

IN THE LOCAL FIELD.

WILLIAMSVILLE.

Williamsville is visiting Lyman. A party of young people from here went to the lake on Wednesday. Mr. James Shipman of Syracuse, N. Y., and his wife, Mrs. Shipman, are here. Mr. Shipman is a short visit at G. B. Lamb's. Mr. J. A. Young is finishing the lower part of her house, making kitchen, dining, and parlor. Mr. G. B. Lamb will open a select school at her home September 3, to continue twelve weeks. The young people have established a tennis court on the school grounds, which is quite an attraction. Mr. Frank McGuire of Cambridge, Mass., will teach at the Universalist church on Sunday morning. Mr. C. Snow and family have moved into the house formerly occupied by C. K. Kinsley. They are welcome to our midst. Friends who have lived on the banks of Lake Umbagog, say the water has not been so low for 25 years as it has been for the past few weeks. The Williamsville boys went to West Chester on Saturday to play a game of baseball with the boys of that place, which resulted in a score of 19 to 18 in favor of the Williamsville club. The Williamsville boys propose to come here on Saturday and have another game.

Mr. G. B. Lamb will open a select school at her home September 3, to continue twelve weeks.

WILMINGTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Love left town on Friday to make Ottawa, Ill., their future home. One of the finest residences erected this year is that of Herbert W. Miller, one mile north of the village. Miss Laura E. Haynes, Mabel R. Love and Hattie Haynes are attending teachers' institute at Chester. The Episcopal service held at the Methodist church last Sunday afternoon was well attended and very impressive. Mr. McKenzie has improved the church near his residence. Mr. J. J. Dyer of North Brookfield, Mass., occupied the Congregational pulpit on Sunday and delivered a most interesting discourse. On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Dyer gave an informal reception to a few of their friends at the residence of Mrs. Mary F. Wainwright.

Among recent summer visitors are Mrs. J. W. Fairbanks and daughter of New York, Mrs. Bennett and daughter of New York. One of the largest parties that ever gathered at Mount Haystack made the trip on Tuesday. The party numbered 113, all of whom climbed to the summit. A paper picnic was sent up, and when last seen it was on Newfane, and still speeding upward. The day was favorable, and everyone had a delightful time.

An exciting runaway occurred last Friday. A team driving logs for the Williamsville Gravel & Lumber company took the road and ran through the street. Thomas Jones, who was on the load, managed to get himself on injury, and also little Willie Pettie, who was riding with him. Mr. Pettie's presence of mind alone saved him from serious accident.

The funeral of Miss Gertrude E. Fitch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Fitch, was held yesterday, and was attended by a large number of neighbors and friends. Miss Fitch was a young woman of amiable disposition and estimable character, who was loved by all who knew her, and her death was mourned by many hearts. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. R. C. McKenzie, and the burial was in Interment.

Mr. MacLellan died on Wednesday evening. While his death was not unexpected, it was not looked for so soon. His funeral was held on Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. MacLellan was born in New York city in 1830. His father was an architect, but the son was by occupation a lawyer. He married Miss Nellie Bowker in 1856, and to this town 11 years ago. He had one daughter, Helen, who survives her father. Mr. MacLellan has been for five years associated with his brother-in-law, M. L. Burr, in the management of the Vermont House, which was of a genial nature, and was a popular and agreeable friend and neighbor. He will be greatly missed. When a resident of New York city he was a constant consultant upon the services of the Presbyterian church, but here he has been prominently identified with the Universalist church. He leaves one sister, Mrs. Hazard, who lives in California. The funeral service was held from his residence this afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Abbott officiating.

WINDHAM.

In the absence of Mr. Harris E. H. Jones, the services last Sunday and today were held.

Mr. Ledger of Boston, now attending to Northfield meetings, will speak at the Congregational church next Sunday morning and evening. The following is a list of those known to be attending the meetings at Northfield from this place: Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Harris, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Mary D. Harris, Mr. Lucy Woodburn, Mrs. A. O. Prentiss, Mrs. and Misses DeKrafts, Della Dutton, Mrs. E. Dutton, Constance Upham, Emma Prentiss, Kate Lenore, Roland Chapman, Miss Wilson, Bliss R. Prentiss and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Butler.

