

From the Mirror.
The Old Maid's Soliloquy.
By Mrs. E. Maria Sheldon.
I do believe I think it strange!
The maid do not presume—
They say the times are very hard—
I'm sure they are for me.
Each day I've dressed and waited here,
I hope the gentleman will come;
It seems to me almost a year,
Since they have come at all.
I'm always cheerful—sometimes gay,
And dress with greatest care—
The stupid men will not propose,
And men's first suit they hate!
For says he's getting tired out
Of purchasing Cologne,
And such a hopeless case as mine,
My 'think' was never known.
I wish I could the mystery solve—
No calls—how late it grows—
When I'm so very lady-like,
Why don't you love me more?
Jackson, Mich., 1845.

Agricultural.

A Little Farm Well Tilled.

The greatest obstacle to the improvement of Agriculture in New England, is the propensity, the mania I might well call it, to own more land than he can till to advantage. And it is thus that we see scattered over the country large tracts of sterile, unproductive land, which under good cultivation, would yield bountiful and valuable crops. Not only the dictates of sound philosophy, but numerous facts drawn from experience, are constantly and loudly calling the farmer, from every quarter, to occupy a small farm and cultivate it well. I wish that this admonition could be thundered into the ears of the agricultural population of New-England, until a complete revolution should be produced in the farming system.

This great truth is already beginning to be understood in other countries, and is attended with corresponding advantages. The densest population in Europe may be found in Flanders and Lombardy, where the land is divided into small farms, and being thoroughly tilled, produces abundant food for the inhabitants. And the experience of a quarter of a century in France proves that, by the occupation of the country under small working farmers, the land is producing one third more food, and supporting a population one-third greater, than when it was possessed in large masses.

The law is universal—it applies to every country—that the secret of success in Agriculture consists in the thorough cultivation of a small piece of ground, which, well manured and well worked, yields up its treasures in prodigal profusion. In almost every part of New-England, one capital error runs through the whole system of farming. A great deal of money is invested in land, and a very little money employed in its cultivation. And it is sad to see the owner of a large farm, pride himself on the number of acres which he possesses, and undertake to cultivate the soil without sufficient means. Such a man has been happily compared to a merchant, who expends all his capital in building for his own use a large roomy store, and is afterwards seen gazing with complacency on his bare walls and empty shelves.

He has chalked out to himself a hard lot, and voluntarily enters on a state of servitude, worse than Egyptian bondage. His work is never accomplished. He toils at all hours and yet is never ahead of his work, and his work is never half done. He has no time to accomplish any thing throughout his life. His horse is out of repair—his barn dilapidated—his cattle poor—his fences in ruins—his pastures overrun with bushes, and acres of land, which, under proper cultivation, might be made to yield a rich harvest, are but little removed from barrenness, perhaps dotted with mullen, burdocks, thistles, or filled with sorrel, white weed, and other noxious plants, which root out the grass and eat up the life of the soil, without affording nourishment to either man or beast.

What a harassed, unhappy being must be the owner of such a farm! He has no time for recreation or mental improvement. He is doomed to the treadmill of life; with his spirits depressed—despondency stamped upon his haggard features, and the worm of discontent gnawing at his heart, with him there are no pleasant associations with the past—the present is full of anxiety, care, and hard labor—and a dark cloud rests upon the future. He reminds me of Hood's touching 'Song of the Shirt,' and it may be well said of him: 'Work—work—work! From weary chime to chime, Work—work—work! As prisoners work for crime— Plow and harrow, and hoe! Hoe, and harrow, and plow! Till the hand is sick, and the arm benumbed, And misery stamp'd on the brow.'

Such a man has little reason to pride himself on his extensive possessions; and paradoxical as it may appear, he would in nine cases out of ten, add to his riches as well as his enjoyment, by giving away one half of them at least. He is, in the true sense of the word, miserably poor, in fact a slave; and when his eyes are opened to his real condition, it is no wonder that he is glad to emancipate himself, by selling his farm for what he can get, and escape, post haste, to Texas or Iowa.

To TAKE STAINS OUT OF SILK.—Mix together in a phial, two ounces of essence of lemon, one ounce of oil of turpentine. Grease and other spots in silk, are to be rubbed gently with a linen rag dipped in the above composition.

WORK OXEN.—Feed well, provide them with comfortable bedding, warm lodgings, and have them carried and rubbed down daily, and your work oxen, in the spring, will be in fine condition to do your work in good heart, and rapid time.

BEES.—Bees in the Island of Cuba are kept with great success. They are not enervated by the warmth and perennial fruitfulness of the climate, but work on accumulating stores, though there is to be no winter in which they will be wanted. Many of the Cubans have hundreds of swarms. All the owners do is, to furnish hives, which only requires them to cut a large hollow tree into pieces, three feet long, and laying them under sheds, to fasten a stick through the centre, upon which the bees begin to build. The hives swarm frequently, and all are, as we said, trained to thorough industry, and their industry is abundantly rewarded among the fragrant Belle Flowers. When a hive is full of honey the bees sit up at both ends, and go to another; so that the planter has only to take away the rich stores from the deserted dwellings; for as there is no winter, the bees are always laying up and never consuming.—Jour. of Com.

The amount of Maple Sugar manufactured in Lowell, Mass., last year, was 17,373 pounds.

