

THE PUTNEY COLUMN

Mrs. Charles Kilburn.

Mrs. Charles Kilburn, 74, died in her home Monday morning from the effects of a shock following grip and a chronic heart trouble. She had been ill but a few days and was apparently better until stricken about 5 o'clock Monday morning, remaining unconscious until her death.

Mrs. Kilburn was a devoted mother and sacrificed her strength for all in need with whom she came in contact. She was particularly fond of children, her love for them being one of her dominant characteristics. She will be missed by her neighbors and a large circle of friends.

Lydia A. Davenport was born in Hinsdale, N. H., Aug. 23, 1838, one of seven children of Charles and Hepsibeth (Amidon) Davenport. She was married three times. Her first husband was Eben Andrews of Chesterfield, N. H. Her second husband was born to them, all of whom survive. They are Nellie, Mrs. Milan Royce of Putney; Charles Andrews and Mary, Mrs. George Gray, both of Springfield, Mass., and Mrs. Andrews of Philadelphia. The second marriage was to Frank Fuller of Putney and they had two sons, Frank Fuller of Hinsdale and Fred Fuller, who died a few years ago.

In 1855 she was married to Charles Kilburn, who survives with an adopted son, Othniel Kilburn. She also leaves 14 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, also three sisters, Mrs. Eliza Pimpton of Warren, Mass., Mrs. Ellen Streeter of Worcester, Mass., and Mrs. Bradley Leach of Westmoreland, N. H., and one brother, Charles Davenport of Putney.

After a service of prayer at the home at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, Rev. A. P. Trice the body was taken to West Chesterfield, where the funeral was held in the church at 1 o'clock, Rev. Grant Van Barcom, pastor of the Universalist church, officiating. The choir rendered three selections, "Nearer, by God, to Thee," "Sometime we'll understand," and "Jesus, Lover of my soul." The burial took place in the family lot. The bearers were Frank Fuller, Milan Royce, Charles Davenport and Charles Andrews.

Clark Pierce.

Clark Pierce, 77, died Saturday evening, Dec. 14, in the home of his son, W. E. Pierce, in Westminister, after a week's illness with erysipelas in the left arm. Mr. Pierce was born at Putney, N. H., in 1835, and lived in the town, now owned and occupied by his sister, Mrs. Melinda Farrington, July 25, 1835, one of 11 children of Mark and Mary Ann (Fisher) Pierce. At the age of 20 years he went to Wilmington and drove stage for several years, the longest route being from Brattleboro to Bennington. Later he worked as a stage driver on the mail route from Wardsboro to Arlington.

On Oct. 5, 1859, Mr. Pierce married Indore Watson of Wardsboro, who died Jan. 28, 1910. To them were born five children of whom four are living, George A. Pierce of Walpole, Mrs. Scott Look and Will E. Pierce of Westminister, and Edgar C. Pierce of Springfield, Mass. He also leaves four grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Diana Heath of South Ferrisburgh, N. H., Mrs. Melinda Farrington of Putney and Mrs. J. D. Bemis of Saxtons River, and one brother, John D. Pierce of Newfane.

After Mr. Pierce sold his mill route he came to Putney and became a well-known farmer. For many years he had been in failing health and lived with his son, W. E. Pierce, where he received loving care. The body was brought to Putney and the funeral was held at the home farm of his son, W. E. Pierce, Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Rev. Daniel McIntyre of Westminister West officiating. E. H. Miller of Dummerston sang three selections, "Nearer, my God, to Thee," "Crossing the bar" and "Lead, kindly Light." The burial took place in the family lot in Mount Pleasant cemetery, George A., W. E. and Edgar C. Pierce and Scott W. Look acting as bearers.

Election by Golden Rule Lodge.

Golden Rule lodge, No. 32, F. & A. M., held its election of officers Wednesday afternoon. They are: W. M., Locke H. Bugbee; S. W., Charles P. Farnum; J. W., Henry C. Warren; treas., Herbert G. Everlath; sec., M. Eugene Robbins; S. D., George T. Aplin; J. D., Wilson Cushman; S. S., H. C. Warren; E. H., Miller; D. Williams; chaplain, Frank A. Burditt; M., Adelbert M. Corser; T., Andrew A. Wing.

A banquet was served at 7 o'clock, after which the officers were installed by D. D. G. M. Russell W. Blood of Townsend. Remarks were made by Rev. A. P. Trice and H. C. Warren. E. H. Miller of Dummerston sang several selections.

Mr. Warren, in his remarks, presented the lodge with two columns which have a part of their paraphernalia when they held meetings in the old dance hall in the hotel before the present quarters were built. These were removed to the home of the late James Keyes and have been stored there since. Miss Caroline, his daughter, has had them restored to their pristine beauty by having them enameled in white and returned to the lodge. These columns represent the two pillars in King Solomon's temple.

Vere Eddy of Bethel is in town.

The public library will be closed Wednesday, Christmas day.

Mrs. Ezra Pierce is able to be out, after her recent illness.

