NEW ENGLAND'S SENTIMENTS.

A large part of the great influence which New England has wielded in the councils of the nation and through its progressive institutions has been because of the general unanimity of the six States on most important questions, enabling them to act as a unit. This is not now perhaps so true of political affairs as it once was, but in most matters there is a substantial agreement of opinion. Just at present this is shown in the universal commendation of Atholophors, praises of which come from all quarters of every State. A few of them follow:

"I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for the last three years," says E. Parkhurst, of Woonsocket, R. I., "having been unable to do any active labor during that time, and for a large portion of the time being confined to my bed. I had taken hundreds of dollars worth of medicine, with no relief, until I was induced to try a bottle of Atholophors. The first three doses resulted in my having the best night's sleep that I had enjoyed for three years, and by the time the first bottle was taken I realized that I was on the road to complete recovery. I have since taken six bottles and am now able to attend to my business and consider myself a well man."

Mrs. C. N. Paige, of Boltonville, Vt., says:

"I first saw Atholophors advertised in a paper, and as it was only recommended for rheumatism and neuralgia I had great faith to believe it could do me some good. My husband, therefore, sent for a bottle. I had been a great sufferer from neuralgia for years, and had spells when no one who saw me thought I could live. Many times I have wished death would end my agony. The pain would commence in the pit of my stomach and go from there right through my heart. I had employed doctors who were thought very skillful, but I got no benefit from them. I had these spells every two or three weeks for over two years before taking Atholophors. That was one year ago last April and I have had only two of them since, the last one during the winter. I look then part of another bottle and have had none since. Words can never express the relief I feel at being rid of such agony as I suffered when I had those spells."

Mrs. Harriet Strong, of Westville, Ct., tells this straight-forward story:

"I had the rheumatism, which settled in my knees and hips. The joints were so stiff and the pain so great that I could not walk, but was obliged to move around in a chair. Several doctors did all they could for me, but I was no better. While in this condition, sitting in my chair by the window reading a paper, I saw an advertisement of Atholophors. I thought I would try it and sent for a bottle. When they brought it to me I told them I considered it a dollar thrown away, as I had not a particle of faith, but I commenced taking it and after the third dose I thought I felt a change for the better. I continued to use it as directed until I had taken four bottles. Strange as it may seem, I am perfectly cured and am about the house all day, doing all the housework, with not a bit of rheumatism about me. I can never return thanks enough to the parties that make Atholophors for the benefit I have derived from its use. I recommend it to everybody."

If you cannot get ATHOLOPHORS of your druggist, we will send it to you on receipt of ten cents per bottle. We prefer to have you buy it from your druggist, but if he cannot get it for you, we will send it to you free of charge. It affords great relief & comfort to the sufferer who has ordinary rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc. It is a powerful and reliable remedy, and is absolutely safe. Price, 25 cents per bottle. #### Bristol.

A brother of the Wilson Bros. from the West is visiting them.

The lyceum at Holly hall has been closed for repairs.

N. H. Munsil of Malone, N. Y., was in town over Sunday.

Our merchants report good sales of Christmas goods.

Edwin Meader lost his pocket book, containing twelve dollars, last Monday.

Last week Thursday was "poultry day" for Christmas here. A large quantity changed hands.

Ezekiel Hanchett has so far recovered from his broken leg as to get about on crutches.

The graded school is flourishing, with an attendance of nearly 200 in all the departments.

There was a Christmas tree at the Baptist church on Wednesday evening and at the Methodist Thursday evening.

Rev. P. B. Strong and wife go to their former home in York State to spend the holidays.

Logs are coming into the yard of the Bristol Manufacturing company quite freely. Wood is also coming in. It sells for $1.50 and $2.00 for stove wood.

The sick people are Mrs. G. W. Parmelee, confined to her bed most of the time; James Bain, no better; Alva Bush, in feeble health.

The festival given by the Methodist ladies, at the parsonage, last week Tuesday evening, was well attended and a success financially.

