Fernwood 563—G. K. Fesler, master; lecturer not given; Mrs. L. L. Stetson, secretary, Port Orchard.

Organized May 14th by D. J. Davis with 21 members.

Chesaw 437—U. S. Wiltfong, master; Mrs. L. H. Wilder, lecturer; Mrs. Jas. Ritchie, secretary, Chesaw. Re-organized March 21st by I. J. Dunn with 16 members.

There are several more in the process of formation and we hope to, ere the state meeting, be able to report at least two more organizations.

Fraternally yours,
FRED W. LEWIS,

Secretary Washington State Grange.

MILK SCORING CONTEST.

Winners were announced Wednesday, May 20, in the Seattle pure milk contest, the first of a series of three to be held for silver trophies offered by the King County Medical Society. F. H. Bothell, of the government department of agriculture, and Dr. W. D. Mack, chief milk inspector of Portland, acted as judges of the contest, and their scores were averaged with those made by the local department from January 1st to May 18th, so that the winners take rank as having the best average for that period and for the special week of scoring just closed.

Tests in the certified class and the raw milk class showed an excellent average. The pasteurized product ranked third in the opinion of Inspector Bothell.

MAPLEWOOD FARM WINS FIRST.

The first award in the certified class went to J. D. Farrell, of the Maplewood farm, with an average of 96.88, considered to be a remarkably good record. None of the competitors in this class fell below 93.37 per cent.

G. H. Cheever, who has his establishment in the university district, won first in the raw market class, and the Cloverleaf dairy in the pasteurized class.

All of the milk submitted for test by the dairies was displayed at the child welfare exhibit in the Armory.

A. N. Henderson, chief of the bureau of milk inspection of the city,

Harvest Quicker and Cheaper

On an average, the Holt Combined Harvester will harvest and thresh your crop $5 an acre cheaper than you can do it in any other way. See the detailed figures in our harvester catalog. You need fewer horses, fewer men (remember, men are hard to get during harvest), and you clean the work up quick while grain is ripe.

Holt Harvesters, built for the Northwest, are equipped with a leveling device. On the sidehills, it keeps the separator perfectly level and you can work just as well as on level ground.

HOLT Combined Harvesters

Our motor harvesters carry economy one step further by cutting almost in half the number of horses needed for hauling. Sold complete, or motor can be attached to any ground-driven machine already in use.

For the convenience of Holt owners, we have stocks of harvester parts at 85 points throughout the Northwest. Repairs can be made on short notice and your machine kept constantly in the field.

We make harvesters in all sizes and capacities of from 15 to 75 acres per day. Here are details of the sidehill machines:

Model	Width of Cut in Feet	Acre Capacity Per Day	Horses Needed
Baby Special	10 - 12	15 - 20	12 - 20
Junior Holly	14 - 18	25 - 35	18 - 24
Oregon Special	18 - 24	30 - 50	26 - 32.

Tom Profit Discusses Blades

—like a pocket knife that a fellow can tote around for years, an' love because it's old an' tried an' true.

I like to know that the steel in the blades is a stayer an' a good reliable bit of metal. I've carried a Keen Kutter Pocket Knife now for ten year an' it's a good bit worn from a good many rubs—but even ten years hasn't rubbed the gumption out of my knife. 'Bout five year ago I started to usin' a Keen Kutter Junior Safety Razor an' now I wouldn't use any other kind for hire. No, sir! I keep my blades as sharp as frost on a Keen Kutter Automatic Stropper an' there's no man wears a smoother face than I do. He couldn't. Keen Kutter blades, knife or safety, are right. If they ain't, the dealer is authorized to hand back the price. But you'd ruther have the blades. Yes, sir!
