

The Vermont Phoenix.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

George P. Miller, Guilford, Vt. Auctioneer in all its branches.

Ladies' Hair shampooed, 25 cents. First-class methods and materials. Hours, 9 to 11; 2 to 4.30, and by appointment, 39 Elliot street, Brattleboro.

Auctioneer.

F. W. McClure, auctioneer. Sells all kinds of property. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in county clerk's office, Crosby block, Brattleboro, Vt. Telephone number, 574.

The regular monthly meeting of the Vermont Wheel club will be held at the club rooms Tuesday, September 6, at 7.30 p. m., to transact the regular order of business.

Brattleboro Private School

Opens Sept. 5 in rooms formerly occupied by Dr. Kinkaid, Thompson block. For information call at 1 Harris Place.

David G. O'Neil and Emanuel A. Johnson have formed a co-partnership to carry on a general painting, decorating and paper hanging business. Both have had years of experience in Brattleboro and elsewhere. They may be addressed at Box 71, Brattleboro.

BRATTLEBORO.

Tickets for Mrs. Pratt's "Enoch Arden" may be procured from any member of the Woman's club.

The First Regiment band of 39 pieces will give a concert at the camp ground this evening at 8 o'clock.

St. Michael's Roman Catholic choir will begin singing high mass Sunday after a vacation of two months.

Next Wednesday, the opening day of the county court, a special train will leave Brattleboro for Newfane at 9.30 a. m.

W. G. Doolittle has sold the Moseley farm in Vernon, where he has been living the past summer, to George E. Brooks of Vernon.

The cup that will be awarded the best all-round athlete in the Wheel club sports is an exhibition in Vaughan & Burnett's window.

G. E. Gilman received Tuesday at his Elliot street address a box of horses which he bought from farmers in Southern Michigan.

There will be a service for men at the Y. M. C. A. rooms next Sunday at 4 o'clock p. m. President E. C. Crosby will give the address.

The Y. M. C. A. rooms are being repaired for electric lights, in order that the wiring may conform to the rules of the insurance companies.

The West Dummerston brass band will celebrate its 10th anniversary Monday, Labor day, with a vocal and instrumental program. Ice cream and cake will be served.

The ladies' aid society of the Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. C. D. Smith next Wednesday afternoon to sew. All interested are asked to come, whether members or not.

The W. C. T. U. resumed their regular meetings yesterday, and it was decided to hold meetings the first and third Thursdays in each month until further notice, instead of having a meeting each week.

A meeting of the Audubon society will be held Monday evening, Sept. 5, at 7.30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. A. D. Wyatt. Some proposed changes in the by-laws will be considered. A full attendance is desired.

The September meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 6, Lafayette day, from 2 to 6 o'clock with Mrs. E. A. Starkey at her home on Oak street, in observance of the year book anniversary. The paper for the afternoon will be prepared and read by Miss Susan E. Clark. It is hoped there will be a good attendance.

The freemen's meeting will open at Festival hall Tuesday promptly at 9 o'clock. The voters in the list from A to K inclusive will vote at the south side of the hall and those from K to Z inclusive on the north side. The box for town representative will be turned at 3 o'clock, but the election will not be held until 5 o'clock. The election is important to have voters study the directions for voting, which will be distributed conspicuously throughout the town.

Last Sunday evening occurred the last of the open-air meetings which have been held on the common during July and August. Rev. A. G. Lawson of Newark, N. J., was the speaker, and there was singing by the colored quartet from Atlanta university. About 800 people were present. Nine meetings were held and the average attendance was about 800. The smallest attendance was at the first meeting, when there were but 60 present. The largest crowd was brought out at the sacred concert by the First Baptist church. That night there were over 1400 people on the common. The collections taken have more than paid all expenses connected with them, and there is a balance of about $25 in the hands of the treasurer. These meetings will undoubtedly be resumed another season.

The Woman's club takes pleasure in announcing an evening of songs, to be given by Mrs. Harriet Brasor Pratt at the Brooks House Thursday, Sept. 8, at 8.30 o'clock. Mrs. Pratt will recite Tennyson's poem, "Enoch Arden," and will sing several selections from Tennyson's "In Memoriam." The melodrama, "Enoch Arden," with incidental music by Edward Strauss, the most discussed composer of modern times, excepting, perhaps, Richard Wagner, has been given all over the world during the past two years. The music was written by the young composer about seven years ago, and is a tone poem of great beauty and power, following the lines of Richard Wagner's music dramas. The principal thought in the music is in the use of the "leitmotif," each personage in the poem having his own musical phrase to announce his appearance in the action of the play. Every phrase is of perfect beauty and fragrance, with the deepest and most tragic power. Strauss is a Revolutionary in music, and as such has torn down and more swiftly rebuilt than any other worker in literary or musical history.