NEW HAMPSHIRE NOTES.

Foot McMillan of Woodsville, aged 72 years, freight conductor on the Concord & Montreal railroad, was killed at Randolph, N. H., Monday, while coupling cars.

Ernest Page of Keene was seriously injured at Framingham Depot Saturday by running over by a heavy train which he was driving, one leg being broken in four places. Amputation may prove necessary.

The partially decomposed body of a man, found near Manchester last week, is supposed to be that of John Lamprey, who disappeared June 27. In the left hand was a revolver, one chamber of which had been discharged. Lamprey was about 20 years of age, and a young man of good looks.

A quarrel at Hanover Sunday nearly resulted in another murder. The quarrel arose through some of Silas Brown's boys getting into a barley field of Frederick Boyd. In the controversy Brown attacked Boyd with an iron bar; when Brown's son took the rescue with a shotgun, Boyd's son took the weapon away from him and pointed it in the light. Bystanders separated the men, but not until Boyd was seriously injured.

The Henry H. Johnson post, No. 171, will celebrate the 10th anniversary of its organization on Wednesday evening, Aug. 22, at the town hall. The exercises will consist of short speeches by prominent veterans from away and by home talent. The brass band will play at intervals during the evening. Among the expected guests are the Grand Army department officers and their staff, and President Mrs. Burleigh and department officers of the Woman's Relief corps. Invitations have been sent to neighboring posts, and all veterans and friends are invited without further notice to come and help make the evening a success.

The community was very much saddened to learn of the death of Mrs. G. F. Piper, which took place at her home on Monday afternoon. Having been in delicate health for several years, she was unable to withstand the disease which attacked her. She was domestic in her tastes, her delicate health confining her to the home; but she attracted to herself a large circle of friends by her sweet, womanly ways. Her husband and five children survive her, the three youngest being still at home. Mrs. Piper was in full sympathy with her husband's work, aiding him in all of his efforts for the church. She was born in Kittery, Me., in 1841, and had been married 33 years. Her funeral was held in the Unitarian church on Thursday, a large company assembling to show their regard and sympathy.

Never in the history of the Northfield religious meetings have such crowds assembled as upon the present occasion. Not only is every available room in town occupied by boarders, but excursion trains from Brattleboro, Springfield and Boston are daily bringing crowds to spend the day, and large numbers are coming in carriages. On Sunday the largest company of all assembled, the vast auditorium being filled and fully 3,000 people being accommodated. This beautiful building fulfills the expectations of all and is in every way a success, the speakers being readily heard from all parts of the room. D. L. Moody conducts the meetings and speaks every day. Dr. Meyer of London speaks every morning, and is very popular. Among the other speakers are Dr. T. S. Hamlin of Washington, D. C., and Drs. Gordon, Wabbe, Chapman and Gregg. One of the delightful features of the meetings is the music, which is under the direction of Messrs. Sankey and Stebbins, the program being varied by solos, duets, quartets and singing. Every regular service is a praise service of song is held. The meetings will continue until Monday.

MASSACHUSETTS NOTES.

Conway's Sensation

Mysterious Fire—Suspicious Arising that the Husband of Mrs. Taylor May Have Been Unjustly Imprisoned.

The recent arrest of Mrs. Susan J. Taylor of Walpole, charged with firing her millinery establishment to obtain the insurance, and her being bailed by her brother, Bruce McDowell, causes considerable talk in regard to various fires in the vicinity in recent years. The McDowell brothers, Geo. H. and Bruce, a year ago in May bought a mill and a farm near Conway. A barn on the property, not valuable, but insured for $800, was burned, and there was a dispute about the insurance. Then in January the mill burned. That was insured for $1500 and the contents for $2500. The brothers had bought the whole property, including the farm, for $4300. The loss on the mill and contents has not yet been adjusted and a suit will be brought, by insurance companies, and a brisk contest is expected. According to the insurance agents, the McDowell family have had 20 losses by fire during the family existence.