THE LAW OF THE FINGER RING.—If a gentleman wears a wife, he wears a ring on the first finger on the left hand; if he is engaged, he wears it on the second finger; if married, on the third; and on the fourth if he never intends to get married. When a lady is not engaged, she wears a hoop or a diamond on her first finger; if married on the third; and on the fourth if she intends to be a maid. When a gentleman presents a fan, a flower, or trinkets to a lady with the left hand, this on his part is an overture of regard; should she receive it with the right hand, it is considered as an acceptance of the offer. Thus, by a few simple tokens explained by rule, the passion of love is expressed.

We Invite the Attention

Of the public to the following 'home certificates' and recommendations, in favor of the efficacy of the 'Patent Galvanic Rings and Christie's Magnetic Fluid.' Coming as they do from people of undoubted respectability, residing in our immediate vicinity, they cannot fail of doing away the imputation of 'Humbler's' (so justly applied to many patent medicines) and of encouraging those to buy who have long been laboring under nervous affections, (a class of diseases which no medical applications have heretofore been able to reach,) but whose doubts in the efficacy of said Rings have kept them from purchasing.
During the last two months many others have purchased the Rings, who inform us they have obtained relief by using them, and whose certificates to that effect could be procured, but we deem the following sufficient. By information from all sources, we have the fullest confidence in the power of said Rings and Fluid to relieve all those whose complaints are strictly nervous. For sale by us.

MORSE & MILLER.
To whom it may concern. This may certify, that for several years past I have been severely afflicted with the Tic Dolorous, and have been wholly unsuccessful in getting any durable relief by any of the various prescriptions recommended me, until I was induced to make trial of the 'Patent Galvanic Rings and Christie's Magnetic Fluid,' kept at Morse and Miller's, in this village. I had no faith in their efficacy until I tried them, but now I have, as it has been about 10 months since I made the trial, and have not only obtained complete relief, but I have been enabled to benefit those who are laboring under similar complaints. I am willing to have my name go before the public, in relation to the efficacy of the Rings and Fluid.
E. A. RICE.
Brattleboro, Nov. 3.

This may certify that I have been greatly afflicted with the 'Neuralgia,' causing severe pain in the joints, and was induced to purchase the use of the Patent Galvanic Rings and Christie's Magnetic Fluid, the use of which has had the desired effect.
Mrs. E. L. CLARK.
Brattleboro, Nov. 3.

This may certify that I have been severely troubled with the Tic Dolorous, and have received great and almost sudden relief, by the use of the Patent Galvanic Rings and Christie's Magnetic Fluid.
EMMA R. WARD.

This may certify that I have been relieved, and I think cured of the Tic Dolorous, by the use of the Patent Galvanic Rings and Christie's Magnetic Fluid, and that I cheerfully recommend them to others afflicted with similar complaints.
P. MILLER.
Brattleboro, Nov. 3, 1845.

This may certify that I have the fullest confidence in the efficacy of the Patent Galvanic Rings and Christie's Magnetic Fluid for the cure of the Tic Dolorous. As I have been much afflicted with this complaint for the last 5 years, and was unable to get any relief from it until I made trial of said Rings and Fluid, with entire success. I therefore recommend them to others who are afflicted with the Tic Dolorous.

LORRAINE'S PILLS.

THESE Pills are now acknowledged by thousands that fairly take the Bazaar from all others. They cause no pain or uneasiness of any kind in their operation, and require neither change of diet nor care of any kind. This medicine has actually done wonders. It has established a reputation unrivalled, on its own merits, without being pulled up continually in the papers.
The attention of the reader is respectfully called to the following highly respectable notices of this invaluable and incomparable medicine—and it will be seen its achievements are most extraordinary, as daily experience speaks more and more remarkable cures, where other medicine had entirely failed of giving even relief.
Lynn, Dec. 17th, 1845.

Sir,—I have sold all the pills I had of you, please send another lot immediately. The sale of Lorraine's vegetable Pills is rapidly on the increase—they are becoming very popular. I sell more and more every day. As a curative medicine and purifier of the blood, I think they stand unrivalled. One fact I have noticed, that no one that has used them finds any fault with them; they have wrought some very great cures. One lady, who has been confined to the house and bed, a great part of the time, for twenty years, is now cured and able to work most of the time, after having taken 3 boxes only of Lorraine's Pills! I might name many other cases, where the cures have been as great, but have not time.
Yours respectfully,
J. E. P. MARSH.
Portland, Me., Nov. 7th, 1845.

Sir,—Please send me one gross of Lorraine's Pills, good satisfaction, better than any other pills which we have in our market. I think in a short time they will take the place of all others. We have had no fault found with them whatever; but, on the contrary, they have been praised loudly. I think we could have quite a number of highly respectable certificates from our citizens.
Respectfully yours,
E. MASON.

Portland, Me., Nov. 7th, 1845.

Sir,—I transmit to you an account of my case for publication, believing it to be my duty. I have been confined with the Rheumatism nearly the whole winter, have had some of the best physicians of Boston, and could get nothing that would relieve me more than temporarily. I heard of the wonderful virtue of Lorraine's Pills, I had no faith whatever, but I took them, and it is a solemn fact that when I had taken but eight pills, my Rheumatism had entirely left me, and I have remained well ever since.
N. B.—I never took more than one pill at a time and that on going to bed.
Yours respectfully,
W. M. HALSTAD.

Unable to raise the hand to the head!!
Sir,—For three years, Sciatica had produced such effects upon my constitution, that I was unable to raise my hand; the bones were in different places destroyed by ulceration, and I feared it might reach the brain, or vital organs. My pains were violent; all medicines recommended did no good. At last, I took Lorraine's Vegetable Pills, which gave immediate relief, and have entirely cured me.
Respectfully, your obedient servant,
JAMES COLSON, Esq.