Letter to Dunham Brothers.

Dear Sirs: Would you rather have your customers speak of your shoes as wearing well, as not running down at the heel, as turning water, and taking a shine; or wag their heads and say nothing?

We'd rather have ours, at long intervals, say: "We want more pairs, and we want Devere's." We know it isn't in human nature to paint very often; we don't expect them to come very often; don't want 'em to. All we want is to paint what they have to paint, when ever they paint it; the longer the time, the surer they are to come back. There's business enough in the world; let 'em take their time.

If we were a shoemaker, we'd make shoes to last a lifetime, and shoe the whole town.

Yours truly, F. W. DEVERE & CO. P. S. Robbins & Cowles sell our paint.

Of all "Soft Drinks" Williams' Root Beer is the crinkiest, most wholesome and natural. Try it.

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

Wm. H. West Big Minstrel Jubilee tonight. Two years ago yesterday President Roosevelt spoke on the common.

The Grange Sewing society will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The local tobacco crop, which is pronounced the best in years, has been harvested.

Tickets for "Way Down East" go on sale next Wednesday morning, Sept. 7, at the box office.

A. E. Magill of Washington, D. C., has sold his real estate in Amherst, known as the Holt place, on East Pleasant street, to Ella M. Harvey of Brattleboro.

The Junior Sunshine society will hold their annual sale of aprons, jelly, candy, cake and lemonade on Thursday, Sept. 5, from 3 to 5, at the home of Mrs. J. L. Martin.

The deposition of F. A. Cutler of Minneapolis, taken before F. D. E. Stowe Monday, will be used in the hearing of the case of the trustees for Mary Blakeslee-Piggott.

John Stafford, in attempting to step from an electric car near his home in West Brattleboro Thursday while carrying several bundles, fell heavily and fractured his collar bone.

The open season for hunting partridges, woodcock and squirrels brought a large number of hunters into the fields yesterday. The season is pronounced to be the best in years, as both squirrels and game birds are numerous.

At a session of the United States district court held Saturday, Judge H. D. Wheeler gave 15 men the first naturalization papers. Six more filed their declaration papers. The majority of these men were Swedes.

The sale by auction of the E. E. Stockwell real estate and personal property on Struce street will take place on Saturday next week at 10.30 a. m. It will be the most important sale of the kind lately held in this village.

There were hearings before Referee F. D. E. Stowe Monday in the bankruptcy cases of Demaster H. Wheeler and Chas. W. Brooks, both of Putney. C. C. Fitts appeared for the creditors in each case. E. C. Bacon appeared for Brooks and E. L. Waterman for Wheeler.

Forty building lots were sold in the Oak Grove park section at the auction held Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The prices ranged from $65 to $300 on the lot. No more auctions will be held at present, but lots will be disposed of at private sale through J. H. Randall's real estate agency.

General Roadmaster Elrod, Superintendent of Traction Milling and Superintendent Nash of the Central Vermont, made a trip to West Dummerston Wednesday morning to look over the plans for a new bridge to replace the one taken out by high water last spring. A temporary trestle has been in use since that time.

Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," in which Miss Marie Walworth is to appear at the Auditorium soon, in the role of Viola, is a series of amusing and confusing comedy and confusion, running at large in the disguise of a page among the children of Illyria. This one of the merriest productions of Shakespeare's many-sided genius.

Officers McKay, Bridges and Ward, riding on the Maplewood House in Whitehall, Mass., Saturday and secured liquor to the value of $100. Whatly is a license town. Mr. Foxworth, who went from Brattleboro and has been running the hotel the past two years, did not have a license. He has been summoned to appear in court in Greenfield Sept. 13.

The annual meeting of the Society of Secular Women, North Women and Shop Girls was held in Festival hall Saturday, when these officers were chosen: President, Mrs. A. J. Currier; vice president, Miss Adelle M. Pratt; secretary, Miss Helen Leach; treasurer, Miss Abbie Pratt; executive committee, Mrs. Currier, Miss Mary J. Donnell, Miss Abbie Pratt.

Sheriff C. J. Knapp will sell the household goods of James Rafter at 10 o'clock in front of the American House Saturday, Sept. 17. The goods were left in storage by Mr. and Mrs. Rafter when they left town for a vacation. There are two attachments on them, one in favor of M. J. Moran for $168.88, the balance due for goods purchased of Mr. Moran, and the other in favor of P. F. Connors for $23.88.

