MEN WANTED

On Friday, June 7, a number of employees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company left their positions without notice and went on a strike which now exists. These represented almost entirely the newer, younger, more inexperienced men. A large majority of the men, including nearly all of the older, responsible men, remained with the company and have faithfully served in operating its car service, which has been well maintained over its entire system. The Company wants at once suitable experienced Motormen and Conductors to fill the places of men who have left the service, and offers attractive, permanent employment not only to these but to other worthy persons who can qualify. For full information write or apply to Superintendent of Employment, 153 Milk Street, Boston, Mass.

FLETCHER WON.

No newspaper has anything like complete returns from the caucuses held throughout the state Tuesday, but it is evident that Allen M. Fletcher of Cavendish has won the nomination for the governorship by a big majority. Fletcher lost Woodstock and several other towns in his own county, but to offset these he won several in DeBoer's home county, Washington.

In the Second Congressional district the opposition to Frank Plumley dissolved to the point where a magnifying glass is needed to locate it. Mr. Plumley will have the support of more than 300 delegates. At the Plumley headquarters 23 delegates are conceded to Judge E. W. Gibson and 7 to F. D. Thompson of Barton. From Mr. Gibson's headquarters it is understood that 30 delegates were chosen under instructions to support him. Windham county evidently gave Plumley 40 delegates and Gibson 21. Mr. Thompson, who claimed Orleans county solidly, barely carried his home town by 20 majority.

Frank L. Greene of St. Albans has won the nomination in the First Congressional district. Col. Greene was handsomely endorsed in his home city and throughout the district. Warren R. Austin of St. Albans secured 16 delegates in Franklin county and some scattering votes throughout the district, while W. K. Farnsworth of Rutland carried his home city and a few towns in Rutland county.

It is impossible to tell anything definite about the preferences of delegates on the lieutenant governorship, but close observers of political affairs predict the nomination of Frank E. Howe of Bennington.

The intense interest recently awakened throughout the state in the administration of public education has culminated in a demand for a meeting where representatives of every phase of educational work, together with an interested public, may freely discuss the value of the present system and formulate plans for its improvement. The public is cordially invited to be present at and participate in a discussion of this subject at Queen City park, Burlington, at 8 p. m., June 27. The call for the meeting is signed by the presidents of the three Vermont colleges, the members of the state board of education, the principals of the leading high schools, including Brattleboro, and others deeply interested in educational problems.

The tentative platform of the Republican party of Vermont is an admirable document. The needs of the state are fully recognized and the taxation question is handled with a deeper insight than in any previous platform. There is a demand for reformation of our primary system among a large percentage of the voters. Mr. Johnson, in writing the platform, evidently recognized the fact that the direct primary laws which have been enacted in some of the states are cumbersome and unsatisfactory and he has therefore recommended a simple plan for direct preferential vote by ballot for state and national officials. The platform is published in full on page four of this paper and we advise a full perusal of its several planks.

MISS MYRTLE DEROSIER.

Miss Myrtle Derosier, 26, a nurse in the Memorial hospital, died in the hospital Tuesday evening about 6:15 o'clock after an illness of several weeks. She had been in ill health since March, 1911. At that time she contracted diphtheria while caring for a patient and for a time was in a critical condition. The hospital was under quarantine at the time. The disease left her in a weakened condition, but she continued her work and on April 1 was given her diploma. A few days afterward she was taken ill, and death resulted from peritonitis.

Miss Derosier was born in Norfolk, N. Y., May 14, 1886, and was a daughter of James J. and Addie Barhart Derosier, who lived in Messing, N. Y., before going to Norfolk. Miss Derosier moved with her parents to Woodstock, this state, when she was a young girl and attended the schools of that town. She came to Brattleboro four years ago and had been in training since then. She was a very capable young woman and during her term of service here made many improvements of the latest pattern; wood sawing and splitting machinery, ice cutting tools, etc., completely equipped for the proper maintenance of an up-to-date farm; bungalow with all improvements recently built.

PENNANT RACE

STARTS JUNE 26

Bellows Falls vs. Brattleboro in Opening Game

University of Vermont and Other College Stars on the Local Team—Looks Like Winning Aggregation.

The Twin State baseball season will open in Brattleboro next Wednesday, June 26, when the Islanders will battle against Manager Keady's Bellows Falls aggregation. On the previous day Keene will play against Northampton in the Massachusetts city. On Thursday of next week Brattleboro will play in Bellows Falls, on the following day in Northampton, and on Saturday, June 29, Northampton will come here. Manager Hazelton's cohorts will thus start the league season with four games in four days.

