

FROM CALEXICO

Cameron Camp Has Been Made a Town—Other Items of Interest From the Boundry Settlement.

Press Correspondence.

Perhaps it would be well enough to explain that Calexico is what has previously been known as Cameron, the town having been recently laid out on the boundary line between the United States and Mexico and thus named. The name is a combination of California and Mexico.

Everybody is busy cutting sorghum, and it said to be yielding from five to seven tons to the acre. Some are getting the second crop. There will be a large acreage of alfalfa and barley put in through this section this fall.

Prof. Carr reports that the school is progressing nicely. He says that seats, desks, blackboard etc., were received at the school Monday, which add much to the comfort of the pupils and also the instructor. Average attendance is good and number increasing by many families moving in and all making an effort to strike temporary camp in reach of the school regardless of where their land is located.

W. A. Young brought his family in last week and located them near the school for the present. He brought with him two nice milch cows and some poultry.

Jake First and wife from Phoenix, Arizona, who have been in the valley several days, drove into Calexico and struck camp last Saturday. They have come to stay, bringing their household effects, poultry and cows along with them.

D. L. Russell and C. N. Perry of the engineering corps, arrived here from Los Angeles last Saturday, and the surveying party will resume active work in a few days.

Mr. Lathrop of Pomona, who drove over by way of Warner pass, arrived here Tuesday, going from here to Imperial.

Dr. Heffernan returned from Los Angeles last week and will probably begin work at once on the erection of a business house, which he will built of adobe.

P. Barnes went to Imperial Monday. He is building a house a short distance east of Calexico.

Chief Engineer George Chaffey and C. N. Perry made a business trip to Eastside first of this week.

W. W. Masten reports rapid progress being made on the canal. At his camp there are twenty to thirty 4-horse teams at work and the number is increasing all the time.

H. J. Jenks, who recently came into the valley from the Redlands country, put two 4-horse teams to work at Masten's construction camp Monday, and F. W. Donn, Frank Davis and others from Arizona, put four teams on the works at Mr. Masten's camp this week.

Gillett & VanHorn's construction gang have resumed work on the canal with increased force and teams. They are at present working on a lateral about four miles from Calexico. They recently brought a bunch of unbroke horses from Arizona which they are getting in shape for the canal work.

Mr. Walters of Los Angeles, arrived here Monday. He is interested with J. C. Blackington and others in extensive feed crops which, under the management of Mr. Blackington, are being grown in this part of the valley. Mr. Walters is well pleased with the growth of crops, and he is delighted with his holdings in the Imperial country.

Overland Gateway to the Imperial Country From San Diego and Other Points West—Travel into the Valley Increasing.

Press Correspondence.

The volume of travel into the valley from the west has increased a hundred per cent. since cooler weather came on. A large number of settlers are coming in to begin improving their places, while others are coming to get land.

N. W. Downs and brother, Geo. P. Davis, Mr. Fritz and Mr. Slocum, all of Otay, spent several days looking over this part of the valley last week. These gentlemen were all very much pleased with the country and thought they would probably locate some land somewhere in the valley.

Mr. Goodrich has moved in and is improving his place.

A. J. Elliott returned few days ago with his family from Campo and have established winter quarters near the school for benefit of his children. M. Elliott, a brother of A. J., has also moved into the valley from Campo, with about 70 head of cattle.

Weed Bros., of Nestor, accompanied by their sister, reached the valley few days ago and are making preparations for putting their land into cultivation.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and son of San Diego, have established their residence in this part, and are getting things in shape for a crop this fall.

P. J. Storms went to Imperial on business last Saturday. He is getting his ranch fixed up in good shape.

J. H. Bowman of San Diego, who has a claim about two miles from Blue lake, arrived Saturday to begin improving his place.

G. W. Nichols, who has a homestead near Blue lake, arrived here from San Diego last Saturday.

Z. C. Mathes and son, John A., of San Diego, were in this part of the valley several days this week looking for land.

L. M. Daugherty has been in this section of the valley from San Diego several days looking for a location.

N. M. Goodwin and C. H. Swallow of the Yuha Oil company were through these parts last week, considering the possibility of getting their supplies by way of Flowing Wells, and stated that with a bridge across New river this would be their best route. They have just recently put an engine on the ground and will push the work to oil. They are operating about 15 miles from here at the Yuha springs.

With the large and increasing volume of travel over this road it seems that it is now time for our county supervisors to do something toward making it possible to travel the road with a spring wagon without having four horses hooked to it. We would represent that our friend Jasper dig up the petition asking that a bridge be built across New river at this point, and bring it before the court in the interest of his constituents. Such petition is on file with the court.

TEN NEW EDITORS FOR ONE MAGAZINE

It was announced several months ago that the editor of The Ladies' Home Journal contemplated making some sweeping changes in his editorial staff. Up to the present time ten new editors have been added to Mr. Bok's corps, and fifteen new departments planned for the Journal, a majority of which make their initial appearance in the October number.

us after some delay, and the subject matter which has been so carefully and wisely chosen to fill this number makes it unusually interesting and instructive. "Theodore Roosevelt—the Typical Man of the Twentieth Century," by Day Allen Willey, of which the President says: "You have recognized what I was trying to be and to do—no matter how far I have come short in both respects." "One of the Arradons—A new serial," by Pauline Caro and Aimee Tourgee. "Anarchy"—A study of social forces, by Henry Virstow. These well written articles, together with the regular run of short stories, and the regular departments of "Current Events," "Rambles out of Doors" and "Literary Comment," make the magazine a gem to be appreciated.
