Found Hanging in a Tree.

Last Saturday a party of boys were roaming through the woods west of here and espied hanging from a branch of a maple, 30 feet from the ground, what appeared to be a human body. They secured assistance and the object was found to be the dead body of Webb C. Plumb, the 14-year-old son of Lucius Plumb, a well-known resident. It appeared that the lad had climbed the tree, carefully adjusted the noose about his neck and swung to his death from the limb. He mysteriously disappeared from his home May 12. The neighboring pond was dragged and searching parties scoured the woods on the surrounding hillsides. The boy's parents are unable to account for his disappearance and suicide.

MASSACHUSETTS NOTES.

Morey Brothers' box shop in West Leyden was burned Friday night, together with contents. Loss, about $5000; no insurance.

Napoleon Seymour of Athol mysteriously disappeared last week, and no trace of him has yet been discovered. It is the general opinion that he has gone off somewhere in a fit of mental aberration.

The western counties all suffered from frost Monday night, though it was not so severe as the week before. Fruit and early vegetables were nipped. It is said that so severe a frost has not been experienced so late in the season for 10 years.

Prof. Henry S. Roberts of North Adams, manager of the Keeley institute, while driving with a friend in Athol Tuesday, was thrown from the carriage, striking on his head. He is in a critical condition.

Prof. Roberts had lately been appointed manager of all the institutes in the state of Colorado, and was to leave for there June 20.

Earl Davenport, 17, had both legs crushed below the knee Friday at Athol in an attempt to board a moving freight train. Amputation of both legs was necessitated. This is the second serious accident within a short time from attempting to steal a ride on a train. Young Davenport died Sunday at the Massachusetts general hospital.

A perennial conflict, which has waged annually in the Massachusetts legislature for several years, has been happily ended by the passage of a bill dividing the town of Longmeadow, which borders the Connecticut line just below Springfield. Gov. Greenhalge signed the bill Tuesday afternoon, and in the evening both parts of the town, or rather, both of the new towns, Longmeadow and East Longmeadow, celebrated.

A stretch of sandy plain separates the two towns, and a forcible argument used for division was that there had only been one marriage between families of the two communities for 50 years.

VICINITY GLEANINGS.
Felchville.
The young people of the Universalist church have formed a Christian union with 27 members.

The insurance will partially cover the loss.

NEW HAMPSHIRE NOTES.
Two daughters of Jasper Smith of Alstead, aged eight and 10 years respectively, were shot Friday by a 15-year-old boy named Frank Porter. The army musket used was loaded with heavy shot, and the charge grazed the head of the younger child, taking effect in the neck, chin and shoulder of the elder, making ugly though not probably fatal wounds. The boy was arrested. He does not bear a very good reputation, and it is thought the shooting may not have been accidental.

Fire totally destroyed the Gilman academy at Gilman Sunday morning. Loss, $6000. The academy was to have celebrated its 100th anniversary June 30.

What Will They Do Next?
A triumph in engineering is reported from the mountains of Peru, where a twin screw steamer of 540 tons, 170 feet long and 30 feet wide, has been successfully launched on Lake Titicaca, the highest navigable water in the world, more than 13,000 feet above the sea. This steamer, which belongs to the Peruvian government, and is to be used for freight and passenger traffic, was built on the Clyde, then taken apart in pieces and shipped to Mollendo by sea. It was then carried to Puno by railway and transported over the mountains on the backs of llamas and mules and put together by a Scotch engineer, with great skill and success.

A wonderful artesian well has just been struck on a ranch in McMullen county, near San Antonio, Tex. The drill struck the flow at a depth of 310 feet and dropped down 20 feet and was then forced from out of the 41 inch pipe in treble driven volume and shoots into the air to a height of 55 feet. The well drillers and ranchmen of the neighborhood were badly frightened at the great flow of water, which began washing everything away like a giant's hand.

The entire country is flooded from the well.

THE VERMONT NEWS.