Among the players who will be with Brattleboro next week are Malcolm and Winkler, the two regular pitchers of the University of Vermont this season, who are rated equal to anything in the college ranks in America. Mayforth, who has been the mainstay of the same team behind the bat, will be one of the regular catchers, and the other will be Donnelly, with the University of Vermont last season. Donnelly is a heavy hitter. He was with the crack Cooperstown, N. Y., club during the summer season of 1911. The infield will include Smith of the University of Vermont at first base; Riddon of Bates college, a swatter who leads off for his team, at second; Paquette, formerly of the University of Vermont, on third base; Grow, another old U. V. M. star, who was with Springfield-Charlestown last season, at short stop. Davies of the Amherst Aggies, who will play outfield, is good enough to have been offered a contract by one of the Philadelphia Athlete's clubs. Other players who will report early are Flaherty, Malden and Sweet of the University of Vermont; Lawrence, who was one of the fence breakers of the Northern league, and Sheldon, a very promising youngster from Williams seminary.

Manager Hazelton will be ready to cover first base if wanted and will be available as a pinch hitter. He has a notable record as a ball player, including a term of service in the American association, and was always a terror with the bat.

The players will begin to arrive Monday. Manager Hazelton will take charge of the squad Tuesday morning.

The Brattleboro team looks gilt-edged paper. Manager Hazelton has a fine record as a player, coach and manager, but he is a man of attractive personality. We believe Brattleboro people will like him and that they will pull with him for the success of the team in 1912.

Here's looking toward another gonzo day to wave beside the one won in 1911!

Wheeler, southpaw, with Bennington, has expressed a wish to join the Islanders.

Kennedy, captain of Holy Cross, has made application for a place on the local team.

The Northampton club of the Twin-State league will be known in sporting vernacular as the Meadow Larks.

The Partridge ball will be used in the opening games, and if found satisfactory will be the official ball of the league.

Bennington and Northampton have clashed twice. Bennington won the first game 2-0, but Northampton took the second 7-0.

The management expected Snell, Brown university catcher, to come to Brattleboro, but the question was raised that Bellows Falls had a claim on him. He may not play with either team.

James F. Meehan, the promising youngster who was with the Islanders a part of last season, will probably report Tuesday for a try-out with the squad. James A. Dexter of Wardsboro has applied for a trial with the team.

Season tickets may be bought, entitling the holder to the same at every game. If the holder has guests with him at any particular game his seat may be transferred for that game to any other person, and the same friends. The season tickets with reserved seats will go on sale Monday at 9 a. m., in Root's pharmacy.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

Harland B. Howe of St. Johnsbury the Nominee for Governor—Browne Faction Defeated the Burke Faction.

The Democratic state convention, held in Montpelier Tuesday, nominated the following ticket: For governor, Harland B. Howe of St. Johnsbury; lieutenant governor, Thomas H. Browne of St. Johnsbury; treasurer, Martin A. Brown of Wilmington; secretary, J. C. Durick of Fair Haven; auditor, L. C. Johnson of Burlington; attorney, R. E. Bailey of Montpelier. The presidential electors are P. S. Howe of Montpelier, A. J. Sibley of Montpelier, J. G. Ullery of Brattleboro, S. J. Cray of Bellows Falls. The delegates to the Democratic national convention are C. D. Watson of St. Albans; Dr. W. B. Mayo of Northfield; F. J. Martin of Bennington; B. E. Bullard of Harwick. The fight between Thomas H. Browne of Rutland and James E. Burke of West Rutland, to determine the choice of the state member of the national Democratic convention, was won by Browne. The Burke faction contended the election of three of the delegates at large, but in each case was decisively beaten. D. E. Sullivan of Winooski, R. E. Shaw of Brattleboro, C. L. Luce of Waterbury and P. E. Adams of Hartford are district delegates to the national convention. P. M. Melton of Rutland and O. C. Sawyer of Sharon are the nominees as congressional candidates. The new state committee contains four Burke men and 10 Browne men. J. G. Ullery of Brattleboro is the Windham county member of the committee.

The platform calls for revision of the tariff, commends efforts of the democratic House to reduce the cost of living; favors restriction of trusts; election of senators by popular vote; federal income tax; revision of state tax laws and direct primary. It condemns the present caucus law and the employers' liability statute; calls for more efficient supervision of public schools; demands exemption of wages from trustee process; retention of local option law; that all state officers be elected by the people; that growth of state expenses be checked, and that manufacturing should be encouraged by placing water powers under state supervision. It also pledges the party to support a constitutional amendment for initiative and referendum.

Clarence Smith of Holyoke came Monday to work in the Albany cafe.

Martin Murphy of Putney left this week for New York city. He will sail on the Laconia of the Cunard line for Ireland Monday for an extended vacation.

ROOSEVELT BEATEN

NOW A BOLTER

Allows His Followers to Choose Their Own Course

Says He Will Accept an Independent Nomination if It is Offered Him—Little Progress Made Yesterday.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt has bolted the Republican party. In a statement issued yesterday, the ex-president said that he would decline to be bound by any further action the Republican national convention may take, and would not regard as binding any nomination it may make. He leaves his followers the right to choose their own course of action, but says that he is willing to accept an independent nomination.