Mrs. Harry Littlefield, who has been ill with grip, is out again.

George Glazier of Walpole was with his aunt, Mrs. Brainard, recently.

Othniel Kilburn returned Sunday afternoon from his vacation in Springfield, Mass.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired out next morning as when you went to bed, then you need help right away.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks, but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicine I ever took."

If the careworn, haggard men and women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderfully strengthening and invigorating body-builder, and we sell it under an ironclad guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

P. S. For any skin trouble try our Saxo Salvo. We guarantee it.

Wilfred F. Root, Druggist, Brattleboro, Vt.

Vinol is sold in Hinsdale, N. H., by Mark S. Mann.

were here from Somerville, Mass., over Sunday.

There will be preaching in the Baptist church next Sunday by the pastor, Rev. A. P. Trice.

Miss Ethel Omar of Winchendon, Mass., has been a guest at W. A. Page's on West Hill.

Mrs. Fred Whittier of Bellows Falls was a guest of her niece, Mrs. L. H. Bugbee, Wednesday.

The Octagon club were entertained by Mrs. Eugene Howe Saturday evening and a supper was served.

Mrs. Roundy returned home Friday after a week spent in the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Ayer.

Wilson G. Cushman, who is in the employ of Charles E. Glazier, has been taking a few days' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gale of Guilford were in town Saturday on business in connection with the estate of the late Mr. Gale. The daughters of Liberty will hold a meeting for the nomination of officers and a lunch will be served next Thursday evening.

The Baptist Bible school will have a cantata, "Around the world with Santa Claus," Christmas eve, Tuesday. There will be a Christmas tree.

Miss Phoebe Glazier, who attends school here and boards with her aunt, Mrs. Brainard, is at her home in Grafton for a two weeks' visit.

There will be a Christmas tree and appropriate exercises in the Congregational church next Tuesday evening, to which all are cordially invited.

Frank Ketchum has finished work in the W. A. Cole Paper company's mill and Harold Wood, who recently was employed at George Babitt's mill in Bellows Falls, which was burned, is taking his place.

Dr. Eugene B. Pierce of Howell, Mich., visited his mother briefly the last of the week. Dr. Pierce came east to attend a convention of superintendents of tubercular sanitariums, held in New York state.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kendall of Enfield, Conn., who formerly owned a home here, recently visited with Mrs. Annie Littlefield and while here shipped their household goods to Sheldon Junction, Vt., where they have bought a home.

Masses will be held in St. Michael's Roman Catholic church at 8 and 10 o'clock Christmas morning. It has not been decided whether there will be a midnight mass, but if one is held it will be announced in the weekly Sunday.

The fortnightly club was entertained in the home of Mrs. L. H. Bugbee, Friday afternoon. Mrs. A. B. H. Harris hosted in the east part of the town, now owned and occupied by his sister, Mrs. Melinda Farrington, July 25, 1835, one of 11 children of Mark and Mary Ann (Fisher) Pierce. At the age of 20 years he went to Wilmington and drove stage for several years, the longest route being from Brattleboro to Bennington. Later he worked as a stage driver on the mail route from Wardsboro to Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rix were greatly surprised Saturday evening, when on going to the door to ascertain the reason of light in the yard, they saw 27 automobiles and carriages, all of which were from out of town. The evening was spent pleasantly with cards and an excellent oyster supper was served.

F. H. Howard has bought the building which recently has been occupied by Andrew J. Ayer as a store, which was owned by Miss E. M. Walkup. Mr. Howard purposes to dispose of his meat business and keep only groceries after he moves into his new quarters. The upstairs rooms he will renovate for house-keeping and occupy them with his family.

The Junior Order United American Mechanics held their meeting for the election of officers Wednesday evening and the following: Councilor, John Niles; vice councilor, B. F. Howard; fin. sec., F. H. Gee; rec. sec., W. H. Wheeler; warden, W. H. Smith; conductor, Frank Howard; inside sentinel, Walter Amidon; outside sentinel, Vernon Williams; representative, W. D. Cushman.

In the regular meeting of the W. H. Greenwood Woman's Relief corps Tuesday evening, these officers were elected: Pres., Mrs. G. T. Williams; S. V. P., Mrs. Edith Howard; J. V. P., Mrs. M. J. Foley; treas., Mrs. A. B. H. Harris; chaplain, Mrs. L. P. Bailey; conductress, Mrs. W. H. Dickinson; guard, Margaret Robertson; delegate to department convention, Mrs. Maude Davison; alternate, Mrs. Edith Howard.

Col. W. H. Greenwood post, No. 50, G. A. R., held its election of officers Tuesday. The officers are: C. L. P. Bailey; S. V. C., A. C. Cobb; J. V. C., J. V. Sleeper; Q. M., C. F. Brown; chaplain, P. P. Ricker; S. A. D. Kerr; O. D., A. D. Kerr; C. A., C. Cobb; representative, A. P. Ranney; alternate, A. D. Kerr. The officers of the post and the W. H. Greenwood corps will be installed in the first meeting in January.

