TRAINED ANIMALS.

Four-footed Actors Help Greatly in Rounding Out the Highly Interesting Program of the Sparks Shows. The management of the Sparks Shows

The management of the Sparks Shows have made it a study for years to give a circus program replete in all particulars, and knowing full well the importance of some high-class animal acts on the program, have this year imported from Germany several acts that cannot fail to create a sensation. The Germans lave made animal training a fine art, and some of the most notable animal acts in this country are but copies of the wonderful acts as they are produced across the water.

In the recent open double tournament for the championship of Norfolk county, Mass., held at the Wollaston Tennis club, Wollaston, Mass. Charles R. Currier, Milk street, Boston) and Fred H. Harris of Brattleboro won first prize, also the challenge cups which were put into play for the first time.

In and around Boston much attention is paid to the doubles game, especially by the business men, and many teams have been formed which have played toferocious man-killing beasts.

The extensive menagerie carried by the show also affords unusual interest to those who are fond of studying animal life. In it are presented many new specimens hitherto unknown to the zoos of America.

Besides the trained animals some of the world's greatest gymnasts, aerialists acrobats and equestrians have a place on the bill, and after the grand opening spectacle, which is brilliant in its color-ing and massive in effect, the program will go forward with so much vim and vigor, the acts will all be of such high order and classified to such a nicety. that the most critical audience canno help but be pleased.

The Sparks shows will give two com

a more than local reputation.
In the finals, Harris and Currier overcame W. C. Porter and R. O. Bray of Newton after a hard four-set match by the scores of 6-1, 6-4, 6-8, 7-5. The contest was watched with interest by a crowd of Wollaston spectators augmented by many visitors from Roston. The first set went to Harris and Currier easily at 6-1, and they led at 5-1 in the second when their opponents took a brace and annexed three games, but lost the next and set 6-4. Again in the third Harris and Currier took a lead, but Porter and Bray again railled and this time with sufficient force to pull out the set 8-6. In the fourth set Porter and Bray led at 5-4 and it looked like a five-set match but Harris and Currier were not to be decided and and Bray led at 5-4 and it looked like a five-set match but Harris and Currier were not to be denied and they won the set at 7-5 and with it the important Wollaston double title.

The other teams encountered by Harris and Currier in the tournament were Abbott and partner, whom they defeated 6-1, 6-2. They next took into camp Dana and Speare by a 6-3, 6-2 score. Much interest was centered in the outcome of the next match against D. S. Niles, brother of the famous star, N. W. Niles, and Wheelwright, who was a finalist in the recent Massachusetts state doubles tournament. This team, if any, was thought to be the second of the partner of the second of the partner of the second of the doubles tournament. This team, if any, was thought to be the one to take the measure of Harris and Currier and when they annexed the first two games in easy fashion, it looked as if the prophecy would be realized. Here, however, Harris and Currier struck their gait and "went through" their opponents, rapidly emerging riarris and Currier struck their gait and "went through" their opponents, rapidly emerging on the long end of a 6-3, 6-1 score. The next team, Beals and Merriam, lost in straight sets 6-1, 7-5, although they led at 5-4 in the second. Harris and Currier proved a strong combination, Currier especially showing up well and playing a consistent doubles game throughout the tourney. The rules provide that there shall be no challenge round, and next year Harris and Currier will have to play through the tournament successfully or—else lose the championship cups.

This week Mr. Harris is playing in Pittsburg, Pa., where the clay court champlonship of the United States will be decided from a field of over 100 players from all parts of the country.

elected department commander in the ninth annual encampment of the Department of Vermont, Spanish-American war veterans, which was held in Grand Army hall Friday. About 30 delegates were present from the six camps in this state and the attendance was somewhat smaller than at other encampments. Several delegates arrived Thursday evening and the others came on the "owl" train Friday morning. After a tour of inspection through the Estey Organ company's plant by special invitation of Col. J. Gray Estey, who was major of the third battalion tey, who was major of the third battalion of the 1st Vermont regiment during the Spanish-American war, and of J. Harry Estey, who was first lieutenant of Company I at the same time, the business meeting was held in Grand Army hall. It was voted to hold the encampment next year in this town.

These officers were elected: Department commander, Herbert W. Cottrell of Brattleboro: department senior vice consul-tleboro; department senior vice consul Arthur Stevens of St. Johnsbury; department junior vice consul, C. E. Leach of Burlington; department inspector, J. W. Laughton of Orleans; department judge advocate, E. J. Waterman of Brattleboro; department surgeon, T. J. Hagan of Pittsford; chapiain, John F. Long of Brattleboro; marshall, C. A. Davis of Newport; delegates to national convention at Atlantic City, A. S. Fox of St. Johns-bury, Daniel Cavanaugh and M. J. Sher-ry of Brattleboro and R. Corey of New-port. The delegates were empowered to choose their alternates.

Abe Martin, Indiana's funny man, writes a piece about the old-fashioned Fourth of July, and F. P. Dunne writes an amazingly able and moving editorial on the Titanic disaster.

He enlisted in A troop, 2d U. S. Cavalry, in April, 1897. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war the regiment was sent to Cuba and on July 1, 2, 3, 4 his company was in the thickest of the fight. These were the dates of the battles near Santiago and the 2d U. S. Cavalry was next in position to the 71st New York regiment during the fight of San Juan hill. Following the declaration of peace the cavlowing the declaration of peace the cav-alry regiment was transferred to the province of Mantazas and Mr. Cottrell remained in Mantanzas three years and six months. After that term in Cuba his regiment was transferred to the Philippines and for 28 months saw ser-vice in various parts of the islands. Many engagements were fought with the na tives, who were in insurrection against the government of the United States. To recuperate from the hard service in the islands the cavalry was transferred to Fort Ethan Allen and after 15 months there the newly elected department con mander was honorably discharged in 1903.
