Montpelier, Oct. 21.

State officers were elected Thursday afternoon and there was no contest except in the case of Gardner S. Fessett, trustee of the University of Vermont. Clayton J. Wright of Williston was nominated in opposition but was defeated on a ballot. Mr. Wright was a colonel on the staff of Governor Bell and served one term in the House. These are the officers elected: Supreme court judges, J. W. Howell, Randolph, Lovell and Munson of Manchester; H. Watson of Montpelier, Seneca Haselton of Burlington, George M. Powers of Morrisville; superior judges, W. W. Minor of Haverhill, E. L. Waterman of Brattleboro, A. A. Hall of St. Albans, W. H. Taylor of Hardwick, Zed S. Stanton of Roxbury, F. M. Butler of Rutland; superintendent of education, Mason S. Stone of Montpelier; auditor and inspector and quartermaster general, Lee S. Tuttle of Montpelier; sergeant at arms, C. H. Ferrin of Montpelier; trustees of the University of Vermont and State Agricultural college, John C. McCullough of Bennington, Cassius Peck of Burlington, Gardner S. Fessett of Enosburg, to succeed themselves, N. K. Chaffee of Rutland to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George Atkinson of Woodstock.

The trustee process bill, absolutely exempting 10 wages from trustee process, was ordered to a third reading in the House Thursday morning and will be passed Friday.

The first bill passed was that introduced by Page of Hyde Park and rushed through under suspension of the rules, permitting the rebuilding of the county building at Hyde Park. The bill killed in the House was that introduced by Hunt of New Haven, which would limit the term of town treasurers to two years. The town of New Haven has had some trouble with its treasurer and Mr. Hunt sought to guard against any repetition of such trouble.

Monday evening, address to the Vermont branch of the Red Cross society by Miss Mabel T. Boardman of Washington. Tuesday morning, annual meeting of the Colonial Dames; afternoon, song lecture for the society by Frederick W. Bancroft; evening, official reception by Gov. and Mrs. Mead, assisted by former governors and their wives. Tuesday evening, governor's bill at the city hall.

There has been some delay on the part of the contractors in getting the city hall ready for the session of the legislature.

The election of Carroll S. Page of Hyde Park United States senator to succeed himself for the full term of six years was the important business accomplished by the legislature this week. It appeared as if his election would be unanimous, as the Democrats at their caucus decided not to make a nomination. But when the roll call came two members of the House refused to vote for him.

The nomination in the House was made by Shag of Stowe, the only Democratic member from Lamoille county. Hunt of New Haven, the only Republican member, and a retired lawyer, asked to be excused when his name was reached. The House decided to vote for Mr. Page and there were only 22 absentees.

In the Senate Pike of Lamoille made the nominating speech and the nomination was secured by nearly every county. The vote in the Senate was unanimous, with one member absent.

The election was completed Wednesday noon, the two houses meeting in joint assembly in accordance with the statute. The roll call of the members of the two houses was read, showing a majority in the case of Mr. Page, and he was thereupon declared elected. He was escorted to the chamber and delivered a speech of acceptance.

In a speech Senator Page, after expressing his thanks for the high honor conferred, gave an account of his stewardship. He spoke at length of the tariff bill, and said that the measure as originally presented, would have ruined the granite and marble interests of Vermont. Through the efforts of Senators Tillamush and Page, a modification of the reduction proposed was secured, making one-sixth instead of one-half, as proposed. The important legislation enacted by Congress was reviewed in a very informing way by the senator. He spoke at length of the proposed amendment to the federal constitution, urging that the state retain its power to levy the proposed income tax.

Surprise was occasioned Monday by the publication of a statement that Senator Stone's job as superintendent of education was in danger. The only reason for this was that he had introduced a bill which had introduced a bill making the office appointive instead of elective, but any significance that might have attached to that action on his part was nullified by the fact, which the enterprising reporters did not know, that Col. Billings and Mr. Stone are close personal friends. The purpose of the bill was simply to take the office of superintendent of education out of politics. Whether or not that is the wise method is a question, but the purpose was sincere and there was no intention or purpose to injure Mr. Stone.

After the election of Senator Page had been declared it was moved by Senator Pike of Stowe that a committee be appointed to report to the chair, and the committee named for that purpose was composed of Senators Pike of Lamoille and Davis of Windsor, Representatives Calderwood of St. Johnsbury, Ames of Brighton and Chaffee of Rutland.

Mrs. Annette Parmelee of Enosburg falls appeared at the state house Wednesday. She is here to forward a suffrage bill and one result of her appearance was seen in the introduction of two petitions asking for a state prohibitory law.

A hearing on the proposed amendment to the federal constitution providing for an income tax was held in the Senate chamber Wednesday evening. The main argument of the evening was made by Gov. J. L. Barstow of Shelburne, who favored the proposed amendment. Mr. Barre and Senator Max L. Powell of Burlington also favored the amendment and P. G. Howland, a former state senator and cashier of one of the Barre banks, was the only speaker in opposition.

Bills introduced by Windham County Members.

The Windham county members have been active in introducing bills this week, as will be seen by the following summary:

Joint resolution--By Mr. Habbitt of Rockingham expressing the esteem of the state for the late Gen. W. H. Gilmore. Adopted on the part of the House. By Mr. Habbitt of Rockingham. Resolved on the death of Larkin G. Mead. Mr. Habbitt spoke on the resolution which was adopted on the part of the House.

S. 11--By Senator Butler of Windham, an act regulating pay of grand and petit jurors; for transportation eight cents a mile for attendance $2.50 per day; each juror $2.50 per day when kept together by order of the court, necessary expenses to be borne by the state; to judiciary.

Only Small Amount Available to Pay General Appropriations.

Following the election of senator in the House Wednesday Allen M. Fletcher of Cavendish, chairman of the committee on ways and means, issued a note of warning to members and requested appropriations for the session and cautioned them against extravagance. He said that the state had no money in the treasury and that they must be careful of their money.

Mr. Fletcher reminded them that the federal income tax matter would come before the legislature and that many of these direct inheritance taxes. This bill passed the House two years ago and now it is back again.
