on to Oak Flat, on the Illinois river, where several companies own placer properties. The branch line will be about 20 miles in length.

Sol King, ex-sheriff of Benton county, raised 730 bushels of oats from 14 acres of land, this year. The grain is a new variety; the seed for which Mr. King had shipped at an expense of $3.50 per bushel all the way from the state of Pennsylvania. "Samuel Wilson's prolific side oats" is the name of the new variety, and the seed for the crop was sown in the early days of June.

J. W. Smith, of Jackson county, is busily engaged in grinding sugar cane. His mill is in excellent order this year and his sorghum is a superior article.

The Milton Eagle says that many of the strawberry fields about Milton are producing the second crop of fruit now. Last week George Edwards picked six quarts of fine, ripe fruit from his patch.

The Dalles Chronicle understands that E. C. Wiley, for the last six years chief inspector of the government works at Cascade Locks, has been assigned by the engineers to the care of the big gates, and will do the opening and shutting necessary to let boats through, after November 15.

Last week Mr. Low's house, 16 miles east of Klamath Falls, was destroyed by fire. After building a fire in the kitchen that morning, he went out to the barn to do the milking. When he returned to the house it was in flames, and all that he was able to save was a few clothes and bedding, and a trunk with its contents.

The very novel sight of threshing by moonlight could have been seen on the farm of Mr. Soliss on Griffin creek last Saturday night, says a correspondent of the Medford Mail. The threshers were at work that day and when the shades of night began falling, found they had about four hours work to do to finish the job—so obtained permission to finish by moonlight. After supper they again repaired to the field when after working steadily, completed their work at eighteen minutes before twelve, thus preventing the breaking of the Sabbath.

For some time past a Mr. Durphy, of Portland, has been in Chicago, selling shares of stock in what was represented to be a colossal mining enterprise, in Jackson county, this state. Mr. Durphy represented that his company owned and controlled mining property worth $4,000,000, when the facts were that he (Mr. Durphy), had only a verbal option on the land, and it had already expired. The ground has never been worked, but it is undoubtedly of great value. Chicago investors did not take hold very eagerly, and it is probable that very few people have lost money by this fraud.

Jack Grisby, who lives on the edge of the desert, in Jackson county, was accidentally shot last week. He was sitting in front of his residence, talking with his son, while a little child inside was fooling with a loaded shotgun. The weapon fell to the floor and went off, the lead going through the wall and scattering over Mr. Grisby's body. About two dozen shots lodged about his left shoulder-blade and inflicted painful, though not necessarily dangerous, wounds. A few of the shot also struck his son, but without injuring him much.

In front of Thompson's saloon on Jackson street, in Roseburg, a cutting affray caused considerable excitement early Tuesday night of last week. The real particulars of such disturbances are generally hard to procure, and this one is no exception to the rule, says the Roseburg Review. It seems that Wm. Callahan and Lee Minard had some trouble and the former was ordered out of the house, a command that he obeyed. The quarrel did not stop then, however, Callahan calling Minard outside, an invitation which he accepted. Minard is said to have struck Callahan, and the latter stabbed him with a pocket knife in return on the left side, making a long wound, but not deep enough to be serious.

Then Minard knocked Callahan down and before the two men could be pulled apart, Minard received a long, deep gash in the fleshy part of each leg above the knee. It is said that the length of the three cuts aggregate three feet. Callahan was arrested and arraigned before Justice Hamlin, and held in the sum of $500.

The day of Senator Mitchell and Congressman Hermann's big rally at Eugene, the Guard said: "Julius Goldsmith today has done a rushing business in selling badges. He sold 750 Bryan's and 150 McKinley's." A tobacco drummer in Roseburg the following day confirmed this report, saying that Goldsmith told him he was selling five Bryan to one McKinley badge that day. Another gentleman said that when the procession escorted Mitchell and Hermann up Willamette street from the depot, there was not a cheer from the crowded sidewalks, except an occasional "Hurrah for Bryan!" The people explained it by saying that the McKinley men dared not cheer for fear the Bryan men would drown them out. It seemed to be only a curiosity crowd to see a senator and congressman, and to participate in the barbecue.—Roseburg Review.

TENNESSEE HAPPENINGS.

BY CESAR.

Tuesday, Sept. 29, 1896.
School opened here last week with Miss Annie Blacklaw as teacher, and 17 scholars enrolled.

Mr. J. Swink had the misfortune to have both his fine dry houses burned while picking hops.

Mike Schere had 204 days harvesting. Very well for this season.

C. D. McKnight has hauled lumber for a residence. He will move to Tenn. this fall.

William Ross returned home recently from Big Bottom where he has been teaching school.

Sherman Wallace and his sister Allie, have gone to McMinnville to attend school this winter.

Miss Monna Fronk left here Saturday and began teaching school Monday.

Walter Davis and Chas. Swink are working for Mr. Bridges, of Spicer.

There will be a spelling school next Friday. We hope a good attendance will be on hand. Probably a literary society will be organized in a few days.

Geo. Ross, Jr., has returned from the mountains. He killed five deer and one wild cat. He had the misfortune of losing three fine horses on the trip.

