

BRIEF LOCAL MENTION

Go to Law, The Cleaner. Shoes made or repaired at Johnson's. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Douglas, Sunday, October 1, a daughter.

Geo. R. Wilbur was in The Dalles last week in the interest of his campaign for joint senatorship of Hood River and Wasco counties. Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, who has been residing with the family of her son-in-law, C. S. Craton, of Barrett, is visiting her daughters at Roseburg.

You Can Afford good shoes— Real comfort, lasting style and a satisfactory fit are worth all we ask for The Florsheim SHOE Good Shoes are the only kind that you can afford.

Common Sense Dictates comfortable wearing apparel. As the colder weather comes on take care of your health its worth more than money to you. WARM UNDERWEAR, HOSIERY, DRY SHOES often save you many times their cost by protecting you from doctors' bills and loss of valuable time from your business. Frank A. Cram

Nap-a-tan Shoes Keep Dry Feet

A. F. Adams has purchased from E. L. Smith a residence on State street formerly occupied by the family of Mr. Smith's daughter, Mrs. O. J. Nelson, who now lives in Portland. Mr. Adams and family are making their home in the newly purchased place.

Friends of E. C. F. Knowles, formerly a local orchardist, have been appointed to the office of general Pacific coast agent of a large fire insurance company. Mr. Knowles' headquarters are in San Francisco.

W. S. Kaestner, who has purchased from Frank Cady, the latter now a resident of Gresham, a 15 acre West Side orchard tract, has arrived here with his family to make his home. Mr. Kaestner was formerly in the machinery business in Chicago.

John A. Wilson, who with Mrs. Wilson, has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Hinsh, at North Beach, Wn., returned home Sunday. Accompanied by Mrs. Hinsh and little daughter, Nancy Lee, he returned to Hood River. Portland this week for a visit before returning home.

Miss Georgia Lynn, who has been at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland recovering from an operation, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to the home of her grandfather, Mr. B. Byerlee, in St. John's addition. Miss Lynn will accompany her mother, Mrs. G. H. Lynn, home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thornton and daughter, of Burley, Idaho, were here the first of the week looking over the valley. Mr. Thornton is a great booster for his home country. "We are on the Minidoka project," he said, "and electricity is about the cheapest thing we have. A large percentage of our homes are chimneyless, heat being furnished by electricity."

News of the Woman's Club In an auditorium transformed with automatic lights and huge dabbles the Woman's club last Wednesday resumed work after a vacation of several months. The following delegates were elected to represent the club at the coming convention at Seaside: Mrs. C. H. Sletton, Mrs. C. E. Coffin, Miss Ella Mae Davidson, Mrs. L. W. Bentley; alternates, Mrs. J. W. Ingalls, Mrs. J. E. Ferguson, Mrs. F. S. Smith and Mrs. N. E. Fertig.

After the business meeting Mrs. Root sang in her usual charming manner and Mrs. Coffin delighted the ladies with several selections on the piano. Mrs. Eastner followed with a report of the biennial convention held at New York with a bouquet of flowers as a mark of esteem from the club and was tendered an informal reception by the members present. The afternoon closed with light refreshments.

The next meeting, October 11, will be given to helping the philanthropic committee, with Mrs. Wm. Stewart and two assistants in charge. The occasion will be out of the ordinary, it being planned to meet at nine o'clock in the morning in order to devote a full day to fixing up garments for distribution among the needy. Each lady is requested to bring an article of clothing in good condition, preferably new, and these will be altered or finished to suit special cases. There will be a sewing machine at library hall, where the meeting will be held. Coffee will be served at noon, but each lady is asked to bring her own luncheon. All ladies interested in this kind of work are invited to join with the members of the club, so remember the time and place. Library hall, Wednesday, October 11 at 9 o'clock in the morning.

"I'm off to dinner," shouted Glen Hunt, an assistant at the creamery, the other day, slamming shut the door to the plant's engine room. Young Mr. Hunt thought Superintendent Blum was in the basement. In fact, Mr. Blum and W. B. McGuire were in the refrigerator room inspecting some butter. Both men shouted to the plant's engineer, and hereafter the temperature in the storage room kept below the freezing point, and in their thin garments the men were beginning to suffer acutely. After having been prisoners for more than half an hour, they succeeded in attracting the attention of an orchardist who had brought in his day's cream.

Holman Buys Out Father E. M. Holman has purchased from his father, J. T. Holman, the latter's valley. Mr. Holman has been in connection with his meat market business. Mr. Holman will conduct a grocery store. E. M. Holman has been in business on the Heights for the past seven years. He has worked up an enviable trade and his place of business has become an institution in the city. The elder Mr. Holman will retire from business.

Hoffman Arrested in Portland Wanted here on a charge of beating a Hotel Oregon board bill, A. W. Hoffman was apprehended and taken into custody Monday by Portland authorities. He was returned to this city. Hoffman has been working for a bridge crew at Stevenson, Wash., and claimed that he was awaiting receipt of wages when he left. Brought here by Officer Olinger, the man paid his bill and was permitted to go.

POLITICS DIVIDE YOUNG AMERICA A greater evidence of partisan politics is at present being displayed among the "Young America" of Hood River than among the elders. The small boys of the lower city residence section have organized a "Hughes Army." A little log house, formerly the playhouse of the daughters of S. E. Bartmess, was commandeered as chief fort.

Residents night a contingent of boys, residents of the Heights section, who have organized the "Wilson Army," attacked the fort. Kelsey Slocum and William Young, chief scouts of the Hughes forces, warned of the approach of the attackers, rallied some dozen of their fellow fighters to the defense of the fortification. A strong rubber band at the breech end of a piece of woodstave water pipe, which was thrust through a window of the log hut, was used in effectively hurling the plentiful scorn ammunition at the foe. Attacked and attackers alike made use of the acorns in bean shoots.

Brosius Gets High Score E. E. Brosius, lieutenant of the recently organized local company of Coast Artillery, O. N. G., has received word that his score in rifle practice at Fort Lawton, where he recently participated as a student at the Citizens' Training camp, was the highest registered. Mr. Brosius in the 200 to 600 yard contests, slow and rapid fire, using the regulation army rifle, made a score of 301 out of a possible 350.

Private Light Systems Installed Within a radius of 100 yards in the western part of the city are three private electric lighting systems, supplying light and heat for residences. Fred Vogel, F. B. Snyder and Arthur Reeves have harnessed the waste water from the old city spring and are making it drive their private dynamos. In each instance the men have installed the plants themselves, working at them during spare hours and on Sundays.

Upper Valley News The earliest frost for eight years and the hardest freeze for early October for that period prevailed over the Upper Valley Tuesday night. Minimum temperatures at different points were as follows: Valley Crest, 28; Parkdale, 24; Mount Hood, 24; Woodworth, 24. Vegetables were killed and apples and peaches will probably suffer where the sun shines on them. Rev. W. H. Body will preach Sunday as follows: Mount Hood at 11 a. m. and Valley Crest at 3 p. m.
