COMMON HOME CANNING DIFFICULTIES

BREAKAGE OF JARS

When breakage of jars occur it is due to such causes as:

- 1 Over packing jars. Corn, pumpkin, peas, lima beans and sweet potatoes swell or expand in processing. Do not fill the jars quite full of these products.
- 2 Placing cold jars in hot water or vice versa. As soon as the jars are filled with hot syrup or hot water, place immediately in the canner.
- 3 Having the wire bail of the glass top jars too tight.
- 4 In steam canner, having too much water in the canner. Water should not come above the platform.
- 5 Allowing cold draft to strike the jars when they are removed from the canner.
- 5 Having wire bail too tight, thus breaking the jars when lever is forced down.

RUBBERS

A good rubber will stand considerable pulling and jerking and will return to its original shape. A good rubber will also stand several hours of boiling in a hot-water-bath outfit without being effected.

TEST FOR JARS

The following are valuable tests for screw-top jars:

- 1 Place top on jar without the rubber. Turn down tight. If the thumb nail can be inserted between top and glass, the top is usually defective.
- 2 Place rubber and cap in position and screw down tightly. Pull rubber from position. Release. If the rubber returns to position between top and jar, the top is defective.

GLASS TOP JARS

- 1 Place glass top on jar without rubber. Tap with finger around the outer edge of the top. If the top rocks it is defective.
- 2 Wire bail placed over the top of cover should go in with a snap, even when tightening lever or clamp spring is up. If it does not, remove bail from tightening lever and bend to make tight. This tightening of the bail should be done every year.

NECESSARY EQUIPMENT

Many people believe that in order to succeed by the cold-pack method of canning it is necessary to buy expensive commercial canning outfits. This is not true. Wash boilers, lard cans or other vessels with a tight tight cover and which can be fitted with a false bottom can be successfully used in the canning of fruit, vegetable, soup or meat. The only advantage of commercial canners over home-made devices is the saving of labor and time their use makes possible.

THE CONVALESCENT APPEALS TO THE GOOD JUDGE.

YES, YOU MAY HAVE A LITTLE GOOD TOBACCO.

HEAR THAT JUDGE? GOOD TOBACCO MEANS W-B CUT—THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW—THE SMALL CHEW THAT LASTS AND SATISFIES.

CERTAINLY WHEN A MAN USES W-B NOTHING ELSE TASTES AS GOOD.

WHEN the tobacco satisfaction in W-B CUT Chewing makes you all smiles inside and outside, how can you keep from helping out a less fortunate brother? It's rich tobacco, chuck full of satisfaction—and the salt keeps bringing it out without so much grinding and spitting. You need only half-sized chews.

A 10c pouch lasts twice as long as a 20c pouch of ordinary chewing—and dealers who want satisfied customers have it.