Carl Harwood was arrested by Chief Paul Starwood night, at the home of G. E. Harwood, his father, on Northern avenue. Harwood was found home in a somewhat intoxicated condition and got into a quarrel with his brother. He was finally overpowered and tied with a bedsheet and taken to the jail. In police court Monday morning before Judge Newton he was found guilty of disturbing the peace and fined $5 and costs.

During the excavating for the foundation of the Emerson building on Flat street Monday the retaining wall on the Elliot street side started to cave, and it was necessary to brace it with heavy timbers, which will be removed when the foundation is completed. The sidewalk on Elliot street for some distance dropped several inches. The retaining wall was built in 1828 and has been in great difficulty being rebuilt or changed two or three times before it stayed in place.

D. E. Tasker, secretary of the Valley Fair, is at this time receiving many letters from farmers and others asking for privileges and room to exhibit their "new way" attractions. This year, as always in the past, the fair management also offers a number of prizes for the best kind on the grounds, holding the most straight, clean agricultural and cattle show, with good racing, is what the people want. Mr. Tasker, secretary, received the other day was from a man wanting to exhibit a "wild man." He assured Mr. Tasker that he had "the real thing."

The encampments of Odd Fellows in district No. 8 will have a field day and district meeting on the grounds of the Odd Fellows home on Ludlow Monday, Sept. 5, Labor day. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance. The Oasis encampment so that reduced rates may be secured. The members in the same gathering. An interesting and helpful program will be presented. Deacon John O. Spring of Bellows Falls is chairman of the entertainment committee, and will look after the comfort of the guests while there.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO. Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out all obligations made by him.

WALDING, KINSMAN & MARTIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price, 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The Ladies' Enterprise society will meet with Mrs. George Fuller on Eatey street next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

L. A. Pierce of South Londonderry has been appointed county examiner of teachers, to succeed W. A. Hartborne of Townshend, who has moved from the state.

The public schools, which have usually opened the fall term the Tuesday after Labor day, will not begin this year until Sept. 12. The parochial school will begin its fall term on the same date.

Labor day will be generally observed next Monday by the closing of stores and banks. The post office will be open from 7 to 12 in the forenoon and the carriers will make one morning delivery.

Several musicians from Fitchburg and elsewhere are to give a concert at the camp ground in playing at the camp previous to the departure of the troops to Manassas. The augmented band contains 39 pieces.

Deputy Sheriff C. I. Knapp has placed an attachment on the Prospect Hill store of W. W. Macela to satisfy a judgment of $96 in favor of H. P. Stone & Co. of Springfield, Mass., and a suit to recover the amount of the claim will be held Sept. 20.

Lewis Johnson received Wednesday from the national fish hatchery in St. Johnsbury, Mass., a study to cultivate ponds. The fish were brought here by Mr. Cobb, one of the employees of the hatchery.

Mr. and Mrs. William Beattie of South Londonderry have a family which should not be pointed to as an illustration of race suicide. They have been married nine years and have eight children. Four children were born in the town of South Londonderry, a pair of girls, coming Tuesday.

The regular cars on the electric railroad will run through to the fair ground until Saturday night. The working end of the road is somewhat crippled through the absence of Charles Stockwell, Arthur Wilson and Ralph Pettie, three conductors, who with the two other supervising conductors and other employees are working over time to handle the traffic.

An Italian woman came in on the 9.50 train Tuesday night, wanting to go to West Dummerston. She had with her two small children, one a baby. She could not talk or understand English more than to make it known where she wanted to go. After a long search she was taken to a freighter and Chief Hall finally secured B. Manelli to act as interpreter and resound the woman. A team was secured from North & Year's at the depot. The woman and children were carried on to West Dummerston that night.

James F. Carey, a former mayor of Fitchburg, Mass., spoke in Festival hall Monday evening in the town of Brattleboro. He was in the town of Brattleboro in the Socialist movement. About 200 people were present and accepted Mr. Carey's statements with mild enthusiasm. A large proportion of the audience came more from curiosity than for anything else. They found Mr. Carey an interesting speaker, who advanced his arguments without the least vulgar manner which was expected by many. Mr. Carey was impartial in his arrangement of both the Democratic and Republican parties, stating the advantages of each and laying the only salvation for the country.

"Better than ever" is the verdict upon the performance of the West minstrels this season, given under the management of the well known purveyor of minstrelsy, Sanford R. Risley. This declaration is the more pointed when one considers that the West minstrels have always been to the fore in the minstrel business. They have some 50 members in the company. Several of the old favorites are to be again seen in the front, while the acquisition of some new and clever talent, in conjunction with a lot of new and novel features, entitles the entertainment given by this celebrated minstrel company to the verdict as above, "Better than ever."

