A. J. Maxwell is singing at Onset, Mass., where he has had engagements the past seven years.

The union picnic of the Sunday schools of Brattleboro will be held at Brookside park Thursday, the 26th.

A dividend of five per cent has been paid this week to the stockholders in the corn canning building association.

The Brooks House hack and a team driven by Fred Tuttle collided near Broad brook Sunday, but fortunately no one was injured. The only damage was the crushing of one of the rear wheels of Mr. Tuttle's carriage.

The Woman's Relief corps will have a basket picnic in Brookside park Saturday afternoon, July 28, if pleasant, otherwise on the following Saturday. The members of the corps and their families and the members of the Grand Army post and their families are invited.

Mrs. Abbie Fuller and Miss Maud Essex gave a reception at Pine Heights Friday evening in honor of Miss Essex's visit. From 50 to 75 persons were received by Mrs. Fuller and the Misses Essex. Leitinger's orchestra furnished music for dancing, and refreshments were served by Miller, the caterer.

Our Northfield correspondent says this week, it may be noted, that the seventh annual Woman's conference, now in session at Northfield, has brought more young women there than ever before. This is one more evidence of the permanent success of D. L. Moody's work at Northfield, which, it is to be hoped on every account, will continue to grow and prosper, notwithstanding the death of its founder.

No cases of sunstroke have been reported this week, but the heat on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday was extremely oppressive. A day mean temperature of 85 Monday and 84 Tuesday is a record seldom equaled in Brattleboro, and people seemed to suffer more during Tuesday night than at any time, many finding sleep impossible. The heat was extended over nearly all the country, and many cases of prostration were reported in the cities.

Lieut. W. N. Batchelder, law student in the office of Waterman & Martin, who was sent home from the Philippines on the transport Sumner, is now in a government hospital in Washington and although his condition is not within the jurisdiction, but is entirely in the control of the road commissioner. Another was that they did not consider the proposed improvement to commensurate with the expense which would be involved. There remains but one course open to the petitioners and that is for them to petition the selectmen to call a special town meeting to get a vote of the town upon this question. It is not likely that this will be done.

John L. Roesch has bought a half interest in the real estate business of his father, John D. Roesch. The former will continue on the road as heretofore as traveling salesman, and the latter will have charge of the store and the manufacturing. The firm name, which has been Leonard & Roesch, since the business was established over 30 years ago by John D. Roesch and the late William Leonard, will remain unchanged. John L. Roesch has been connected with the concern as traveling salesman for the past 12 years, and his advancement to a partnership interest will be noted with pleasure by his many acquaintances in the trade in New England and in New York state. The Leonard & Roesch firm has conducted a business with great success for a long term of years, and has won with dealers a high reputation for uniform excellence of goods.

Timothy Shea was struck, knocked down and badly bruised by a piece of rock while blasting on the F. Z. Dickinson farm near the F. Z. Dickinson farm, while working on the rock. One large piece struck Mr. Shea over the head and another him over the right eye. Both made severe bruises, but no bones were broken. Mr. Shea was unable to work for several days. The wonder is that he was not killed by the blast.

Five shares Brattleboro Street Railroad stock are for sale—a good investment. Address L. D. Mitchell, 119 Babcock street, Brattleboro, Mass.

Fourteen carloads of excursionists passed over the road Monday, bound for the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre in the province of Quebec. Eleven carloads came from Springfield on a special, while the other three came from New London.

The rear of the log drive passed the village late Friday. About 150 men and a number of trained horses made up the last contingent at work on the logs. A large house boat, which went in the rear of the drive, was a novelty which the rivermen have not had in other years. One room was fitted with stove and cooking appliances and the other room with beds and bunks.

Governor Roosevelt's "strenuous life" has furnished Rev. F. E. Marble topics for a series of sermons at the Baptist church, the first of which was delivered Sunday evening. The subject of the sermon was "Courage," a quality which Governor Roosevelt possesses in an eminent degree. The service was opened with a praise service, the orchestra being assisted by Miss Alice Butterfield. E. H. Miller rendered two solos with his usual effectiveness.

The Boston Sunday Herald contained a three column story of the operations of 43rd United States volunteers in Leyte and Samar. An account was given of the good work done by Lieut. Elmer and LeMasurier, in taking a detachment from Dagami to the relief of Lieut. Johnston, who was in a dangerous position, surrounded by large host of insurgents. After fighting over an hour the enemy were driven off with a loss of several killed and wounded.

Mrs. Marie H. Lufgar, 50, of New York city, died at Linden Lodge Monday of apoplexy. She came to Brattleboro about a year ago and had been at the Linden Lodge since that time. She had been ill with Bright's disease for several years. Her husband died several years ago. Mr. Lufgar was cousin of Mrs. Craik, generally known as Miss Muloch, the author of John Halifax, Gentleman. The body was taken to the New York Wednesday by her nephew for burial in Woodlawn cemetery.

