Mr. McSweeney was a brother of Mrs. Abby Grady of Brattleboro, and he helped build the first railroad that came to this town. His wife was Abby O'Neil of this town.

The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium class will begin Monday night with about 30 men in attendance. The outlook for a very successful year's work is bright, judging from the number who have signified their intention of joining the classes. An earnest effort is being made to start a business men's class, and it is hoped that one may be formed. Arthur Willard will have charge of the junior class this winter.

The Windham County association of Congregational ministers held a regular meeting in the Brooks House Monday at 10 o'clock. Rev. H. H. Shaw of Marlboro was elected moderator. Rev. W. T. Spaulding of Putney gave the conecio. Reports of sermons last Sunday were made by all the ministers. The Bible lesson was quoted in the absence of Rev. M. F. Hardy of Townsend. An essay, "The forms of Inspiration in the Constitution," was given by Rev. H. H. Shaw of Brattleboro, which was thoroughly discussed, and was followed by an essay, "How to Reach Those who Do Not Go to Church," by Rev. E. C. Smith of Halifax. The next meeting will be held in the Brooks House the first Monday of February evening.

The election supper given in the Congregational vestry Tuesday evening by the Fessenden Helping Hand society was a pronounced success, the society making over $60. Supper was served to a large number of 6 o'clock, and from the time the supper was served to 10 o'clock, until about 10:30 o'clock the vestry was well filled with people of various denominations, who found the vestry one of the most convenient places in which to sit down and wait for results. The returns were received over a long distance telephone wire with the assistance of the telephone exchange, and they were bulletined on a wire stretched across the front of the vestry. Lunch was served to many during the evening.

The Young People's Christian union of the Universalist church held their annual meeting and election of officers in the evening of Sunday evening. The following officers were chosen: President, Miss Ella Newman; vice president, Miss May Edwards; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Fred Sargent; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. E. Flagg; devotional committee, Mrs. E. E. Flagg, Mrs. L. M. Wood, Miss Zetta Weld, Arthur Hyde; music committee, Mrs. W. D. Gilson, Miss May Edwards, Mrs. E. E. Flagg. The annual reports of the retiring officers were read.

A reception was given Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to the senior members of the association and their friends. Music was furnished during the evening by the association orchestra. Secretary Wilson spoke a few earnest words in regard to the work that the association was doing, and thanked all for the support which they had given him. Harry Horton outlined the winter's work in the gymnasium, where his purpose is to put in one of the most successful year's work in the history of the association. George L. Dunham made a few remarks in behalf of the directors, and paid a high tribute to the energy of Secretary Wilson in building up the association, whose life seemed to be ebullient fast until Mr. Wilson took charge of the work. Refreshments of coffee, cake and sandwiches were served.

Rolin S. Childs of Brattleboro and Edwin C. Plummer of Bath, Maine, were the spellbinders at the closing Democratic rally of the campaign in Orange, Mass., Saturday evening. A despatch to the Springfield Sunday Republican said: "Mr. Childs was received with extreme cordiality and made an instructive address, his wit, sarcasm and frequent bursts of eloquence being received with continuous applause by an audience that nearly filled the hall, and composed in good part of Republican voters. Mr. Childs made several points in his arguments that were entirely new, and therefore appreciated. He defined the difference between a Democrat and a Republican, and explained McKinley's 'benign assimilation' of subjects, and likened it to the policy of King George when he attempted to 'assimilate' the American colonies just before the Revolution of 1775. 'The American people,' said Mr. Childs, 'will take down the flag when it is in the wrong place, but will defend it when it is right.' He declared the vote of Vermont and Maine indicate a political revolution."

Judge Wheeler's Railroad Decision. The motion before Judge Hoyt E. Wheeler of the United States circuit court, to dissolve the injunction granted by Chancellor Taft in the suit of the Champlain Construction company against O'Brien & Sheehan was called for hearing by the attorneys of O'Brien & Sheehan Tuesday afternoon at the Brooks House. Butler C. Moloney appeared for O'Brien & Sheehan, and Button & Button for the Champlain Construction company. After the arguments Judge Wheeler announced that it appeared that the transcript of the record had not been filed in his court until Monday and that the defendant's notice of this hearing having been served last Thursday was irregular. The judge gave the Champlain Construction company its option to have the motion dismissed or allowed the consideration of it to be postponed until next Tuesday. Upon consent of the latter the matter was ordered to stand until Tuesday, when Judge Wheeler said he would be prepared to decide whether the defendant's motion was a proper one to be made, and whether any hearing could be had on it prior to the February term of the United States circuit court.

Uncle Sam has ordered two portraits of W. R. Stuart, one each of his favorite sons, William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt, and he will call for them next Monday evening at 3 Canal street. They will be shown to anyone who happens along during the evening.