The question is now whether his course will be followed by the progressives in the convention. Reports indicate that the progressives are badly divided, some, like Johnston of California, loudly declaring for a new party, while others, like Gov. Hadley of Missouri, are anxious to keep the Republican party intact. Chairman Root has given notice that no bolting convention will be allowed in the Coliseum, and that force will be used to prevent such a gathering.

The convention will meet at Little yesterday. It met for four minutes at 12 o'clock and then adjourned to 4 o'clock, when meeting one minute. The convention meeting, which was held in the Coliseum, is awaiting the completion of the work of the committee on credentials.

The Taft forces won the first round in the Republican national convention at Chicago Tuesday. After a turbulent session, marked by acrimonious debate, Chairman Root of New York, the committee's choice for temporary chairman, was elected by a vote of 568 to 502 for Governor McGoVERN of Wisconsin. Chairman Root was given notice that no bolting convention will be allowed in the Coliseum, and that force will be used to prevent such a gathering.

On Wednesday the motion of Governor Hadley of Missouri to eliminate from the roll the 92 delegates claimed by Roosevelt to have been seated was wrong. The motion was taken up and by agreement a three hour debate followed, with Hadley and Watson leading the respective sides. Of the 254 contents only 19 were awarded to Roosevelt. The feature of the day was the tremendous demonstration in recognition of Gov. Hadley, who was cheered for more than 40 minutes and hailed as the next president by endorsing La Follette's candidate for chairman, but the scheme failed, a majority of the Wisconsin delegation breaking away from it.

Roosevelt is in Chicago in person to lead the fight. He was given a tumultuous welcome on his arrival and addressed a throng in the auditorium Monday night, saying: "If they want the sword we'll give it to them." His talk clearly indicates a bolt, if he cannot have his way about the questioned delegates. On the other hand, some of his leaders, including Gove, Hadley and Denen, authorize the statement that there will be no bolt.

Tim Woodruff of New York has flopped to Roosevelt. New York apparently stands 77 for Taft and 13 for Roosevelt. In most states there are more votes in the minority than in the majority.

The margin is so close that the 46 La Follette and Cummins votes may prevent a choice. Justice Hughes has definitely declined to be a compromise candidate.

LOCAL OVERFLOW.

Prof. Lewis B. Paton of Hartford will preach in the Congregational church Sunday. E. C. Crosby will lead the devotional services in the chapel this evening.

The last meeting of the W. C. T. U. before the summer vacation will be held in the rest room next Monday at 4 o'clock. A full attendance is desired as there is business to be transacted.

Fritz Hanson will wrestle "Young" Olsen of Newfoundland in the Grand opera house in Boston Monday evening. "Kid" Goodheart, who has been training with the local man in Boston, came here with him yesterday.

Fort Dummer colony of Pilgrim Fathers received several candidates Tuesday night. Refreshments were served and a social hour and games were enjoyed. The governor, J. P. Mack, presented the colony a large United States flag, such as is used in their work.

The annual meeting of the Society of Seamstresses, Needlewomen and Shop-girls will be held in the rest room Thursday evening. Festival hall is engaged for next week, making it necessary to hold this meeting elsewhere. The members are urged to consider the importance of keeping up the organization and to be present next Thursday.

The pulpit of the Methodist church was decorated with mountain laurel, wild flowers, potted plants and palms Sunday morning, when the Children's day exercises were held. A large audience was present at the program, as follows: Organ prelude; opening song, girls chorus; recitation, Charlotte Houghton; recitation, Marjorie Adams; song, girls chorus; recitation, Esther Daniels; recitation, Olive Birch; class songs; girls class; exercise, boys' class; recitation, Virginia Varney; recitation, Bertha horse; recitation, Donald Wilder; song, girls chorus; recitation, Ethel Morse; exercise, four girls; recitation, Ruth Boorn; song, girls chorus; recitation, Minnie Jondro; recitation, Nellie Varney; exercise, girls' class; class songs; boys class; exercise, primary class; remarks, Miss Crawford, chairman; closing song, girls chorus.

The graduation exercises of the 9th grade of the public schools were held in the Baptist church Friday afternoon. The church was decorated with mountain laurel and white carnations and a large audience was present. The class roll was published last week. The program was as follows: Prayer, Rev. J. R. Gow, D. D., pastor of the Baptist church; duet, "Imperial Gavotte," by Engelmann; Evelyn Harris and Kathryn Sherman; "Song of the armorer," chorus; narrative, "The boat race," by Grant, Kenneth Owen Smith; song, "My birch canoe," by Wiley, by Riley, by Bry; story, "The bear family," by Wells, Hazel Dorothea Wentworth; song, "Beauteous Waltz," chorus; story, "The bear family," by Wells, Hazel Dorothea Wentworth; song, "The old man," by Field, Mabel Jennie; recitation, "Love's old sweet song," recitation, "Mamma's 'I'll boy,'" by Edwards, Sylvia McCune Crosby; class prophecy, Joseph Gray Estey; presentation of certificates, J. C. L. Martin; class song; benediction, Rev. Dr. J. R. Gow.