Miss Lucia Munsil died last week Wednesday. Miss Munsil was a member of the Baptist church and a sister of the late Judge H. Munsil. Her age was 81 years.

Cornwall.

The new seats for the town hall have arrived and have been put in place by Selectman P. N. Cobb.

Joseph King has purchased the house and lot formerly owned by Mrs. Achsah Sampson, and will take possession soon.

The Y. W. C. T. U. of Cornwall will give an entertainment in the town hall Tuesday evening, Dec. 29. This entertainment will consist of a drama, recitations, tableaux and music. Doors open at 6:30; exercises commence at 7 o'clock. All are invited.

Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Stebbins spent last week at Nashua, N. H., in attendance upon the 29th anniversary of the founding of the First Congregational church of that place, it being the church that Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins first united with. Mr. Stebbins took a prominent part in the exercises.

Shoreham.

Rev. Mr. Curtis of Chicopee, Mass., has occupied the Congregational pulpit for two Sundays. It is hoped he will stay some time with us.

Owing to a combination of circumstances, the drama which was to have been given the 23d of December is postponed for a week or two. Notice will be given as soon as arrangements can be completed.

Again the wedding bells have pealed forth a merry chime in Shoreham. About ninety friends from various parts of the State and a brother of the bridegroom from Kansas gathered in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Wright, Wednesday morning, Dec. 16, to witness the marriage of their daughter, Mary, and Mr. Henry C. Caswell of San Antonio, Texas. During the wedding march, finely executed by Miss Meda Forbes, the bride and groom, accompanied by two little cousins of the bride, Misses Edith Jones and Ella Hathorn, took their place in the same room in which the bride's parents were united over twenty-five years ago. Amid beautiful flowers, surrounded by friends, the twin were made one in Rev. Mr. Calhoun's most happy manner. Mr. Caswell is one of the noblest young men Shoreham has ever sent forth and has shown excellent taste in selecting one of her fairest daughters to be the light of his Southern home. Congratulations were telegraphed them by friends in San Antonio. Many elegant and costly testimonials of love and esteem were received by the happy pair. The best wishes of the entire community attend them for a long life crowned with blessings. After a bountiful feast of goodies and a shower of rice and boots and shoes, Mr. and Mrs. Caswell left for Middlebury, where they took the evening train for New York; taking in Washington and New Orleans on their way to Texas. The occasion was one of the pleasantest we were ever permitted to enjoy; only saddened by regrets that we cannot retain them with us. Our Southern friends receive our hearty congratulations for such an acquisition to their society.

County News.

Leicester.

The Junction can boast of two stores and a hotel at present, all of them well patronized.

Wood for the lime kilns is now the topic of conversation with many in town, and several teams are already engaged in hauling it to the yards. Both companies have, however, a large supply on hand, yet they are ready to purchase. The price will not be any higher, if as high, as last year.

O. C. Huntley has erected two spacious buildings this fall near his kilns. One is a large and convenient corn barn or crib. The other is a barn, 30 by 40, nicely finished, clapboarded and slated. He has been engaged in harvesting his corn the past week, and will doubtless fill both buildings if he can get it all out of the water. He is also engaged in erecting another building. It looks like a race-way from his kilns to the store house at the railroad station; it certainly will reach there if he continues it far enough. What is it for, any way?

Orwell.

John Wetherbee and Owen Mills are at home for the holidays.

The sick heretofore reported as slowly recovering.

We are glad to see the pleasant faces of Mrs. M. A. Boyce and family. They are at home for the holidays, we believe.

The Congregational church held their annual meeting on Tuesday last and the usual routine of business was transacted.

The funeral of Charles Cutting was attended at the Catholic on Monday afternoon. Mr. Cutting was about 50 years of age and was born and always lived on the farm where he died.

Miss Mary Bramble had a very sick day on Thursday last, caused by indigestion, which detracted her reason for a few hours, but under the prompt treatment of Dr. Vincent was at last accounted nearly well again.