Mrs. Taylor is known chiefly through the imprisonment of her husband, Eugene Taylor, for poisoning his little son. Taylor was born in Wardsboro, Vt., about 48 years ago, his father being Calvin Taylor, an old farmer honored by all his friends and neighbors. There is a strong feeling that there was a mistake eight years ago, when Taylor was imprisoned, and that he is innocent, and a petition is talked of for the pardon of the unfortunate man, if it shall prove true that he did not commit the deed charged. A movement will soon take shape in Greenfield among her solid business men to press a petition for the release of the prisoner. The circumstances of the case were these: Taylor purchased at a Greenfield drug store, five grains of strychnine to kill a vagrant dog, and that night he and his little son were found in convulsions from poison. At the hearing there were conversations which bore strongly against the prisoner, but through it all there was also an entire absence of motive. It is agreed that Taylor loved his child dearly; that he was an honest, conscientious, hard working man; that he made a success of his tobacco land, and held the respect of all who knew him. In prison he has always stood for law and order, and a few years ago did good work in stopping an incipient riot among the strikers at Lowell. Altogether it is a peculiar case which people in the vicinity of Conway hope may be cleared up.

Albert Duggett, 9, of North Adams fell from a log into the raceway of the Brattleboro mill Tuesday and was drowned.

James Oliver of Athol was run over at Charlestown, Mass., Tuesday by a locomotive engine, and is at the Massachusetts general hospital, with slight chance of his recovery.

The contract for building about nine miles of sewers in Athol was awarded Monday to Gentner, Long & Little of South Braintree for about $15,000. Work is to be begun immediately.

There was a sensation at Lake Pleasant Saturday when State Detective Munyan and officer Ward raided the cottage of Mr. Putnam and discovered goods which had been stolen from Mr. Brainard, who formerly ran the Lake Pleasant House. The premises of Mrs. Raymond and Mrs. Bonville of Montague were also searched and found to contain some of the goods. All three were arrested. The raid is the outcome of the recent stealing of coal from the Fitchburg railroad.

Adolph Schwartz, 18, and Paul Inneskie, 16, were instantly killed on the railroad last Friday night near North Adams, and were found the following morning on either side of the track, each body being completely severed at the waist and terribly mutilated. It is supposed that the boys went to Blackinton to see if Schwartz's relatives had arrived, and stole a ride back on a freight train, and when they leaped from the train the suction drew them under the wheels. Inneskie was the eldest of five children and was the main support of the family.

Private Fortunes and Public Want. In this country today there is one American family whose private fortune is estimated at $275,000,000, or considerably more than one-half the valuation of the great state of Iowa. There are five citizens whose fortunes average $50,000,000 each; 50 with $10,000,000; 100 with $5,000,000; 200 with $3,000,000, and there are millions of almost without number. Less than 2000 persons own twice as much as all the money in the country, to say nothing of the many millions more that they control. Two thousand capitalists already own more than all the rest of our 45,000,000 of population.

With these figures on one side of them, and a million idle men looking for work on the other, what has Congress been doing? It has been dickering and trading over a mere question of taxation, in the midst of a scramble of selfish men for the loaves and fishes.

So much for the great question of equitable distribution. Now let us look at the land question. Mr. Vanderbilt, of New York, owns 2,000,000 acres of land. Mr. Diston of Pennsylvania boasts of his 4,000,000 broad acres. The Schenley estate owns 2000 acres within the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The California millionaire, Murphy, owns an area of land bigger than the whole state of Massachusetts. Foreign noblemen, who own estates in this country, are permanently absentee landlords and spend all their money abroad, own 21,000,000 acres of land in this country, or more than the entire area of Ireland. Lord Scully of Ireland owns 90,000 acres of farming land in Illinois, which he rents out in small parcels to tenant farmers, and pockets his annual $200,000 in rent.

