

A WHITE PATH.

There is only one kind of Cleanliness, but there are many kinds of soap. There is only one destination, but there are many paths that lead to it. If you want the shortest and safest road to Cleanliness, it is paved with Ivory Soap. Neither man nor clothes ever get beyond the cleansing power of Ivory Soap. Its rich, creamy lather extracts every particle of dirt; but it stops at the dirt! Ivory Soap—it floats.

IN THE LOCAL FIELD.

BROOKLINE.

Mrs. L. W. Bush is on the sick list. F. H. Morse is very ill with catarrhal pneumonia. Mrs. Clark and little daughter are visiting in Underhill. Mrs. Anderson and Howard have returned from Portland, Me. Walter Howe has gone to Westminster to work in a machine shop. The friends of Rev. I. M. Compton will be sorry to hear of the serious illness of his little son.

Charles Field has been through another surgical operation at the Mary Fletcher hospital, and is fairly comfortable. Rev. A. A. Davis of Sunderland, Mass., will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday at 11 a. m. All are invited. There will be a lecture by Rev. W. E. Lang, also an oyster supper, at the Methodist church, March 29. Everybody is cordially invited.

EAST DOVER.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Yeaw visited at Springfield last week. Many from this place attended the auction Tuesday at the Elliot Harris place. S. L. Howe and daughter, Miss Marian Howe, visited Mr. Howe's daughter, Mrs. Willard, in Greenfield, Mass., from Tuesday to Saturday.

WEST DOVER.

The ladies' aid society meets with Mrs. W. H. Mann next Wednesday afternoon. All are invited. Gilbert Allen has his farm stock and farming implements advertised for sale by public auction Tuesday, March 27. Mrs. Laurette Willard from the West has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Stanley, the first time in more than 30 years.

The entertainment given last Friday evening by the East Dover cornet band was very worthy of a large audience, but on account of the bad weather and condition of the road they did not get a large company. The fair, "From Pumpkin Ridge," was well rendered, also the other pieces. The band gave some selections which all agreed were fine, taking into consideration that it is only about three months since they organized. All join in wishing them success.

DUMMERSTON.

Death of Robert J. Holton.

Robert J. Holton, only son of the late T. S. Holton, formerly of this place, and only grandson of James Joslyn, once of Putney, whose death was announced in last week's paper, was a resident of this place, although a good share of his time was spent in the care of his mother's farm in Putney, where he had always lived before moving here. He was a very thorough farmer, conscientious in all his work and strictly honest in his dealings with his fellowmen. Of a genial, cheery disposition he won many friends; in fact, we do not think he had an enemy in the world. He was always kind and obliging, and ever ready to help those in distress. In his death the town loses a good citizen, his wife a kind husband, and his mother and sisters a devoted son and brother. His death was due to organic heart disease, and although he had the best medical attendance nothing could be done to relieve him.

E. H. Miller has been busy for a week or 10 days past in soliciting and making engagements with the farmers of this locality to raise sweet corn for Baxter's corn canning factory at Brattleboro. Several of the farmers have already engaged to raise from three to five acres of sweet corn each, in case it can be loaded on to the cars at the Dummerston station. Delivering the corn at Dummerston station will depend on the quantity of corn raised in this section, and Mr. Miller is confident that a sufficient number of acres will be planted this season to secure delivery as stated.

Dr. S. E. Lawton, superintendent of the Brattleboro Retreat, came up to Dummerston with five other persons, including Mrs. Lawton and an assistant physician at the Retreat, on Tuesday evening of this week, and delivered his lecture on "Dreams," announced to be given last week but postponed on account of the storm on Thursday evening. The doctor was considerably in vogue, and a few of his friends to enjoy the ride with him to Dummerston, for Tuesday was the first day of spring and was a day replete with sunshine. It was not only a pleasure ride for them, but they also had the enjoyment with many others of listening to a very interesting lecture.

WEST DUMMERSTON.

The young people will give the play, "Popping by Proxy," at Townsend's hall, next Tuesday evening, or if the weather should be stormy on Wednesday evening. The women will serve hot sugar.

JAMAICA.

Death of Mrs. T. W. Boynton.

Mrs. Annis Parks Boynton passed quietly from this life on the evening of March 15 at the advanced age of 90 years and six months. She was born in Wendell, Mass., Sept. 10, 1809. She was converted and united with the Baptist church of that place at the age of 11 years. In November, 1832, she was married to Timothy W. Boynton, with whom she lived happily for 55 years, lacking 40 days. In September, 1845, Mr. and Mrs. Boynton came to Jamaica, where they lived until their death, being a power for righteousness in the church and community. They reared a family of eight children, four of whom are still living, Samuel T. and Clara Boynton Head of Iowa, Henry K. of Boston and Myron L. of this place, by whom the mother has been tenderly cared for since her husband's death. Mrs. Boynton retained her faculties to a remarkable degree, being able to read fine print until recently. The funeral services were held at the house Sunday. The burial was in the church yard by the side of her husband.

Austin Lackey is ill with pneumonia. The sunset club has closed for this season.