The Christmas entertainment to be given by the Congregational Sunday-school on Christmas eve promises to be a fine affair and without doubt will be well attended by our people. The supper to be served in the ladies' rooms will doubtless be enjoyed by all.

It has never been your correspondent's good fortune to hear so fine a reading and musical entertainment as the one given on Monday evening at the town hall, when Miss Helen M. Todd recited a poem written by herself, entitled "The Star of Bethlehem." The reading was one well worthy of the effort she has made, and those of our people who did not enjoy this rare treat have lost what they will rarely have the privilege of enjoying. Miss Todd has furnished to some of the papers some poems of great merit, but nothing that ever began to equal this; and the words, as well as the music, so beautifully sung by Miss Eva Abbey, without accompaniment of any form, and upon the same subject was also written by Miss Todd and are entirely new. She has written many pieces of music, which appear in some of the first musical publications of the land, and with her classical as well as musical education we predict for her a high position among the poets as well as musical writers of our country.

Vergennes.

The stores report a good trade in holiday goods.

Mrs. O. H. Spaulding is ill, keeping her in-doors. She is not very robust.

The ladies of the Episcopal church are busy getting the evergreen trimming for the church.

December weather in this section has been favorable for the farmer to get his work, usually necessary at this season of the year, well done.

Richard Maldon has been quite sick for two weeks past with fever, but at this time is up and dressed, with a favorable outlook for a speedy recovery.

C. E. Parker, our popular mayor, and wife have been sick with severe colds, obliging them to keep in-doors for some days.

Geo. F. Kimball returned to Albany N. Y., last Friday, where he has been employed by Rathbun, Sard & Co., traveling on the road selling their celebrated stoves.

The graded school closed its fall term last Friday and will take a vacation of two weeks, thus enabling the scholars and teachers from abroad to spend the holidays at home.

Last Thursday week was poultry day for the Christmas trade, and prices ruled lower than at Thanksgiving; good turkeys sold from 15 to 16 1/2 cents, and chickens for 10 cents, dressed weight.

The great American tooth puller has been in town. He seemed to extract teeth with as much ease as falling off a log, as the boys say. He sold, as he claimed, a very valuable medicine to cure almost anything.

Cards have been received here announcing the marriage of H. V. Edmond, formerly of this city, to a Miss Roberts of Norwich, Conn., where Mr. Edmond now resides. This is his third wife. His many friends and acquaintances in this city wish him much joy.

An alarm of fire was rung out last Sunday morning about 10:30. The fire proved to be in James McCuen's house and was caused by imperfect stove pipe arrangements. The fire department was soon on the spot, as usual, and quickly had the fire under control. Not much damage was done and it is fully covered by insurance in the Vermont Mutual.

The Christmas tree at the Congregational church will draw out a crowd, especially to see Frank as "Santa Claus." There will be exercises at the State school by the boys and girls that will be entertaining, and all are invited. It will be worth one's time to be present. There will be a Christmas tree with presents for all the boys and girls thereon.

State News.

Rutland's street railway is in full operation, and is well patronized.

Jackson Smith has been sentenced to 15 years in State prison at the Windsor county court for burglary.

Edwin C. Watson, a prominent citizen of Hartford, died Sunday of cancer of the stomach.

One day last week the Rutland House of Correction had 110 inmates, the largest number in its history.

Joseph White of Rutland will settle with his creditors through the court of insolvency.

The Salvation Army will invade Bennington on New Year's day. It is a good field.

Montpelier's debt on account of its water-works is $50,000, and $10,000 more has been authorized.

Two Brattleboro men have been found who get drunk on Jamaica ginger. That is not a new scheme in this region.

The Salvation Army has been in Bellows Falls three weeks, and has made a good impression by its methods work and.

Bennington Center has 10 inhabitants who average 80 years of age. The aggregate of their ages is 1284 years, and the oldest is 89.

There has been a large increase in the number of Grand Army posts in the State during the past year. The present number is 92.