Now, while over one-half the people of the country are landless, what has Congress ever done with the land question? Since 1861 it has given 181,000,000 acres of the people's land to railroads, of which the Illinois Central alone got a subsidy of 2,500,000 acres, a good part of which has been put into home lots, whereby to export rents and profits from the landless and houseless. —Donahoe's Magazine.

Brace the Nerves. Nerveless and opiate won't do. These nerves do not make the nerves strong and failing to do this short course of the essentials of their quietude, vigor, and while in extreme cases, and these only of nervous irritation such drugs as opiate, their administration is in itself prejudicial to the delicate organism upon which they act, and in order to remove their quietude effect increased and dangerous doses eventually become necessary. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an efficient substitute for such pernicious drugs. It quiets the nerves by bracing, toning, strengthening them. The connection between weakness of the nervous system and that of the organs of digestion is a strong and sympathetic link. The Bitters, by imparting a healthy impulse to the digestive and assimilating functions, promotes throughout the whole system a vigor in which the nerves come in for a large share. Use the Bitters in malaria, constipation, biliousness and kidney trouble.

HAWLEY.

August 3.

July business just closed shows my sales more in dollars than any previous July—which means more goods, as we never before gave so much merchandise for a dollar.

It took live bargains to do it.

We start into August with increased attractions.

Women's Wrappers and Tea Gowns.

Yesterday I added my third large purchase at a sacrifice to the manufacturers of wrappers, so that I am able to continue this phenomenal sale. Among yesterday's arrivals there was a good assortment of sizes 42 and 44 bust, which we were nearly sold out of. Some of them are extra fine in quality of fabric and style of make. There are some of the 59 and 69 cent gingham yet, and to-morrow's freight is expected to bring one more lot to sell at 49 cents. With them I expect another lot of two pieces Duck suits to sell at $1.49 each—same as sold early in the season at $3.50.

Yesterday I added three new lines of white and one of colored striped shirt waists, all bought so low, to close the season, as to make what I had in stock look high, so down they go.

I have bought, and expect to receive to-morrow, a make of corsets which I shall sell at 50 cents each, which I believe to be better than any I ever before saw sold at that price. Try them and see if it is not a fact.

Few novelties in neckwear for ladies.

Best white quilt we ever had at $1.

More white chamois gloves at 75 cents. We had been out of them. They are scarce and in quick demand.

Swivel silk gingham 37 1-2 cents, were 58 cents.

Anything in wash dress goods which was not sold out at reduced prices in July is to go now.

For next week shall put in remnants of dark ground, print with what 3 1-2 light ones we have left.

The capes advertised last week at $1.99 and $2.50 sold out quickly, and I did not expect to buy any more; but I made an offer for another lot and got them to sell at $1.99, $2.50 and $3.50. Four $7.50 ones now left.

I have a rack full of spring weight coats left which are just the right thing for fall wear. To-morrow morning I am going through them and shall make a price to move them quick. Ask to see them.

Below are some of the things previously advertised which are not yet sold out.

Satines, light ground, 12 1-2 cent quality, now 6 1-4 cents a yard.

Apron checked gingham, 4 3-4 cents a yard.

Fine fancy striped gingham, 5 cents a yard.

Crinkled Seersuckers, clear white ground, wide stripe, has been sold all the season at 15 cents, now 8 cents a yard.

All our best 12 1-2 and 15 cent colored seersuckers, 8 cents a yard.

Job in brown and tan shoulder capes $1.99 each.

Job in brown higher grade capes, $2.50.

Big lot manufacturer's sample ladies' night gowns to be sold at 50, 65, 78 and 94 cents each, hardly any two alike, all worth more.

New lot white cotton laces 5 to 12 inches wide, 15 to 25 cents a yard.

Bargain in white Duchesse Applique lace matched set of seven different widths. Ultra fashionable, rare design—the importer stood the loss—and the buyer gets for 15, 25, 35, 48, 58, 68, and 78 cents; a lace usually sold for fully double the price on each number.

New white aprons at 25 cents.

New white lawn waists with balloon sleeves.

Fresh lot Chemisettes and four-in-hand scarfs for ladies.
