Agricultural.

AN IMPROVEMENT FOR THE DAIRY.—A novelty, as well as an acquisition for the dairy in the shape of an air churn, is mentioned as being the invention of the good Bishop of Kildare, Ireland, whose leisure has found an opportunity for promoting the good of the farming community, through the exertion of scientific skill.—The "Farmer's Gazette" gives an account of this curious churning and unique invention after the following fashion:

Milk, it says, essentially consists of an oil, which in chemical language is called butterine; of curd, also called cassine; and of whey, with some neutral salts not very important. These matters are held together by so loose a degree of affinity, that they separate spontaneously when, at rest, the oil rising to the top.—To convert this oil into butter, it is only necessary to bring it into intimate contact with the oxygenous portion of the atmosphere. Instead of the prevalent and unscientific mode of effecting this by churning, his Lordship accomplishes this measure by the more scientific and simple manner of forcing a full current of atmospheric air through the cream, by means of an exceedingly well-contrived forcing pump. The air passes through a glass tube connected with the air-pump, descending nearly to the bottom of the churn. The churn is of tin, and it fits into another tin cylinder, provided with a funnel and a stop-cock so as to heat the cream to the necessary temperature. The pump is worked by means of a winch, which is not so laborious as the usual churn. Independent of the happy application of science to this important department of domestic economy, in a practical point of view it is extremely valuable. The milk is not moved by a dasher, as in the common churn; but the oxygen of the atmosphere is brought into close contact with the cream, so as to effect a full combination with the butyric acid part, and to convert it all into butter. This new churn is washed out with far greater facility than the wooden ones; and the mode of warming the cream is extremely well-devised and simple. The butter itself is excellent; and what constitutes perhaps the best practical criterion of its success is, that the woman who has the management of the dairy has given her delighted approbation of the new churn.

THE FARMER.—The following advice to the farmer, (says the New-England Farmer) we extract from a paper published more than twenty years ago; and the advice it contains will not be out of place at the present time.

The farmer, as well as the merchant, ought to reckon with himself at least once a year. This is the proper time. How stands the balance with you at the end of the harvest? I trust you have had nothing to do with the banks, so we will let them pass. Are your taxes squared up with the collectors? Are there no execrations against you? Are all your laborers and honest tradesmen for the last year paid off? Are all your broken windows repaired? Is your cellar banked and pointed, so as to secure your rauce and apples from it? If so, let us go to the barn and see whether the barn doors, stable doors, racks and mangers, floors, &c. are all set to rights for the winter. If we find all these things as they should be, then a happy new year to you! But if not, then set your boys immediately to thrashing, to sheeling corn, and dressing flax,—stop the calls of the collector, the visits of the sheriff, and the duns of your laborers and merchants as quick as possible: buy glass and putty, repair your windows, and sell to the paper-maker the rags which had been used to stop your lights; secure your cellar before the frost penetrates further. All this being done, go to the barn and do likewise. You may now set down for the evening by a clean hearth, before a brisk fire in your snug kitchen or parlor, crack a few nuts, eat a few apples, and regale yourself and friends with a glass of pure spring water, and go to bed when you please.

Sands' Sarsaparilla.

For the removal and permanent cure of all Diseases arising from Impure Blood, or Habit of the System.

I read the history of disorders we are astonished that men live; if of cures, we are still more astonished that they die. And yet in fact nearly all diseases have a common origin, viz.—in the organs which prepare and modify the blood, with a remedy directed to the source of disease, will remove a host of its phenomena. It is the peculiar characteristic of Sands' Sarsaparilla, that its searching operation reaches the causes of disease, and the cures it performs are therefore radical and thorough. The health of the human system depends almost entirely upon the state of the blood. If the circulating fluid which pervades every tissue, membrane, fibre, filament, gland or other organ, primary or subsidiary; if the body be charged with the elements of disease, sickness must be the consequence, and until the causes of disease existing in the blood, are removed, no permanent relief can be expected.—It is here that the powerful health-giving Sarsaparilla of Sands' Sarsaparilla are manifested; and for this reason, in Scrofula, Salt Rheum, and all eruptive diseases, as well as all derangements of the secretory organs, it is considered infallible.

The following certificates recently received will read with interest, and for further proof the reader is referred to a pamphlet which is furnished without charge by all the agents.

New York, Dec. 1, 1845.

MESSES. SANDS:—Gentlemen.—Parental feelings induce me to make the following statement of facts in relation to the important cure of our little daughter, wholly effected by the use of Sands' Sarsaparilla. For nearly three years she was afflicted with a most inveterate eruption on the body, which at times was so bad, connected with internal disease, that we despaired of her life. The complaint commenced in the roots of the hair, and gradually spread until the whole body was enveloped, and then it attacked the ears, and ran down the neck, and continuing to increase until it covered the most of the body. It commenced with small pimples or pustules, from which water at first discharged, this produced great itching and burning; then matter or pus formed, the skin cracked and bled, and the pus discharged freely. The sufferings of the child were so great as almost wholly to prevent natural rest, and the odor from the discharges so offensive as to make it difficult to have her in the house. The nature of the case required. The disease was called Scald Head and general Salt Rheum. We tried various remedies, with little benefit, and considered her case almost beyond the reach of medicine; but from the known virtue of your Sarsaparilla, we were induced to give it a trial.