Mrs. and Mr. Sanford Weatherhead, who were killed by the pay train on the railroad crossing at Northfield Friday, had many acquaintances in Brattleboro, Vermont, and in Guilford, Mr. Weatherhead's native town. Mr. Weatherhead was brother of Mrs. David J. Weld of Brattleboro.

The Professional club will hold its first meeting for the season of 1900-1901 next Tuesday evening in the Brooks House parlors. A banquet will be served, which will be followed by a paper by Rev. E. Q. S. Osgood upon "Shall I Be China for the Chinese?" C. C. Pitts will lead in the discussion.

An important auction sale of cattle, horses, sheep, team wagons, harness, farming tools, etc., is announced for next Tuesday, November 13, beginning at 10 o'clock, by Charles L. Stacey, who has recently sold his farm in Centreville. The bill of particulars is given in the advertisement in this issue.

The sociological committee for the fortnightly club of Keene has invited Mrs. Wm. O. Horton, president of the Brattleboro Bird club, A. S. B. R., to give a bird talk before the club on children's day later in the season. Mrs. Horton has accumulated a large collection of bird specimens, and her talk will be illustrated with mounted specimens and accompanying notes.

Mrs. W. C. Horton has received word from Prof. Davenport of Boston, a fern specialist, that the fern which she found several weeks ago and which he and Dr. Robinson, curator of the herbarium of Harvard university, have been trying to identify, belongs to a variety hitherto unknown. Prof. Davenport will preserve the fern, and will name it after Mrs. Horton in accordance with the established custom of naming plants, etc., after their discoverers.

The annual meeting of the Brattleboro Women's Indian association was held at Mrs. J. M. Tyler's on Wednesday last. Mrs. C. B. Rice was elected president, Mrs. J. M. Tyler, secretary and treasurer. It was voted to send the usual barrel of Christmas supplies to the Indian hospital for women and children, Crow Creek, South Dakota. Mr. J. M. Tyler gave an interesting account of the Navajo Indians given. A good number of the members were present.

Edward Martin was arrested in the bowling alley on Flat street Tuesday night on complaint made to Policeman E. R. Thayer. Martin was intoxicated and was driving a horse and carriage. He was taken to the police station on Wednesday morning in the lock-up in which to sober off, and he was then arraigned before Justice W. S. Newton. Martin pleaded guilty and was fined $30 for a third offense of intoxication. The fine and costs amounted to $36.35. The fine was paid yesterday.

The International Society held a meeting at Mrs. J. E. Hall's on Saturday, Nov. 3. It was voted to send a Christmas box to the headquarters in New York for distribution by the president general, Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden. All articles designed for the box should be sent to Mrs. J. E. Hall, 105 Chapel street, during the last week of November. Magazines, books, pictures, silk pieces, wafers, or any article that would be appreciated by the "shut-ins" and the lonely will be most acceptable.

News has been received of the marriage of Miss Florence M. Lettinger, daughter of Casper Lettinger of Deep River, Conn., to Frederick G. Comstock. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father by Rev. George H. Gardner amid pretty decorations of ferns, autumn leaves and evergreen. The ring service was used. The bride wore a lady's dress of gray, trimmed with silk. Miss Carrie Lettinger, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and John Comstock, cousin of the groom, was best man. The ceremony was followed by a reception. Mr. and Mrs. Comstock returned to their home at Brattleboro. Comstock is a sister of Fred O. Bert, Edward and Charles Lettinger of this town.

He was employed by Edward Dunklee 21 years, and he afterward worked at the Brattleboro Retreat several years. For the past two months he has run a job wagon. The funeral will be held at the home at 4 o'clock today, Rev. R. E. Marvin officiating. The burial will be in Woonsocket, R. I. Mr. Mallard leaves a mother and sister in East Brattleboro, Mass. He also leaves a son nine years old.

STORE BURGLARIZED.

$41.48 Taken from Cash Register at J. A. Pullen's Last Night.

Chief Entered by a Bear Window Early in the Evening--Checks Valued at $100 Not Touched--Stranger Under Suspicion.

The cash register in J. A. Pullen's grocery store was robbed of $41.48 last night between 6 and 8 o'clock. Mr. Pullen left the store at 6:30 o'clock, but as the cash business during the day had been quiet he did not remove the money from the register. At 8 o'clock Chief-of-Police Hall turned on electric lights from the outside, according to his custom, the store in the meantime, being in darkness. Mr. Hall thinks the robbery was committed between 6:30 and 8 o'clock, and he believes that if he had tried the rear door when he turned on the light he would have found it unlocked. Mr. Hall found the door unlocked when he made his usual round at 10 o'clock.

The thief entered the store through a rear window which he tried to pry open and which was not securely fastened, and after finding the cash box made his exit through the door. He left untouched checks to the value of over $100. Luther Miller, who is employed in the store, remembered seeing a stranger in the store at noon. The stranger said he did not want anything, and after loitering about five minutes he went to the rear door. From Mr. Miller's description, Chief-of-Police Hall believes the man was a tramp whom he gave lodging in the lock-up the night before. The tramp has been in town several days, and an effort will be made to find him.