Two Benson Boys Shot.

Larose, a Frenchman, Held for Trial—One of the Boys Will Doubtless Die.

A shooting affair occurred at Benson on Tuesday night of last week, when two boys named Norton, George, aged 8, and Edward, aged 14 years, were shot by a Frenchman named Larose, the younger boy being mortally wounded and the older one seriously injured.

The Norton boys, who live on the shore of Lake Champlain, started about 8 o'clock in the evening to walk to the home of a negro named Massey, about half a mile away.

On the way they met three men, John Lafleur, his son Arthur, and Larose, his son-in-law. Young Lafleur was carrying a double musket, and as the boys approached the party Larose took the gun from his companion. As he put it to his shoulder the older Norton boy, seeing the peril of himself and his little brother, cried, "Don't shoot." Larose, however, fired, and the charge struck both boys. George fell to the ground with 18 shot holes in his abdomen and groin, but Edward retained his feet.

Ten of the shot had hit him in the thigh, while one had penetrated his hand. George was unable to help himself, and the three men helped the boys home.

The story of Larose is that the party had the gun along because of wild animals which had been seen in the vicinity. The boys were coming through the bushes and could not be distinguished. He says that he shouted, and receiving no answer, fired, thinking he saw a bear. This is contradicted by young Lafleur, who says that there was no interval between Larose's cry and the shot. He says he did not know what Larose was firing at. Larose married the Lafleur girl about a year ago, and has made threats against the Norton boys, his particular animosity being directed against the older of the family.

The only theory which will account for an intentional shooting is that Larose mistook Edward Norton for his older brother. The fact that it was bright moonlight and the contradictory stories told by the Frenchmen make the accidental shooting theory improbable.

At the hearing on Saturday Larose was held in $500 for his appearance before the grand jury at the September term of the county court, to answer to the charge of assault with intent to kill. This charge may be changed and in event of young Norton's death Larose will be held for manslaughter. Larose told the court that he was not guilty of shooting the boy intentionally.

Dedication of the State Asylum at Waterbury.
The new Vermont state asylum at Waterbury has now been completed with the exception of the north wing. The south wing was finished in 1891, and the administration building, consisting of offices, chapel, kitchen, power house and other rooms, has just been completed. The dedication exercises will take place Thursday evening, the 31st. The program will consist of delivery of keys by Hon. George W. Wing of the board of trustees, and acceptance of same by Supt. W. H. Giddings, and speeches by Gov. Fuller, ex-Gov. Dillingham, Rev. A. J. Covell and others.

The buildings already erected have cost upward of $200,000, including $50,000 for heating, lighting and furnishing. The asylum when completed will be one of the finest and best equipped institutions of the kind in the United States. It was first opened for the reception of patients Aug. 8, 1891, and during the year ending June 30, 1892, the total number admitted was 224. The whole number of inmates at the present time is 207. There are about the same number of state wards in the Retreat, Brattleboro, who will be transferred here as soon as the north wing is built.

Capture of Henry Bundy.
Henry Bundy of Bethel, whose attempt to kill his father was briefly stated in last week's Phoenix, was arrested at Ticonderoga Thursday and taken back to Bethel, where after a hearing before Justice A. A. Brooks he was committed to Woodstock jail to await the action of the county court.

Bundy's story shows that he went, after stabbing his father, to his father's house, took a two-year-old colt, and after riding him to Rochester, stole a wagon there, in which he continued his flight, appropriating a harness a little further on. An accident resulted in the smashing of a wagon wheel and a bad wound on Bundy's leg. Being unable to replace the wheel he took a buggy and continued his trip, crossing the ferry to Ticonderoga. Here he was arrested while stopping to have his horse shod. It is probable that the father will recover. As the boy left for jail he said: "I am glad I am going back. I get better treatment there, and the society is better than I ever found anywhere else."

