"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physi-cians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' billy but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poullices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparille. Inside of two mouths, I was able to walk without a cane. In three mouths, my limbs without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

A Social Sensation.

Suits Which Involve the Celebrated Colt Family and Millionaire James J.

A social sensation has been sprung at Providence, R. I., this week. Mrs. Elizabeth M. Colt, wife of Col. Samuel P. Colt, filed a petition asking for a legal separation from her husband, the care of their two minor children and a suitable annuity. She claimed that the cause for her petition was adultery committed by her husband.
The co-respondent is not named, but is understood to be a young woman of social distinction who is a relative of the Colt family. Col. Colt caused a writ of arrest to be issued against James J. Van Alen, He serv the well-known Newport society man. He charges Mr. Van Alen with alienating his wife's affection and places the damages at $200,000. The defendant has not been ap-prehended. He is understood to be at nish bail in the sum of $400,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Colt have lived in Bristol, but they have a town residence in Providence and are prominent in Newport and New York society. James J. Van Alen, the Newport millionaire who is involved in the case, came very much into the public Newport only a few months of each year, spending most of his time abroad. He contributed $50,000 to the last Democratic presidential campaign fund although it is alleged that he had not taken sufficient interest in American affairs to vote. It was claimed that his campaign contribution was made with the expectation of political

Col. Colt is of the celebrated Colt revolver family of Connecticut and is one of the representative and most respected busi-ness men of Rhode Island. He is a lawyer by profession and has served as attorneygeneral. Retiring from that office he was chosen to shape the affairs of the Industrial trust company, which had just built the largest business block in Rhode Island. He is brother of United States Circuit Judge LeBaron B. Colt, and an intimate friend of the Vanderbilts. Mrs. Colt is the daughter of Judge Bullock of Bristol.

Prize Fighters Corbett and Fitzsimmons Will Not Fight.

The Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight has been declared off for the alleged reason that the authorities of Texas and Arkansas were prepared to stop a public exhibition of slugging. The circumstances attending the preliminaries were such as to indicate that neither of these pugilists was particu-larly anxious to fight. They both want money, however, and will doubtless start on starring tours throughout the country. Had they cared to fight, either for supremacy or to satisfy their grudges, there hasn't acy or to satisfy their grudges, there hasn't been a day that they could not have gone off privately into some suburban woodshed and pounded each other to their heart's content. They wanted, however, a "mill" in a huge hall, crowded with spectators paying fancy prices for admission, and their backers will naturally be disappointed that this dream is shattered.

300 Criminals Arrested in Chicago. The Chicago police, inspired by the many audaelous burglaries and highway robberies which have taken place lately in that city, have indulged in a round-up of suspicious characters, and in three days have arrested 300 worthles of the criminal class. The chief of police says that Chi-cago has become the winter headquarters into dwellings and apartment houses, and, city has long been misgoverned, and one of the chief sources of scandal has been the incompetency of the police to deal with the criminal element.

A Negligent Bank Commissioner. The cashier of the state bank at Fort Scott, Kansas, embezzled funds to the extent of $50,000, taking all the cash on hand except $2000. Bank Commissioner Brei-denthal took possession of the remaining securities, valued at $120,000, and left them in a satchel on a car seat while he went out to talk to a friend. In the meantime the train went off, and after a long search the satchel and its contents were recovered at Denver. This is the latest sensation from Kansas, where they do as many strange things as are done on the Bowery. One of the evident needs of Kansas is a new bank commissioner.

In South Dakota and western Minnesota a severe sand storm prevailed Saturday. The wind was blowing from 48 to 55 miles an hour, and there was such a furious storm of sand that it was imposible for pedestrians to be out.

Ex-Governor Oliver Ames died at his me in North Easton, Mass., early day morning. He was 64 years old and had become widely known through his long career in business and political life. He was born in North Easton. He served a five years' apprenticeship in the shovel works, which his father, Oakes Ames, had made famous. At the age of 20 he entered Brown university, where he took a two years' special course. On the death of his father in 1873 he succeeded to the management of the large business interests of the Oakes Ames estate. It was here that Oliver Ames won his reputation as a financier. The estate involved great and diversified interests and was burdened with obligations amounting to $8,000,000. He paid this indebtedness and $1,000,000 of legacies and had a large surplus to divide among

He served as state senator in 1880 and 1881. In 1882, in the Butler-Bishop cam-paign, he was elected lieutenant-governor, having 14,000 more votes than Bishop, the head of the ticket, who was defeated. He prehended. He is understood to be at Shelburne, Vt., as a guest of Col. Webb. It will be necessary for Van Alen to furnish bail in the sum of $400,000.

The Indiana Earns a Big Premium.

In her official trial trip between Cape Ann and Boone Island, a distance of 31 knots, the battleship Indiana made an average speed of 15.61 knots for four hours on Friday. This is 61-100 knots above the speed required by the government, and, as there was a premium offered of $25,300 for every quarter knot made over 15, the Cramps will receive $50,000 as a bonus in excess of the contract price offered. This may be increased to $75,000 when the tidal observations are worked out, as the allowance for tidal obstructions will probably give the ship 15.75 knots.

A robber-proof train of mail cars pulled out of Jersey City Sunday for St. Louis. It is not armor-clad or mounted with turret guns, yet it is strong enough to stand a heavy strain, and there are no places on it where a train robber can find a footing. There is only one door, which is strongly barricaded, and the heavy timbers make the cars practically bullet-proof. These cars are just from the shops of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and were built especially for the new service which the postoffice department has established between New York and St. Louis.

