O.-W. R. & N. CO.

OFFERS PRIZES.

Are Interested in Getting Good Exhibits For Tri-Co.
Fair.

At the Tri-County Fair to be held at Clendon this Fall the O. W. R. & N. Co. has agreed to offer the following cash prizes for the best 12 ears of field corn exhibited at that time.

These will be $12 for first prize; $10 for second prize; $5 for third prize; $3 for fourth prize and $2 for fifth prize.

The conditions of the contest will be as follows:

The corn is to be grown by dry farming methods, and each exhibitor is to furnish a statement at the time of making entry giving the location of section and town, describing the method of preparation, time of planting, method of cultivation, how often cultivated, approximate yield of grain and fodder, and time of harvesting; the prize-winning ears to become the property of the Company for exhibition purposes.

This is a worthy move on the part of the Company and there should be lively competition on the part of the farmers of this county in participating in the contest. We should get first prize money.

For Sale—A low-wheeled, narrow tire wagon, in good shape.
Now ready to set header box on.
Can be seen at the Samuel Leffer place. Inquire at this office. 3t.

Managar Sparks of the Star Theater, while in Portland the past week purchased a new player piano, one of the very latest out, and the same will be installed at once, promising to be a great addition to the theater in its ability to furnish good music.

Married, at the home of Mr.
Winters, Monday morning at 7:30, Mr. John R. Jordan, of Echo, Oregon, and Miss Margaret L.
Bradley of Heppner, Rev. E. P.
Warren officiating. The bridegroom is a young business man of Echo, Ore. and the bride one of our choicest young ladies, and was known as the "hello" girl.
The happy young couple took the morning train for Pendleton.

Dr. W. E. Vaughn, editor of Pacific Methodist Advocate of M.
E. church South, San Francisco, will come to Heppner Friday evening and go out to Liberty Saturday, preaching there Sunday morning and returning to preach the sermon Sunday evening at the Christian church at 8, this being the union service of all the churches and then the Dr. will go to Lexington to speak Monday night at the methodist church.

Married, Wednesday morning at 7:30, at the home of Wiley Wattenburger, Mr. Julian J.
Chisholm, of Pendleton, Ore. and Miss May Rose Wattenburger, of Heppner, Rev. E. P. Warren officiating. The bridegroom is a promising young business man, and the bride one of our best young school teachers of Morrow county. The young people took the morning train for Pendleton, their future home.

Wm. Skinner, the Lone Rock stage driver, was quite seriously hurt on Monday evening by the overturning of his rig on the grade coming into Heppner. The accident was caused by an obstreper-ous mule who chose this point on the grade to start a runaway.
Mr. Skinner was thrown from the rig which turned over on him.
A mule was also carried over on its back and the race ended right near where it started. The old gentleman is off the job for a few days for repairs, and the mules are going along as if nothing had happened.

W. P. Scrivner has on exhibition at his shop one of the Rumley Oil Turn engines. These engines are designed for all purposes, stationary and portable in sizes from 3-horse to 15-horse power.
He has the agency for this class of engines as well as the Oil Pull tractor. Any one interested in small engines should call and see this sample. He is agent also for the Rumley line of Separators.
Any one having the Gar Scott machinery or the Advance machinery should see Mr. Scrivner for repairs and all extras.
He can sell you any of these lines of machinery.

PINE CITY.

W. W. Howard lost a valuable mare last week.

R. F. Wigglesworth made a business trip to Heppner Friday.

Mr. Chas. Despain and wife are visiting at T. D. Mathews.

The high water last week spoiled about three acres of garden for Roy Neil.

W. E. Wigglesworth and family and L. C. Cox and family and Arthur Avers visited at R. F. Wigglesworth's Sunday.

Every one is busy with the hay at the present writing and all report the best crop that has been for years in the Butter creek country.

C. H. Bartholomew is running the haying crew at T. D. Mathews and will move the outfit to his place in a few days to put up his crop.

Elbert Cox went to take the last band of the Wigglesworth sheep into the mountains Mr. Morris was sick and went to Heppner for medical treatment.

The annual school meeting was held at the Pine City school house Monday, the 17th. Mr. J. T. Ayers was re-elected director for three years and R. F. Wigglesworth clerk. Miss Beulah Barker was hired to teach the winter school.

This locality was visited by one of the heaviest rains of the season last Thursday, but no damage was done aside from washing down a few rocks into the road and taking out a small bridge or two. The roads in some places are almost impassible.

SAND HOLLOW.

R. B. Rice lost a cow last week.

Mrs. Clark did some sewing for Miss Smith last week.

Harry Clark, of Montana, is visiting his brother, B. S. Clark.

O. S. Hodson sold several head of fat cattle to Mr. Blake of Ione.

Gene Gray and wife, were at M. L.
Bundy's last Saturday and Sunday.

Smith Towne arrived Saturday from Spokane to help B. B. Rice in harvest.

Roy Tyle, who was over here hauling his horses, found them in Echo.

Charley Gray and Sadie McCormick spent Sunday with M. L. Bundy and family.

Mr. Coppock and daughter, of Pendleton, are visiting his son, Frank, at South Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott were visiting W. L. Copenhaver and family the first of the week.

The fine rain last week has been a great benefit to grain as much of it was shrivelling for lack of moisture.

Mrs. Rice left Monday for the East where she expects to stay several months visiting her parents and friends.

Our S. S. was represented by Miss Winnie Smith and Carl Miller at the picnic. Sorry we could not have more but these are very busy days for our farmers.

People seldom stop to consider how much their town means to them.
They take it too much for granted, and in counting up their blessings make a superficial inventory that fails to credit the source from which many of their dearest benefits flow. It is easy to overlook the home town in summing up one's happiness because the town is such a large, all-enveloping thing—so large, in fact that it's hard to see—and the citizen blindly draws sustenance from it like an infant from its mother.

Traced to their source most of life's blessings will be found to have their root in that aggregation of human beings and human interests known as a town. The town is the unit of modern civilization and it is the channel through which civilization confers its benefits. There is scarcely a phase of civilization that does not find direct and specific expression in the life organization of a town that is large enough to have a school, a courthouse, a library, a bank, a mill, a factory, a church, a waterworks, a brass band, a newspaper, and a railroad station. Representing education, jurisprudence, literature, finance, industry, religion, hygiene, art, and the commodities these institutions express all that is highest and best in human achievement. If civilization is good, then the home town is good, and the citizens should be proud and thankful of it. Instead of casting wondering and envious glances at a distant New York, let us glow with pride for our own little city, realizing that the difference is only one of degree and not of kind.

This town was built around the first store, not around a mail order catalogue.—Dallas Chronicle.