Before the first bottle was all used, we perceived an improvement in the appearance of the eruption; but the change was so rapid for the better, that we could scarcely give credence to the evidence of our own eyes. We continued its use for a few weeks, and the result is a perfect cure. To all parents we would say—if you have children suffering with any disease of the skin, use Sands' Sarsaparilla. With feelings of gratitude and respect, we are yours, &c.

We Invite the Attention

OF the public to the following "Home Certificates" and "renewed" testimonials in favor of the efficacy of the "Patent Galvanic Rings and Christie's Magnetic Fluid." Coming as they do from people of undoubted respectability, residing in our immediate vicinity, they cannot fail of doing away the imputation of "Humbug," (so justly applied to many patent medicines,) and of encouraging others to try who have long been laboring under nervous affections, [a class of diseases which no medical applications have heretofore been able to reach,] but whose doubts in the efficacy of said Rings have kept them from purchasing.

During the last two months many others have purchased the Rings, who inform us they have obtained relief by using them, and whose certificates to that effect could be procured, but we deem the following sufficient. By information from all sources, we have the fullest confidence in the power of said Rings and Fluid to relieve all those whose complaints are strictly nervous. For sale by us.

MORSE & MILLER.

To whom it may concern, This we certify, that for several years past I have been severely afflicted with the Tic doloureux and have been wholly unsuccessful in getting any durable relief by any of the various prescriptions recommended to me, until I was induced to make trial of the "Patent Galvanic Rings and Christie's Magnetic Fluid," kept at Morse and Miller's, in this village. I had no faith in their efficacy until I tried them, but now I have, as it has been about a month since I made the trial, and I have had no return since that time. Therefore, for the benefit of those who are laboring under similar complaints, I am willing to have my name go before the public.

Brattleboro, Nov. 3.

This we certify that I have been greatly afflicted with the "Neuralgia," causing severe pain in the Chest and Arm, and was unable to get any relief, therefore, I tried the Patent Galvanic Rings and Magnetic Fluid, the use of which has had the desired effect.

Brattleboro, Nov. 3.

Mrs. E. L. CLARK.

This we certify that I have been relieved, and I think cured of the distressing pain in the head and face called the Tic Doloureux, by the use of the Patent Galvanic Rings and Christie's Magnetic Fluid, and that I cheerfully recommend them to others afflicted with similar complaints.

Brattleboro, Nov. 3, 1845.

S. F. MILLER.

This we certify that I have the fullest confidence in the efficacy of the Patent Galvanic Rings and Christie's Magnetic Fluid, and that I cheerfully recommend them to others afflicted with similar complaints.

Brattleboro, Nov. 3, 1845.

CHARLES HASTINGS, Jr.

This we certify that I have been severely troubled with the nervous headache, and have received great and almost sudden relief, by the use of the Patent Galvanic Rings and Magnetic Fluid.

ANIMAL CHEMISTRY.

ANIMAL CHEMISTRY has proved beyond all question, that quana can be so chemically combined as to act upon the absorbent system, and remove various accumulations, which, if allowed to continue, will create disease, pain, troublesome tumors, morbid swellings, and scrofulous diseases, &c.

According to Chemistry and the physiology of the human system, a remedy has been discovered, and is now applied and rendered successful, in removing painful swellings, pain in the side and back, scrofulous tumors, King's Evil, enlargement of the neck and throat, ague, cancer, enlargements of the spleen, &c. One thing should be borne in mind by every physician, that the means here spoken of should be used to remove every thing which has an effect on the parts where this application is worn.—When the breasts are painful, there are no means which can be used so quick and certain as this. Those who are in the habit of being hard on the parts where this application is worn, will find it in this disease, neither can it fail. The reader can readily see, if it can soothe and subside such inflammations, of how much importance it would be to use in cases of weak backs, spinal irritation, and in fact all kinds of weakness or inflammation.

As an external application in Liver Complaints, pain in the hips and shoulders, it has no equal, and as a pain extractor, there is no magical drops or liniments that will compare with the JAW DARTON or HERBERT PLYSTER—this is the remedy, and it is too well known among physicians in general, to need any further description. Those who have been relieved by this Plaster, after every other application has failed. A pamphlet giving an account of its discovery, with certificates, directions, &c., accompany each box, which is sufficient to explain its use, &c. Price, 50 cents. It is pleasant to wear, and one need fear of taking cold in that part where the plaster is applied.