Rev. A. J. Cameron was in town Wednesday.

The oyster supper at the Baptist church last week was a success.

Mr. Foster of New York state has taken possession of the Gillespie place on South Hill.

Irene Gleason has gone to Athol, Mass., to work in a millinery shop the next six weeks.

The Tuesday afternoon prayer meetings have been very helpful to all who have attended.

The engagement of Miss Dorcas Tucker and Benjamin F. Howard is announced.

Emily Jane Landman, 28, wife of Edgar Landman, died March 12. She leaves three small children.

Dr. Greenwood and A. L. Howard have each taken a boy from the Massachusetts State Board of Charity.

Orders have been sent for the following periodicals to be placed in the reading room: Harper's Illustrated Weekly, Cosmopolitan, Ladies' Home Journal, Review of Reviews, The Daily, edited by Rev. Chas. M. Sheldon may also be found in the reading room. Among other papers and magazines now in the reading room are copies of McClure's, Success, Zion's Herald, Lippincott's, Independent, Christian Herald, New Voice and Epworth Herald.

TOWNSHEND.

Native of Townshend.

Death of S. O. Cook of Boonville, N. Y., a Grand Army Man with a Record Seldom Equalled.

[From the Boonville, N. Y. Herald.]

Sylvester O. Cook died at his home on Schuyler street, Boonville, N. Y., at 5 o'clock Sunday morning, March 11. His illness was brief and his death so unexpected that it came as a surprise and shock to his many friends. In his death there is lost a devoted husband, a valued friend, a good citizen and a veteran of the civil war, with a service record equalled by few and excelled by none. He enlisted in the 149th New York volunteers in the spring of 1862, and was present for duty in all the battles in which his regiment was engaged, until 1864, when he was commissioned second lieutenant by Gov. Seymour in the 16th New York Heavy Artillery. While in command of his company in this regiment in one of the battles before Richmond he received severe gunshot wounds by the right arm, from which resulted so serious a case of gangrene, that for weeks his life was despaired of.

He was born in Townshend, Vt., in September, 1835, and came to this village in 1857. For many years, in company with his brother, Lorenzo B. Cook, he carried on a hardware store and tinning business, in which he established a reputation for honesty and fair dealing. He had been for many years an active member of Boonville lodge, No. 105, F. & A. M., and at the time of his death was commander of the Wheelock post, G. A. R., to which office he had been elected for six consecutive years. His wife, who before her marriage was Miss Emma Sears of Leyden, survives him, also one brother, Fayette Cook, of Townshend, Vt., and four sisters, Mrs. C. P. Stone of Springfield, Mass., Mrs. Charles Park of Williamsville, Vt., Mrs. Marsh Martin of Townshend, Vt., and Mrs. Merrill Hodgkins of Brattleboro, Vt.

The funeral was held at the Baptist church Wednesday at 1 p. m., Rev. A. W. Cady officiating, and was attended by a large number of the comrades of Wheelock post and members of Boonville lodge, F. & A. M. The bearers, members of Mr. Cook's regiment, were Harvey Scouten, Andrew Dorn, Fred Guillaume, Frank Madrid, Orrin Burlingame and Isaac Scouten.

McGibbon-Gould Wedding.

A very enjoyable social event occurred at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gould Thursday, March 15, the occasion being the marriage of their only daughter, Grace, to Lewis McGibbon of Hartford, Conn. The party was mostly made up of neighbors and near-by friends, but happily included Mrs. Mary McGibbon of Jericho, mother of the bridegroom.

As the noon-day chimes ceased the bride and bridegroom, attended by Ernest Gould, brother of the bride, as best man, and Miss Margaret Underwood of Westminster as bridesmaid, entered the parlor and took places beneath a beautiful arch of evergreen barked by potted plants. A ring service was performed by Rev. M. F. Hardy, pastor of the Congregational church.

After congratulations attended by the brides on the part of the united, refreshments were served. Many wedding tokens, useful and ornamental, attested the interest and affection of friends. The inevitable shower of rice came early, as some of the guests were obliged to make a hasty leave. In fact the good merriment poured, showing a strong affinity for the spinal column.

The happy couple departed early in the afternoon, going by train to Brattleboro, thence to their future home in Hartford, and Mr. McGibbon was employed for some time at the Brattleboro Creamery.

From there to similar service in Hartford. At present Mr. McGibbon has a good position as conductor on an electric railroad. The best wishes of all of friends go with them on their matrimonial journey.

We only regret that we were unable to retain among our young people of such genuine worth and promise.

Mr. Brown has recently visited at Prof. Edgewood's.

Persons were in town Tuesday looking at G. I. Pratt's farm.

The Congregational aid society met last week with Mrs. Dale.

West River Grange will hold a meeting Friday evening, March 30.

WEST TOWNSHEND.

Dr. Doane of Springfield was a guest at T. P. Barber's last week.

The funeral of Mrs. Amelia Hazeltine Howard was held at her home last Saturday, attended by Rev. M. F. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blood of Springfield were present.

