

THE PUTNEY COLUMN

Death of Hugh C. Campbell. The following obituary of Hugh C. Campbell is taken from the Acton County Mail, published in Rockport, Mo. "Hugh C. Campbell, born at Putney, Vt., Nov. 18, 1841, died Oct. 18, 1912, at the Soldiers' Home at Leavenworth, Kansas. His illness was of a continuous nature and his death was not unexpected by his family and friends.

Mr. Campbell received a collegiate education in his native state, and after serving in the Union army throughout the Civil war, he engaged in farming. Later he engaged in teaching, beginning at Brookfield, Mo. From there he came to Rockport, where he was superintendent of the Rockport schools for a period of 10 consecutive years—a record that has not been equaled by anyone in charge of the Rockport schools.

Mr. Campbell was second in none, so shown by results, for from his school went forth some of the best equipped graduates in the history of the schools. We may say he was a model in his profession, the main features in his administration here being perfect control of his school and the confidence placed in him by all. He was a member of the G. A. R. and also dignified gentleman of high ideals who had the respect of all. With sincere sorrow his friends here learned of his falling health, beginning with a stroke a few years ago. From Rockport Prof. Campbell went to Kansas, where he continued teaching for several years.

He leaves a wife; two daughters—Miss Lucy Campbell of Chicago, and Mrs. F. A. Stiles of Rockport—and one son, Allan, of Neodesha, Kansas. Then follows a notice of the funeral, and of the burial under Masonic honors. The bearers were selected from graduates of Prof. Campbell's school.

Erza B. Kingsbury. Erza B. Kingsbury, 82, died in the home of his son, Orrin A. Kingsbury, in East Putney Monday morning about 11 o'clock after an illness about a month following an enfeebled condition of a number of years. He has made his home with his two sons, Robert and Orrin, and had been for about 18 months in the home of Orrin, where he was tenderly cared for in his last days.

HINSDALE, N. H.

Interest Centered in License Question. Tuesday was a day of excitement in Hinsdale. While several contests were on, the license question led all others and both sides were busy all day, using automobiles to carry the voters to and from the polls. This contest was very close, resulting in a majority of 19 for no-license, as follows: No, 198; yes, 188; blanks, 39.

The vote for presidential election was as follows: Republican, 29; Democratic, 105; Progressive, 102; Prohibition, 3; Socialist, 1. For governor, Franklin Worcester (Rep.) received 168, Samuel Feltner (Dem.) 93, and Winston Churchill (Prog.) 85. For representative, F. D. Currier (Rep.) 181, R. D. Stevens (Dem.) 152.

For county commissioner, Daniel R. Cole (Rep.) of Keene 186, F. A. Davis (Rep.) of Hinsdale 174, M. O. Spaulding (Rep.) of Keene 209, F. J. Marvin (Dem.) of Ashland 75, M. J. Mason (Dem.) of Marlboro 134, E. C. Robertson (Dem.) of Hinsdale 115. For town representative, Roy D. Taylor (Rep.) 242, O. C. Robertson (Dem.) 144.

For supervisors of check list—Republican, F. L. Latham 254, C. P. Lynch 239, A. L. Poier 233; Democrat, J. M. Lamb 104, R. M. Laugworthy 114, O. C. Robertson 116. For moderator, F. A. Buckley (Rep.) 255, E. C. Robertson (Dem.) 102.

Stirring No-License Rally. The no-license rally in the town hall Sunday evening was very largely attended. Rev. A. L. Hill presided and introduced Robert H. Giddings, secretary of the Massachusetts No-License league, who gave a very convincing address, advancing unanswerable arguments for no-license, which he backed up by statistics from numerous towns and cities of Massachusetts with the conditions of which, both under license and no-license, he was thoroughly conversant.