Fire at Belden's Falls.
The wood pulp mill belonging to the Belden's Falls Pulp company, four miles from Middlebury, was burned Tuesday night with the contents and machinery and 150,000 feet of spruce logs and 100 cords of wood piled in the yard. The mill employed 15 men in the day time and six night hands, and was built six years ago to replace one burned then. The power house of Smith & Brainard company was burned, throwing many men out of work, but the other property of the marble company was saved. But for the stillness of the night other property valued at $30,000 and $40,000 would have been destroyed. The total loss is estimated at about $23,500, with insurance of $10,000.

Safe Cracking at Barre.
The office of Smith, Whitcomb & Cook in Barre, about half a mile from the post-office, was entered after midnight Saturday morning and the office safe blown to pieces, the burglars getting about $20 in change. The safe door was torn from its hinges and blown 10 feet from the body of the safe. The side wall of the office, against which the safe stood, was blown outward about two inches and all four of the windows in the room were blown out, sash and all. Mr. Whitcomb had deposited $1000 Friday noon. This is the third time within four years that this company have been robbed.

Three Men Drowned.
George Spaulding of Farnham, Que., aged about 25, an engineer, Chester Fleming of Manchester, N. H., a young man of about 22, who was at Philippsburg, Que., on a visit, and Willie Symms, aged 19, of Philippsburg, were drowned in Mississippi bay Sunday. They had a good skiff and one of them was a good sailor, but the wind was high and variable. The populists' state committee has issued a call for a state convention at Montpelier June 26. It is to be a mass convention and will nominate candidates for state officers and map out a plan of campaign.

Norwich has recently received attention from some of the gangs of burglars who have been operating extensively in New Hampshire. The grist-mill was ransacked in the hope of finding money in the safe, and several persons missed clothes and other small articles.

E. J. Wills and P. Witherell, employed as brakemen by the Central Vermont road, have been held in $400 bail each to appear before the grand jury on charges of larceny and grand larceny. They broke into a freight car May 8 and stole goods loaded therein.

The ticket office of the Bennington & Rutland railroad office at Bennington was broken into early Saturday morning, but little spoil secured. An attempt was made to enter the store of A. Drysdale & Son. A clerk who got a glimpse of the burglar furnished a description of him which enabled the officers to identify him, and he was pursued, arrested and lodged in jail.

On Thursday, May 10, Mrs. Alice A. Henry, department commander of the Vermont Woman's Relief corps, instituted Joyce post, No. 32, at Poultney, with 20 members. This is the second corps organized since April 1. The membership in the United States exceeds 100,000. The department of Vermont has now 74 corps, with an aggregate membership of over 2500. Man's Inhumanity to Himself.
The most inhuman outrages, outrages which would disgrace the savage, man perpetrates upon his own system by swallowing drastic purgatives which consume his stomach, acrimize his intestines and weaken his system. Many people constantly do this under the impression that medicines only are violent in their action, and particularly cathartics are of any avail. Irreparable injury to health is wrought under this mistaken idea. The laxative which most nearly approaches the beneficent action of nature is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is painless but is thorough and invigorates the intestinal canal instead of weakening and irritating it. The liver and the stomach share in the benefit. Discipline instilled by this comprehensive medicine whose healthful influence is felt throughout the system. Nervous, rheumatic, kidney and nervous complaints succumb to it.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion
It saved my life.
Six months ago I was told by three doctors that I had quick consumption, the disease being in the family on both my mother's and father's side. I was coughing badly, had hemorrhages and profuse night-sweats; in short, was rapidly wasting away. I tried to take Cod Liver Oil, but raw and in the form of Emulsion, but could not retain it. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion was then prescribed. It agreed with me perfectly. When I began taking it I weighed 105 pounds. Now, after taking the Emulsion for six months, I weigh 165 pounds; cough all gone; no more night-sweats, no more hemorrhages. Nevertheless my work is continuing, taking a draught, I consider myself in perfect health, and attribute all to Angier's Petroleum Emulsion.