It is probable that a singing school class will be organized here before long.

Elbert Munsey "pulled his freight" for Eastern Oregon recently. It is said for a neighborhood to lose the best friend it has got, but nevertheless there must be a parting some day, and it just as well be now as next spring. "No more pleasant drives to Corvallis."

Rides a Wheel at Eighty.

Miss Christenia Yates, of Oakland, Cal., claims the distinction of being the oldest wheelwoman on the coast. She is proud of the record she has made a wheel, and stands ready to meet any woman of her age on the coast, either in a contest of skillful riding or as a matter of endurance. Miss Yates is 80 years old. She says that age does not count when it comes to riding a bicycle. She can wheel her way over the roughest roads and seldom gets weary.

Miss Yates resides at 960 Grove street, where she can be seen almost any day going out for her exercise. She gave an exhibition of riding the other day at Jefferson Park in the presence of a number of people. The way she sailed around the paths and cut the figure 8 with a wheel was a revelation to a few young damsels who were inclined to make fun of the aged cyclist.

Pioneer Gone.

Dr. J. F. Hendrick, of Harrisburg, who died Tuesday night, Sept. 29, 1896, at 11:30 o'clock, was born in Knoxville, Tenn., May 27, 1826, he studied medicine in New Orleans in 1851 and 1852 and came to the coast in 1853, residing awhile in California and British Columbia. He graduated from the Willamette University in 1856. He resided in Canyon City three years, then in Lebanon and in Harrisburg where he afterwards resided. He was married in 1867, his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Dr. W. H. Davis, of this city, surviving him. He was a man of ability, prominent as a local writer and in politics, and leaves a good record as a citizen.—Democrat.

Read, Peacock & Co. has sleeveless under vests for ladies from 5c to 50c

One-half wool dress goods reduced to 10 cts., and bleached, all linen table cloth for 35 cts. a yard, at the Racket Store.

There's more clothing destroyed by poor soap than by actual wear as the free alkali rots them. Hoe Cake is pure, and only 5 cents.

Go to Peebler's and get 40 pounds of band for $1.

To Albany on a Tandem.

W. D. Wallace and T. N. Stoppenback accomplished the feat of riding to Albany on a tandem within 24 hours, the distance ridden being 143.3 miles. H. B. Hewitt accompanied them as far as Albany and back to Hubbard, when trouble with his chain on account of the rain and mud compelled him to stop for repairs. Messrs. Wallace and Stoppenback left Portland at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning and got back Thursday at 4:30 o'clock. The trip was fine until the riders started out from Salem on the return, when heavy rain set in and the riding became very difficult, the roads being so slippery that they were frequently obliged to walk. 11 hours and 50 minutes were consumed coming in from Salem, much of the distance being covered on the track of the Southern Pacific. There riders were a little the worse for wear, but thankful for pulling through without accident.—Oregonian.

Indicted on Three Charges.

George F. McConnell, the defaulting treasurer and keeper of records and seal of the Oregon Knights of Pythias, was indicted in Portland on three charges of forgery of indorsement of bills of exchange. The first is the forgery of a bill of exchange for $33 on the First National bank of Corvallis, July 14, 1896. The name of E. M. Sargent was forged. Eight witnesses appeared before the grand jury. The second is a bill of exchange on the First National bank of Hillsboro, for $53, with the name of E. M. Sargent forged on the back. The third is for $54 on the Eugene Loan and Savings bank, issued on the London and San Francisco bank of Portland.

Didn't Take a Paper.

Mr. J. E. Burch, several years ago, was a frequent visitor in Baker City when he was traveling route agent of the Pacific Express Company, now located in Ogden, Utah, in employ of the same company, is in Baker City, and was a caller at the Democrat last evening, says that paper. Mr. Burch is the holder of $2,000 in Baker county warrants, principal and interest which he has just ascertained are among the $17,000 of advertised warrants cancelled at the last term of the county court. Mr. Burch is at a loss to know what to do to be reimbursed and feels his predicament keenly and which could have been averted had he been a subscriber to the Democrat. Here is a moral: Don't speculate in a town or county without subscribing for the leading newspaper of the place of investment.

A Clubbing Offer.

A great many of our readers in Lincoln county like to take the Weekly Oregonian. We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish it at a reduction from the regular price to those who want both the EXPRESS and the Oregonian. The regular price of the Oregonian is $1.50 per year, and of the EXPRESS $1.50 when in advance. We will furnish both for $2. per year in advance, a saving of one dollar to the subscriber. The Oregonian gives all the general news of the country once a week, and the EXPRESS gives all the local news once a week, which will make a most excellent news service for the moderate sum of $2. per year. Those who are at present subscribers of the EXPRESS must pay in all arrears and one year in advance to obtain his special price.

Baker has just received a nice line of ladies and gentlemen's Mackintoshes to sell after McKinley is elected on Nov. 3.

There's no clay, flour, starch or other worthless filling in Hoe Cake and no free alkali to burn the hands.

You can get Prices Baking Powder for 30c. per pound, every can guaranteed. Arm & Hammer soda 4 cents a pound at Peebler's.