Augustus G. Savory, 74, who died at Manchester, N. H., Sunday, was born in Hopkinton, and was a teacher and farmer in that town many years, but had lived in Manchester since 1872. He was very active in the affairs of the Republican party, although never a candidate for office, and was also prominent in the Red Men. He leaves a wife and four children, the latter being C. A. and Moses B. Savory of Manchester, Mrs. Mary A. Ames of Boston and Mrs. Ella Sherwin of Brattleboro.

A cheap and pleasant excursion has been arranged by Dr. E. A. Smith, who will leave Lake Pleasant with special car for Queen City park, near Burlington, on Tuesday, July 31. The route will be via the Fitchburg, Bennington and Rutland railroads, and passengers will be taken on at any station between the lake and Rutland. The train will leave Lake Pleasant about 12 o'clock noon. Tickets for the round trip will be $4, good going that day only, and returning on any day or any train within two weeks.

Jason Atwater, 82 years old, died Sunday morning from valvular heart disease at his home in Esteyville. He had been in failing health for some years and his death was not unexpected. He was born in Madison, Conn., and came to Brattleboro in 1862, following the occupation of a teamster. He was married three times, his second wife being Rosina Cutler and his last wife, Ella Jane Johnson, who died in 1898. The funeral was held at the house Tuesday afternoon, Rev. E. S. Morse officiating. Mr. Atwater was a member of the Methodist church.

The board of selectmen, at their meeting last Saturday, voted to deny the prayer of the petitioners for the widening and paving of Main street from the top of the hill by the People's National bank to Whetstone bridge. There were several reasons why they took such action. One was that raising the street is not within the jurisdiction, but is entirely in the control of the road commissioner. Another was that they did not consider the proposed improvement to commensurate with the expense which would be involved. There remains but one course open to the petitioners and that is for them to petition the selectmen to call a special town meeting to get a vote of the town upon this question. It is not likely that this will be done.

The seventh annual reunion of the Stacy family will be held at C. L. Stacy's Wednesday, Aug. 15.

Protective Grange held a school for members Wednesday night. The unwritten work was exemplified by Master Hopkins. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served in the lower hall.

The ladies of the Unitarian society will hold their annual fair and supper at Festival hall Thursday, July 26. The supper will be served from 6 to 8, and will be followed by a hurdy-gurdy and tambourine concert and dance. The fair commences at 4 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

The street railroad company has bought a new 750 light dynamo and station equipment. The dynamo is now being put in place at the Centerville factory. Cross arms are being placed on the poles along the line of the electric road, and wires will be run to West Brattleboro to light the new hotel and other places which may require electric lights.

The new summer schedule for the express messengers went into effect Monday. By the change Messengers Hannaford and Cantwell, who have heretofore been here over night, will be here during the day.

Messenger Melendy will now have the short run between South Londonderry and Millers Falls and Sub-Messenger Lindsey will help the messengers here during the summer.

The report from Washington to the effect that the government might soon object to the states for quotas from their militia to act as a home guard has aroused considerable interest among company 1 boys. The purpose of calling the state troops in to service would be merely to garrison the various posts and forts throughout the country where regular troops are stationed, and from which they have been ordered to China or the Philippines. The officers have received nothing more definite than the newspaper reports from Washington.

Second Lieutenant James L. Munger, 43d infantry, quartermaster, commissary and ordnance officer, in the sub-district of Leyte, has also been appointed disbursing officer of the district, his new duties beginning June 1. Lieut. Elmer, in his new position, will handle all the civil funds of the district, a position which is a very important one. At the time of his appointment about $25,000 was turned over to him, in addition to a small fortune in postage stamps. The civil fund is that from which all incidental expenses—pay of school teachers, civilian labor, etc.—is paid, and it takes about $12,000 per month to pay for what is necessary in the 12 towns of the district at present.

Michael Sevigny, a barber who was under arrest in Brattleboro several years ago, was taken into custody at Barre Saturday, charged with beating and kicking his wife. He was released under bonds, and the case continued. At the time of his arrest, he was charged with having committed a crime, and his wife had trouble again, when, it is alleged, Sevigny attacked her with a knife which he had been using to cut a watermelon. Mrs. Sevigny escaped, and notified the police, who at once began a search for her belated lord, but he had disappeared. Sevigny was arrested at Barre, where he was beating his wife some time ago. The Barre Times says Sevigny is a quiet, peaceable citizen when he is not in liquor, and that he was badly intoxicated Tuesday night.

Hill's Standard theatre company, which was engaged for appearance at the rustic dance this week, will appear at the engagement last week Wednesday. E. M. Goodenough went to Boston Thursday and engaged a vaudeville company, which has been giving entertainments all the week, free to people who go to the park on the electric car. The program for the evening will be a comedy sketch entitled "Little Sweethearts," in which their trained dog, "Dude," is introduced. Mrs. Evans also does an amusing single turn; J. M. Clifford, wooden-shoe dancer and kick warbler; Mrs. Anna Smith, who does comic and descriptive singing. The entertainment closes with a face by the company. These entertainments have been attended by large audiences each evening, and the performances are pronounced highly satisfactory.

A force of men has been engaged since Tuesday morning to move