Neighbors' night was observed by the Putney Grange Friday evening, when Maple Grove Grange of Westminister West were its guests and furnished the following program: Farce, "Wide enough for two," Seymour Minard, Walter Harlow, Henry Moulton, Carleton Holden, Miss Mary, returned Monday morning from a three week's vacation with their parents in Colebrook, N. H., also with friends in Derby Line, Vt., and other places.

Mrs. Lala Johnson of Hinsdale returned Tuesday to live with her husband, Frank Johnson, on his newly-bought farm, the Wilber Streeter place, on Huckle Hill. She had her household goods moved there recently.

Man Killed in Somerset.

As the result of the collapse of an engine-house which was being built of logs at Somerset, Joseph Corbett and James Chatriusky were taken to the North Adams hospital Monday evening, suffering from serious injuries. Corbett's skull was crushed and he was suffering from concussion of the brain. Chatriusky's skull was fractured, his right leg broken and he was otherwise bruised and cut. His death took place Tuesday noon. He was about 30 years old. Nothing is known of his family or home.

Why December 25 Was Chosen.

Augustine deemed the festival of Christmas as being of later origin and lesser authority than those of Easter, the Ascension and Whitsunday. When the efforts were first made to fix the exact date of the Advent there were, as stated by Clement of Alexandria, some who advocated the 20th of May, and others who contended for the 20th or 21st of April. The Oriental Christians were very generally of opinion that both the birth and baptism of Jesus took place on the 6th of January. Julian I, Bishop of Rome from the year 337 to 352, inclined to the belief that the Saviour's birth took place on the 25th of December, and held out until the Eastern churches adopted the same view. It having been the custom of various nations to observe a season of rejoicing when the shortest day passed, they readily adopted the Christmas festival as fixed for December 25, Roman converts soon introduced into the keeping of Christmas the custom of the Saturnalia, which, in modified form, survive even to this day.

WEST DUMMERSTON.

Deer and Bicycle Collided.

As Wendell and Walter Phillips were returning from the village on their wheels about 10 p. m. Saturday they started up a herd of four deer which were lying under some apple trees beside the road. The frightened animals started to cross the road and Wendell, who was riding in advance, escaped them, but Walter, who was a few yards behind, collided with one of them, and deer, boy and bicycle were thrown to the ground. The deer in its efforts to get away stepped on the lad's knee, but without serious results.

Christmas Tree Plans.

Christmas exercises, including a tree, will be held in the church Tuesday evening, Dec. 24. The following committee will have charge of the entertainment: Tree, Nathan Mann, Wendell Phillips; church decorations, Mrs. A. Mann, Mrs. C. S. Wilkins, Mrs. Samuel Clark, Mrs. E. B. Babbin, Mrs. A. Mann. Everyone is invited to attend and thus encourage the children in their hard work.

DUMMERSTON.

Next Sunday, the last before Christmas, Dr. Rivier will take the text of his sermon John 14:9: "Have I not so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me?"

DUMMERSTON HILL.

John D. Luce.

One of our oldest residents, John Dana Luce, 81, died Tuesday noon following a shock which he received Dec. 5. He had been in failing health a number of years, but was not obliged to wholly give up work until last March. He had been a great sufferer the past summer.

John Dana Luce was born Dec. 5, 1831, on the old Luce homestead on the Marlboro road on Dummerston hill, and was a son of John and Fanny Luce. He lived on the old homestead until two years ago last July, when he was afflicted with ill health, and Mrs. Luce went to live with their son, Hugh Luce, who bought the Charles Worden place adjacent to the Luce homestead. Mrs. Luce were married in July, 1851. Besides his wife and son he leaves one daughter, Nellie, wife of Charles Worden of Marlboro, and eight grandchildren, and a sister died at the age of three years. He was a kind husband and father and an obliging neighbor. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon in the home, Rev. O. E. Newton of the Williamsville Methodist church officiating. The bearers were Henry Thayer, John Thayer, James N. Belterly and Morris Chamberlain.

The Concord River Power company is making an effort to save the river bank on Cooper's point, north of the dam. Here the river has caused the bank to cave in considerably in the last few years and as it is not more than 50 feet through Cooper's point to the river below the dam, it would not be many years before a channel would be cut through. Holbrook Cabot & Rollins have been engaged to build a spur track from the railroad to this point and strengthen the bank with plenty of broken stone.

The ice on Wantastiquet lake has attracted many skaters during the past week. The cove inside the railroad trestle has been safe except near the culvert under the railroad track, where on account of the strong current the ice is thin. A serious accident was narrowly averted there on Tuesday afternoon. Some grammar school boy, seated on the cove after school and were racing with a train. John Snow, who was ahead, reached the culvert first, the ice began to give way, and he fell in. He was wearing a good swimmer he paddled about until he caught hold of some ice strong enough to hold him, when with the help of Ellis Hall, who reached to him with a hockey stick, he was able to get out, and the next day was none the worse for his icy bath. Had he not been able to swim, however, he probably could not have been rescued. This should prove a warning to other skaters on the lake.