BRIDE AND GROOM STRICKEN. Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Cutler III With Diphtheria a few Days After Their Wedding.

The Worcester, Mass., Telegram of Oct. 31 contained the following: "The wedding of Bradford J. Cutler and Miss Ella L. Kneeland was yesterday at 5 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Col. Asa L. Kneeland and wife, 26 Lee street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Immanuel Wilcox, pastor of Park Congregational church, and was witnessed by 35 friends of bride and groom. The couple stood beneath a canopy of laurel sprigs arranged in the corners of the room and bound together with a large ball. The background was a mass of laurel and potted plants. The bride was unattended and wore a gown of blue figured tulle silk and carried a large bouquet of white roses. Refreshments were served by Miss Abbie Whitney and Miss Emma E. Kneeland, sister of the bride. Among the guests were Mrs. Kate D. Cutler and Miss Laura Cutler of Brattleboro, Vt., mother and sister of the groom. The young people are prominent among the members of the Park church and were accompanied by many beautiful presents. The groom is a builder and pending the completion of a new home the couple will live at 26 Lee street."

Mr. Cutler is a former Brattleboro boy, son of Mrs. Kate Cutler, and he went from here to Worcester only a few years ago. A few days after the wedding Mr. Cutler and his bride were stricken with diphtheria, and both were in a serious condition for some time. Late reports state, however, that they are improving.

QUO VADIS TONIGHT. A Big Spectacular Production from the Dramatization of the Famous Novel.

It has been decided that there will be no advance in the prices for Whitney & Knapp's production of Quo Vadis tonight at the Auditorium. The company that will present Stanislaus Stanez's dramatization of Sienkiewicz's celebrated novel is practically the one that made such a success of the play in New York last season and started the craze in this city. It played to the capacity of the house for many weeks. The play strongly appeals to the religiously inclined as well as to the average theatre-goer. It has been staged with all the ingenuity of Max Freeman, the veteran stage manager, and every attention has been given to detail so that one is drawn to the pictures to life will be presented in rapid succession. Although the expense attendant upon this production has been abnormally large the management has arranged that there shall be no advance in prices.

Burlington, which cast 2096 votes Tuesday, petitioned the legislature to pass a high-license bill, 2340 names being subscribed. Brandon, in a test vote on the liquor question Tuesday, cast 567 votes, 450 of which favored license. Pittsford voted for the high license, and Montpelier, a petition circulated in Guilford Tuesday was largely indorsed for high license.

LOCAL OPTION MAJORITY OF 168

The Result of the Trial Vote on Tuesday Was a Surprise.

1335 VOTES FOR NATIONAL TICKETS

987 for McKinley and Roosevelt and 317 for Bryan and Stevenson--Democrats Made Gains, but Were Far Behind Their Figures of Grover's Day--12 Ballots Spoiled.

Large vote for prohibition, and on Monday every voter in town received the following circular:

To the Voters of Brattleboro. It is proposed by certain parties in this town who are opposed to our prohibitory law, that a poll of the voters be taken at the election tomorrow on the question of substituting a local option license law for our present statute. It seems necessary and desirable that the friends of the present law, and all who are in favor of the suppression of the liquor traffic, should meet this question and vote upon it tomorrow. We therefore urge each and every friend of temperance, good order and sobriety to appear at the polls tomorrow and cast his vote in the manner hereafter described for the maintenance of the present law. It is a live question. Bills are now pending in our legislature to enact local option and repeal our present law. These measures are being pushed vigorously and our action here tomorrow will be watched with interest by both sides, so our vote will be of national importance.

Vote for the protection of our homes. Vote for the safety of young men. Vote for the welfare of the town and state.

Vote No! JULIUS J. ESTEY, GEO. W. HOOKER, A. LARKE C. FITZ, W. R. GEDDIS, S. E. LAWTON, W. D. STOCKWELL, Committee.

This circular was also distributed at the door to all voters. The ballots for the test vote which were handed to the voters as they entered the polling place read as follows:

Local Option or Prohibition. Do you favor the enactment of the bill before the legislature for a "local option license system" in place of the present prohibitory law? If so please mark a cross X in the square opposite "YES" below. If opposed to the enactment of the new law, that is, in favor of the present prohibitory system, mark the cross X in the space opposite "NO."

A cross here means that you are in favor of the enactment of the local option bill. YES [] NO []

A cross here means that you are opposed to the enactment, and in favor of the retention of the present prohibitory law. NO [] YES []

On the ballot was an outline of the leading features of the bill introduced last Thursday and with this request at the top: "As a citizen of this town, and in line with the wishes of the people of Brattleboro, it is earnestly hoped every citizen will vote whatever his preference."
