John B. Ratto.

John B. Ratto, famous throughout the entertainment world, as a characterist, brings to the platform the experience of more than a dozen years as a "headliner."

Ratto's entertainment is so popular that he has the distinction of having a total of 275 dates booked for the season of 1911-12. And for this there is a reason, and the reason is that Ratto's entertainment is "different." Mr. Ratto, by the skilful use of theatrical grease paints, wigs, etc., "makes up" his characters in full view of the audience. In the course of one evening he presents from twelve to eighteen characters. So perfect is the illusion that people imagine that he is assisted by confederates.

But this is only one phase of Ratto's art. He is an actor, a dramatic interpreter of the first order. With every character make-up he presents a scene or an appropriate reading and all with such perfect art that the audience moves from laughter to tears, from tragedy to comedy. He will be in Heppner April 22.

PINE CITY.

Chas. Bartholomew was a Heppner visitor Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neill were Heppner visitors Friday.

I. C. Cox and family and Mr. Payne visited at R. F. Wiglesworth's.

Geo. Leftwich went to Heppner Thursday to have his eyes treated.

Miss Goodall and Harve Coxen were callers at Earl Wiglesworth's Sunday afternoon.

News is scarce this week but the farmers are getting pretty well through with their spring work and perhaps there will be more to write next week.

Mr. Caniff recently traded his ranch here to a Mr. Martin from the coast country. Mr. Martin has moved his family onto the Caniff place but for the present he is working for C. H. Bartholomew.

There was an "April fool" party on Butter Creek last week. Several of the youngsters went about ten miles, supposing there was going to be a party while others got ready and waited for the conveyance which did not come, and others started and only got part way. All took it good natured and had a lot of fun over it.

PARKERS MILL.

Mr. Ayers and wife went to Heppner this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Roberts have gone to the John Day country for a few days.

Miss Grace Crowdon goes to Reid's mill today to help do the cooking for the mill hands.

L. E. Hogeland has moved camp over to the Stacy Roberts place where he will cut one hundred cords of wood.
 Mr. Walter Drumm had a runaway last week. You must hold to the ribbons, Walt, when you start the old gray mare.

Mrs. C. M. Hogeland is preparing to start her incubator in a few days. She will soon be headquarters for buff Orpingtons.

The winter grain that is out of the snow looks fine in this neck of the woods. There is snow to the depth of two and a half feet on the north hillsides yet.

We notice that some one has stolen the heading of the Parker Mill reporter to attach to his cow advertisements and other nefarious ads that he dare not stand behind.

We notice there is a land slide in the county road in District No. 6, about one hundred yards on the breast and one hundred feet up the hill, to the depth of from three to five feet.

It may be to your interest to get my prices before buying watches, clocks or jewelry. C. R. Johnson, Jeweler.