Chicago Badly in Debt.

Chicago is obliged to adopt a policy of retrenchment. It is now proposed to cut the fire and police departments from one-third to one-half and scale down other branches of the public service to an extent that will practically amount to their temporary abolition. The city is running behind at the rate of $1,000,000 a year, and has a floating debt of $6,000,000, accumulated during six years.

It is reported that Russell, one of the escaped Ludlow street jail prisoners, has been captured in Bruges, Belgium, and with him two men who may turn out to be his fellow fugitives, Killoran and Allen. The United States secret service has worked zealously on the case. Russell and his accomplices were desperate post-office robbers of international reputation. They would long since have been serving sentence but for the stupidity of the New York jailer, whose carelessness permitted

THE VERMONT NVS.

The Prohibitory Law in Butla cently in regard to the execution of the of the war of the rebellion will meet in prohibitory law in Rutland. Mayor John utland Tuesday, the 29th. A banquet A. Sheldon instructed the chief of police to close every salvon at 11 centers. close every saloon at 11 o'clock at night, but a newspaper correspondent found that although the saloons apparently obeyed this order they were doing business at I o'clock behind drawn curtains. One of the most reliable officers in Rutland says: "The prohibitory law makes the mayor's order a farce. If Vermont is a prohibition state, why should there be any saloons at all? The law is, in theory, supposed to be enforced, but Mayor Sheldon, the mayor of a city in prohibition Vermont, admits, by his own instructions, that the law is openly defled. I have been familiar with the general situation for a year, but I am a subordinate, and simply obey orders. Of course the law is openly and defiantly vio-lated every night and day. Others say that the people of the city are opposed to any such force, and will hereafter oppose all prohibitory legislation." Twenty sa-loons in Rutland are selling liquor openly.

Dictator Morris Turned Down.

Rev. Herbert W. Boyd was indorsed as pastor of the Second Congregational church of Hartford Friday. Mr. Boyd is an in-dependent, and voted for Cleveland in 1892. This fact becoming known, Ephraim Morris, a wealthy woolen manufacturer and strong Republican, recently refused to contribute to the support of the pastor. Mr. Morris and his business associates have heretofore been the main supporters of the church. Rev. Mr. Boyd declared that he would remain on principle, accepting such salary as the church could pay. Thereupon, he was advised by Morris's supporters to resign, as he was not generally liked. The pastor was disinclined to believe this, and called for a church meeting to determine Morris's position. The pastor was supported in the meeting by a vote of 39 to 4, and the sentiment in the community is believed to be quite strong in support of the pastor.

Dr. Asahel Clark Kendrick

Dr. Asahel Clark Kendrick died in Rochester, N. Y., Monday. He was the son of a famous Baptist clergyman, and he was born in Poultney in 1809. He graduated from Hamilton college in 1831. For 19 years he was connected with Hamilton (now Madison) university as tutor and pro-fessor of Latin and Greek. When the university of Rochester was founded he became professor of Greek in it. From 1865 to 1868, in addition to his other du-ties, he filled the chair of Hebrew and New Testament interpretation in Rochester theo-logical seminary. When the American committees; were formed, in 1872, to aid in the revision of the authorized English version of the Bible, he was appointed a member of the committee on the New Testa-ment, and he took an active part in the work. Although he was ordained as a Baptist clergyman he never had a pastoral charge. He was one of the foremost authorities on the Greek language and literature. His

Brown is Dead --- Morrell Treatment Alleged Cause.

An autopsy was held at Richford Mon-day on the body of John Brown, who died last Saturday under very peculiar circumstances. Brown, who was addicted to the liquor habit, took the Morrell cure about 15 months ago and some time afterwards became partially paralyzed and his powers were gradually failing. Brown sued Dr. W. S. Manuel, who administered the Morrell treatment to him, for the sum of $20,-000, claiming that the treatment brought on paralysis. A consultation of eight doc-tors was held some two weeks ago, but neither the result of the consultation nor of the autopsy will be given to the public until the case is tried at the next session of the county court in April. The spina cord and parts of the brain were taken to Burlington for further analysis.

An Injunction Against Rutland. An injunction was served against Rutland Friday. It was granted by Chief Jus-tice Jonathan Ross of the supreme court, restraining the city from emptying any more sewerage of the Forest street system into Moon brook. The injunction was granted on the application of Albert F. Davis, who claims that with the sewerage of the western division of the city empty ing into the brook, the lives of the people in that section of the city will be endanger ed. A few weeks ago the county grand jury unanimously condemned this sewerage as dangerous but the city officers have kept at work building it, hence the injuncexceptionally good for the nervous ex-haustion which I was subjected to, I was eventually induced to make a trial of Dr. Greene's celebrated Nervura, and the great relief it afforded me was almost instantaneous in its effect, and I have no hesitation in unqualifiedly endorsing Dr. Greene's Nervura as the best tonic and restorer of a nervous and debilitated system of any remedy that I have ever tested. It is reoperatic comedy, "Dorcas" have subjected markable for the rapidity with which its The assumption of one character | restorative qualities assert themselves. It and tired system is grateful in the extreme all different, and I might say diametrically | I can readily understand why it is that so many hearty recommendations are given The terrific strain naturally resulting from such difficult work, which is a new and direct departure from anything I have and direct departure from anything I have blood and nerve remedy and my own experience justifies me in recommending it as a hardurally the best remedy which I have and I was constrained to seek some relief ever used.
