JACKSONVILLE. A North Adams Wedding. The first wedding celebrated in the new Universalist church at North Adams was held there Monday evening of last week.

The contracting parties were Dr. Martin M. Brown, the popular young physician, and Miss Mary L. Blakeslee. Both are popular and active working members of the church, and the auditorium, beautifully trimmed with flowers, was filled with their many friends.

The decorations included arches of evergreens over the aisles, banks of flowers on the pulpit and a big arch over it, from which hung three large floral bells. Beneath these the happy couple stood during the performance of the ceremony.

As the wedding march was played on the piano, the bridal procession came up the aisle in the following order: the ushers, Winfield Scott, Ernest S. Bishop, Fred Sheldon and Thomas Rose; the groom-men, Edgar Brown, a graduate this year of Middlebury college and a brother of the groom, and Benjamin Miner of Middlebury, with the bridesmaids, Miss Miner of Middlebury and Miss Brown of Jacksonville; the bride and groom. The bride's gown was of white lacesome trimmed with duchess lace, and she carried a bouquet of roses. Miss Miner wore lemon-colored crepe de chene, and Miss Brown wore sage-green crepe de chene. They carried bouquets of pink carnations and ferns. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. B. Church. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. Dr. Brown is a native of Jacksonville, a graduate of Drury academy at North Adams and of Rush Medical college at Chicago. He was in a hospital in that city for some time and two years ago opened an office in North Adams, where he is building up a large practice. The parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brown of this place, attended the wedding.

VERNON. E. M. Heard. The funeral of Edmund M. Heard, who died so suddenly last Friday morning, occurred on Sunday afternoon at his late residence, Rev. A. J. Hough officiating, and Messrs. Adams, Witt, Pratt and Jackson, associate railroad employes, acting as pallbearers. Testimonials of love in the form of floral offerings were profuse and beautiful. A striking testimony of the esteem in which he was held was the very large attendance of friends at the funeral. The peculiar traits of character which won the love of his associates were his constantly cheerful and genial nature and his generosity; he never spoke ill of others and was always ready to forgive and condone their faults. He inherited from his father, William Heard, who died in 1875, the farm near Vernon station known as the "Gov. Hunt place," but could do but little farm work on account of asthma, from which he was always an intense sufferer. In the fall of 1891 he resumed his studies upon the Fitchburg railroad, afterward taking a similar one on the Ashuelot road, and found the work more healthful. He married Lillian E. Davis in 1877, and has three sons, aged 10, 12 and 14 years, who are left to mourn an irreparable loss. They have the sympathy of a large circle of friends. One sister, Mrs. J. E. Herrick of South Carolina, survives him, and the bereavement falls especially heavy upon an elder brother with whom he has always been intimately associated.

Last Tuesday evening about 45 friends gathered at the home of Myron Russell in honor of his 21st birthday anniversary.

The evening was pleasantly spent in social intercourse, games, etc. The presents received, including a sum of money, attested in a measure the high esteem in which he is held. Refreshments were served and the company dispersed after having an enjoyable time.

WARDSBORO. 1833-1893. The sixtieth anniversary of the marriage of Rev. Dennis Wells and wife was quietly celebrated at their home between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock on the afternoon of July 7. That day also marked the 82d milestone of Mr. Wells's age. Mr. Wells is in his 90th year. This worthy couple have lived in our village many years, and they command the respect of all who come within the circle of their acquaintance. A social hour was enjoyed. Remarks were then made by the pastor, Rev. G. H. Rogers, which were very feelingly responded to by Mr. and Mrs. Wells. Singing and prayer followed, after which the company dispersed to their homes.

Tobacco growing is an important industry in town, 30 growers having 60 acres under cultivation. H. H. Day has 44 acres, W. H. Pike 44 acres, O. S. Higgins four acres and W. B. Adams four acres. About half the plants were machine set. The machine works rapidly and satisfactorily.

Considerable improvement is being made on the upper end of River street. The road is being widened, beginning at Lawrence Young's house and extending along to Bridge street, the addition here being about twenty feet wide. A piece has also been taken off the tannery land, the corners being made much easier to turn. The iron railing has also been extended from the ends of the bridge to the street.

NORTHFIELD, MASS. The young ladies of this place, who played "Chronothanatron" last winter so successfully, have kindly consented to repeat it on Friday evening, July 21, at the town hall. At the close of the play, good music will be provided for dancing. The proceeds of the evening will be used to help defray the expense of moving the organ and otherwise repairing the Unitarian church.

It is understood that the will of the late Hiram Camp will provide handsomely for Northfield seminary, giving to 150 shares of stock in the Bristol (Ct.) brass and clock company, 50 shares of the Swift packing company of Chicago, and sundry small lots of good dividend paying stock. The school also gets a block of four houses with land in Fair Haven. The estate amounts to about $250,000.

WHITINGHAM. The North Adams Transcript says: "Among the guests at the Brown-Blakelee wedding Monday was Hosea Ballou of Whitingham, Vt., a son of the famous divine of that name and father of Mrs. Dr. Stafford of this town. Mr. Ballou has been town clerk in Whitingham for 40 years."

OUR MIDSUMMER PRICES On Furniture and Carpets Are the Lowest Ever Heard of in This Section. EMERSON & SON, MAIN STREET, BRATTLEBORO.

One Opportunity Past Did you avail yourself of that free ride we offered you a short time ago? If not it is too late now, for the opportunity has passed, our store has been rolled, and here we are on the south side of the street, partly on the seminary grounds. Our store front is not very attractive, but inside it is as beautiful as ever. Speaking of opportunities, if you missed that free ride you can console yourself with this thought—there is ONE MORE OPPORTUNITY left, that is the privilege of buying about two-thirds of our stock at a very severe reduction in prices. You remember we have mentioned it several times. Many have taken advantage of the situation. Are you among the happy ones? If not, why? Of course we have to keep buying in some lines, but on unreasonable lines of goods, odds and ends of many kinds, our entire stock of Wall Papers and Borders, Crochery, Underwear, and a great many other things we made a great reduction, and our sales show that the public realize it. Remember the first lesson and see that you profit by it. There is no time like the present.
