A reliable friend of this paper residing at Ione, has been keeping tab on the poultry and egg business of that little city for his past year and his figures are interesting reading. There was a total of 39,948 dozen eggs shipped to the outside market besides an estimated amount of 3,850 dozen sold by the local dealers to their city and country trade. This does not take into account what was purchased by the people direct from the producer but taking the figures as given above and multiplying this by the average price paid 25 cents per dozen and you have the neat sum of $10,827 which was disbursed among the poultry raisers for the eggs alone. There was also shipped from Ione during this period 20,000 of chickens, turkeys, geese and ducks which were sold at the average price of 12 1/2 cents per pound, adding $2500 more to the account and making a total of $13,327 realized by these people on their poultry for the past year. As stated before this does not, of course represent the full amount realized, but it does give an estimate of what the industry has meant to the people of our neighboring city and the farmers who trade there. The poultry industry in Morrow county is only in its infancy and when we begin to get into the business as we should these figures will be greatly multiplied. Ione has been the principal shipping point so far and the people down that way are becoming more and more interested in this line, just as they are all over the country. It should not be many years before Morrow county will be recognized as leading every other section of the state in the production of poultry and eggs. We have the climate can raise the feed, and all the conditions necessary to the success of the business are here and our people will not be slow in taking hold of this industry from now on. In the meantime prepare for the big show of the Morrow County Poultry Association this coming winter.

The tragic death of a bright, promising boy at Lexington this week, at the hands of a school-mate, caused a severe shock to the entire community. It was indeed sad, and not the least unfortunate feature touching the tragedy is the apparent indifference of the lad who is responsible for the taking off of a fellow being. There seems to be but little value placed on the life of a human being by too many people these days, and this would appear from all the facts that we gather, to be a case of criminal recklessness. A boy who has reached the age of 15 years is certainly responsible for his acts, and to do a thing of this nature shows that he is devoid of a proper conception of the value of human life, is a dangerous person to be at large, and should be dealt with accordingly. On the one hand a home is bereft of a bright and promising boy; on the other, the parents have brought to the deepest grief and suffering because of the thoughtless action of one of their number. Let the boys of our community take a lesson from this sad occurrence and have a thought always for the little fellows with whom they come in contact at school and elsewhere.

Hon. W. R. Ellis is in Heppner looking up his old-time friends and repairing political fences. This paper mentioned last week that it was our opinion that of all the present aspirants for congressional honors from this district, Mr. Ellis stands at the head. By reason of his long years of service in Congress he is "on to the ropes," and easily takes a place of leadership. No doubt the other gentlemen seeking the nomination are excellent men, but they are new and any one of them would have to spend the greater part of his term in getting shaped up to do any actual work. Mr. Ellis because of his experience, will not have to do this. He was always a quiet but persistent worker for Oregon's interests and accomplished much for the state during his terms of service at Washington.

The office of Commissioner is an important one and should be filled by a man who is conversant with the needs of the county. M. A. Bates, of Hardman has announced himself a candidate for nomination to this office on the republican ticket. He has been a resident of the south end of the county for a long number of years and during a greater part of this time has served the people of his precinct as justice of the peace. Mr. Bates is well qualified for the new office to which he aspires, and it now looks as though he would be nominated without opposition.

Last Friday Sheriff Hayes received a check for $23,938.98 being full payment of the taxes of the O. W. R. & N. Co. on its property in Morrow county. The company received a rebate of $740.39 for full payment before March 15. The original tax of the company was $24,679.37. Of the amount paid $18,155.30 will go to the County Funds and the balance to the School districts and towns through which the company's property is located. The Northern Pacific paid a tax of $3,776.21 on its lands in Morrow county, and received a rebate of $116.79 for full payment. The Sheriff has received taxes to the amount of over $40000.00 up to and including March 15. This amount represents over one-third of the total taxes of the county.

Industrial Education Consents

Several hundred copies of the O. A. C. Bulletin will be sent out from the County Superintendent's office this week to teachers, pupils and parents. These bulletins should be read and preserved. There are not enough to furnish a copy to each pupil, but it is hoped that every family may have one. I have a few copies left, so if you fail to secure a copy or the use of a copy, let me know, and I will send you one. These bulletins contain information concerning the industrial education contests.

The contestants for the county prizes will be divided into two classes; those over 12 years old will constitute Class A and those 12 and under, Class B. There will be four prizes for chickens, the best three, in each class. The prizes will be worth $5, $3, $2, and $1. For the other articles, there will be three prizes in each class, and they will be worth at least $3, $2, and $1. There will be contests for the following: Pigs, net lamb, potatoes, (plate of five), field corn (five stalks) on irrigated land, field corn (five stalks) on non-irrigated land, squash, bread, butter, can of fruit, glass of jelly, hand-made apron, water-melon, piece of furniture, and grain selections. There will be a special prize of $1000. for the best article on "Back to the Farm", by pupil under 15 years of age.

The committees have been appointed to solicit the prizes. However, if you desire to offer any prize do not wait for the committees to call upon you, but send word to the committees or to the undersigned. In the list of prizes for the State Fair there are pigs, chickens, sheep, calves, ponies, dogs, furniture, sewing machines, tools, incubators, and books, donated by persons interested.

If you prefer to give cash, it will be used to the best advantage in the prize list. Merchants may prefer to give due bills for so much merchandise, allowing the winner to select what he likes from their stock.

It is thought that the best time for the contest in this county will be the week prior to the Pendleton fair. Let every boy and girl in the county enter one or more of these contests. Even if you should not win a prize, you will learn something worthwhile and may produce something of sufficient value to pay you many times over for your trouble.

There may be a number of special prizes for other products not mentioned in the regular list. Anyone desiring to offer special prizes should notify the committee or me at an early date.

Respectfully,
S. E. NOTSON, Co. Supt.