In tearing down the ruins of L. F. Adams's house, the old Clark place, recently burned at the corner of High and Oak streets, an interesting poster was found yesterday, calling for proposals for furnishing 500 piles for the railroad bridge at Northfield, to be delivered on the banks of the North River, between Horse-bout Ferry in Northfield and the mouth of West River in Brattleboro. Bids were to be received at the store of G. C. Hall until August 25.

Mr. Hall or J. D. Edwards, the engineer at Northfield. The bill was dated the 10th of August, and was for the purchase of 500 piles for the Railroad company in Northfield August 14, 1847.

Charles Cassidy, foreman at the freight house, was seriously hurt on the island bridge, Sunday morning. Cassidy was in a cage of three-tones being hoisted over their heads. Cassidy was marking the distance and was bending over to mark a stone weighing about seven pounds, thrown by the men on the island bridge. Cassidy struck him in the head. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the hospital. An operation may be necessary. Mr. Cassidy is married and has four children.

The destruction of the old toll bridge over the Connecticut river by fire has begun. This structure has been used jointly as a highway and railroad bridge over 50 years. The toll franchise expired in 1828, and the railroad company had a road company to compel the town to join in the building of a new bridge but terms could not be made. At this juncture came the offer of Mr. H. H. Shell of Shelburne memorial bridge further up the river and this was accepted by the town. Travel has continued over the old bridge up to the present time but it will cease this week. Even with the two new bridges in use the people will miss the toll bridge which has given a part of the town. The new bridge which the railroad company will erect will be a fine, sturdy structure of iron. Fifty or 20 carloads of material for the bridge have arrived this week. The American Bridge company has the contract for its construction.

The Vermont Wheel club will observe Labor day Monday, Sept. 5, with the annual field day excursion to Valley View park in Vernon. Members will meet at the club rooms at 10 a. m. to march from there through Main street to the library and thence to the railroad station, to leave on the train at 10.40. The first train will leave at 11.30. The club members will accompany the Wheel club on the excursion to Valley View park on the day. A bill of fare of unusual excellence will be served by Caterer Hall. A large part of the day will be devoted to the sporting events, to be run in the following order: Ball game, five innings; E. G. Allen and W. O. Coolidge captain; 50 yards dash; 100 yards dash; 50 yard handicap for members; 25 and 35 years old; relay race, 500 yards; ten men on a side; L. H. Miller and W. H. Perry captains; tug or war; tug on a side; married vs. single; John Bissett and J. J. Moynihan captains; old fashioned one ball; E. W. Blodgett and V. O. Jones captains; first second and third prizes will be given in each event, and a special prize for the greatest general score, counting five points for first place, three for second and one for third. Following are the officials for the day: C. R. Crosby, marshal; aids, H. R. Lawrence, M. J. Moran, E. W. Blodgett, L. G. Tasker, C. R. Aldrich; athletic committee, J. P. Ritter, B. Williamson; starter, G. E. Foster; timers, H. R. Randall, A. S. Thompson; judges, C. A. McElie, A. H. Pettie, C. W. Nichols; announcer, J. P. Ritter. A special train leaving Vernon at 5 o'clock will bring the members of the club home.

FIRST REGIMENT IN CAMP AT FAIR GROUNDS

Arrived Yesterday in Three Battalions--Will leave Saturday Afternoon for Manassas, Va.--Parade at 5.15 Today, Band Concert at 8

The First Regiment, Vermont National Guard, is now encamped on the Valley Fair grounds, preparatory to leaving for Manassas, Va., to take part with 25,000 troops in the manoeuvres, including mimic battle, for ten days.

The regiment will be divided into three battalions, the boys of Company I, who had assembled at their quarters in the People's National bank building, formed in line at the corner of Main and Elliot streets, and marched from thence to the fair ground, where they put in a hard day's work in arranging the camp. It had been suggested that owing to the short stay here, the soldiers be quartered in the small shelter or "pup" tents, but it was finally decided to pitch the camp in regular regimental quarters.

The officer of the guard was Lieut. Col. J. G. Estey, in command of the Regiment. The officers of the guard were: Capt. E. W. Gibson, in command of Company I.

A part of the "Brown army" which will operate against the "Blue army," and they will be a part of the Second division, Fourth brigade, under the command of Col. F. A. Smith, of the 8th United States Infantry. The Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

The officer of the day yesterday was Capt. M. L. Brock of Company G, Bradford. The officer of the guard was Lieut. Morse of Company F, Northfield, and the junior officer of the guard Lieut. Senter of Company H, Montpelier. Today, Friday, the Vermont regiment will be accompanied with five companies of the 8th United States Infantry, one battalion of the Delaware Infantry, the Second South Carolina regiment, two battalions of the West Virginia Infantry.

A Sensation in Children's Clothing

Our entire stock of these goods we shall place on sale for