Curtis Howe died early Monday morning. Death was caused by a stroke of paralysis. His wife died several years ago and he lived alone, but was well cared for during his brief illness by his only son, at his home in this city. He had lived here for many years and his familiar figure will be much missed about the village. The funeral was held Tuesday at the church, Rev. Mr. Hardy officiating.

News has been received of the death of Dr. Albert S. Taft, a prominent physician of Rochester, N. Y., who died suddenly on March 19, at his home in that city. He was a member of Ashbury Methodist church, a man of fine character and of a sympathetic nature. Dr. Taft was born in West Townshend, Dec. 20, 1824, and moved from here when a young man to Bristol, N. Y., where he began a study of medicine and became a successful practitioner. In 1868, with his brother, the late Dr. Gilbert Taft, he went to Rochester. Upon the incorporation of the Taft Brothers Medical company he was elected president, and he held that office until his death. Dr. Taft is survived by his wife and a sister, Mrs. J. A. Conover, also of Rochester. Three of his cousins live in this village.

VERNON.

Mrs. M. I. Reed will go to Athol Saturday to visit over Sunday with her son, W. M. Reed, and family.

A special town meeting is called for March 28, for the purpose of electing a board of school directors.

Mrs. Sarah E. Smith and sons, who have lived on the E. P. Johnson place during the past year, left town Tuesday—"Gone like the tenants that quit without warning." Mrs. Smith left her aged father without any means of support.

T. L. Johnson went to Worcester, Boston and Athol on business this week. He also called on several former residents of Vernon, among whom C. C. Houghton and Dr. Edward Frost of Worcester, and showed them the plans of the proposed new church. They heartily expressed their approval of them. He also saw Mrs. C. F. Simonds, who has already contributed the estimated cost of the windows for the whole building. Mrs. Simonds was pleased with the plans, but suggested a more expensive window and proposed to increase her contribution to that extent.

The Grange meeting last Friday evening at the home of Ora Johnson was especially interesting. During the lecture hour the meeting was public. Five gentlemen read essays on the subject "How I would manage a house if I was a woman," and a letter and essay from Past-Master White were read. Mrs. Johnson and Violet Reynolds sang. Mrs. Reynolds accompanying on the piano. Viola Foshburg gave a recitation. The question box afforded much amusement. The next meeting is proposed to be at the house of E. O. Lee Thursday evening, April 5, when the ladies are to furnish essays.

FACTS FOR CONSERVATIVE INVESTORS TO CONSIDER.

This Company believes in presenting to its prospective stockholders a plain business-like proposition that will stand the most thorough investigation. This is a proposition where we have facts and not theories to confound us. If we can refer investors to many other plantations that are already producing larger profits than we claim for this one, we certainly cannot be accused of raffle or chicanery.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS.

We have one of the finest plantations in Mexico, consisting of 14,000 acres of choice land, and our capitalization is only $150,000. Other companies with one-third as much land are capitalized for nearly a million dollars.

Arguments That Speak for Themselves.

"As much as 500 per cent profit has been made on vanilla in 100 days."—[British Foreign Office Report, No. 183, page 18.]

"Coffee yields from 100 to 300 per cent profit."—[Bulletin, 41, Department of State, Bureau of American Republics.]

"An acre of bananas the first year will yield $200, the second year the yield is double."—[British Foreign Office Report, No. 85, page 20.]

"An acre of pineapple yield a clear profit of $100 to $200 at home, whilst by exporting the fruit to the United States the planter would receive $300 to $400."—[British Foreign Office Report, No. 40, page 8.]

"100,000 Rubber trees the first year's harvest will yield $120,000."—[British Foreign Office Report, No. 385, page 67. Over $500 an acre.]

"There is, the fifth year and every year thereafter, a profit of 125 per cent on the original investment."—[Statista Romera, "Statistical News," page 303.]

The "Chicago Banker and Investor," referring to Mexico in a recent issue, says editorially:—

"Probably no country offers more inviting investments for the capitalist. This is primarily due to two causes. One is the depreciable value, by reason of which the investor of a thing, and in gold can secure nearly double the amount in silver. The other is the cheap labor, which in some localities superabundant. This the owner of a small capital in this gold has a double advantage. He has a larger capital to work upon, while the cheap labor, which will average 5 cents per day, is paid in silver. Thus the expense of a plantation is only about 25 per cent of the average of a similar plantation in the United States. Take a similar planter who sells his produce for sugar, sugar or tobacco, for instance, both of which products are raised in the United States. The Mexican planter sells his produce for a higher price, while at the same time he is able to produce it at a quarter of the expense."

This stock is being rapidly subscribed for by leading financiers and is considered one of the safest and most conservative stocks on the market. The profits are very large and are not based on estimates, but are increasing results of sugar-bearing plantations under New England management.

WHAT EUROPEAN AND UNITED STATES OFFICIALS SAY.

MARQUAN—We are now making arrangements to ship to New York at least 200 tons of Manzanilla a year, on which from this source alone we will receive a profit of $15,00