Commissary Quarters Burned. The commissary department of the Italian settlement south of the River Tavern, known as Grad's store, took fire Saturday afternoon and burned to the ground. The fire probably caught from the stove in the rear of the store and was not discovered until it had gained such headway that it was useless to try to fight it with the slight apparatus near. Consequently the only effort made was to save the nearby sheds. The loss was about $1000 and the property was not insured. This was the property of the Italian, Grad, not of the railroad company.

Dr. Rivier's sermon next Sunday (communion service) will be taken from Revelation 21, "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth." The Democratic rally Monday evening was attended by a good number. Some of the prominent members of the two other parties came to hear Dr. Rivier. His speech was followed with close attention. Dr. Rivier predicted that a formidable landslide would take place within the next 36 hours. Rollin S. Childs gave a talk on the same subject. NEW HAMPSHIRE NOTES.

George Tetrauli, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tetrauli, 21 Maple street, Keene, was playing around an open fire Sunday when his clothes came in contact with the flames. His mother worked desperately to save him and neighbors who heard her cries came to her aid. The child was terribly burned. He was taken to the Elliot hospital, where he died Monday morning. Mrs. Tetrauli's hands were badly burned in attempting to extinguish the flames.

VERMONT FIGURES IN LITERACY. While a great deal of criticism is being brought against Vermont's schools, the cold figures just prepared by the United States census bureau tell us that the percentage of illiteracy in Vermont dropped from 5.8 per cent in 1900 to 3.7 per cent in 1910. By actual figures there are 10,966 illiterates in Vermont—those who are unable to write according to the bureau's standard. From these figures one is inclined to the belief that while Vermont's public school system is far from perfect, it nevertheless is doing remarkably well in reaching out for all classes of people. The state's position with regard to illiterates has been far from enviable within recent years, but the advance made during the past ten years is calculated to bring the state out of the low place which it has occupied in the tabulation of the entire country. And the gratifying progress thus revealed should spur the state on to increased activity along this line.—Barre Times.

Willing to Think of It. Pat was a faithful lover; and Biddy was coy, but not too coy. "Biddy," Pat began timidly, "did yer lover think of marryin'?" "Sure, now, 'tis subject has never entered me thoughts," demurely replied Biddy. "It's sorry O! am," said Pat, turning away. "Wants a minute, Pat!" called Biddy softly. "Ye've set me a-thinkin'!"—Harper's Bazar.

AGED PEOPLE cannot properly masticate solid foods and digestion is often upset—they do not receive the needed nourishment to make strength and preserve health, but if aged people everywhere could only realize the strength-sustaining nourishment in Scott's Emulsion they would take it after every meal.

1913 Models of the Indian Motorcycle. Following the "14 Important Improvements" of 1912, the Hendee Manufacturing company announce no less than a dozen additional new features in their 1913 model of the Indian Motorcycle. By far the most significant feature of the new machine is the Cradle Spring Frame. It is something entirely new, a radical departure from the conventional type and recent motorcycle systems of "springing". Briefly, the new device consists of the application to the rear wheel of the Indian Cradle Spring device as used on the front fork for the past three years.

A Statement Made in Behalf of the Movement Now Before Vermont. The following statement is made by the sponsors for the women teachers' retirement fund, in which a bill is to come before the Vermont legislature: The public is familiar with the effort of the women teachers of Vermont to raise a retirement fund subject to the needs of faithful teachers of long continued service in this state. A bill is being drawn, backed by prominent men, asking the legislature for an appropriation to be applied toward a fund for which the teachers are working.

Believes This Will "Cure Lung Troubles". Consumption is a "battering disease" that is one of its chief dangers. Those who have it are rarely willing to acknowledge the fact. If this trouble is present, it is no time for trifling. If a so-called "cold" has long persisted; if a cough is present that keeps you anxious, or any of the symptoms are present, such as fever or night sweats, weakness and loss of appetite, and perhaps some raising of mucus—do the sensible thing:—take Eckman's Alternative—as Mr. Bettendorff did.
