The Yale Expositor says cupid is kept busy in that village and that many young hearts have been pierced by his irresistible arrows. One or two Lexington boys reside in Yale, and we tremble for their safety. They are useful young men in their spheres, and one of cupid's goose quills jabbed right through their vests might fearfully demoralize them if it didn't do any greater harm.—Lexington News.

Under the title of "What Shall be Done About Cuba?" Mayo W. Hazeltine contributes to the December number of the North American Review an eloquent article pleading for the recognition by the United States of the belligerent rights of the Cuban insurgents. The Cuban revolution, Mr. Hazeltine declares, is justified, if ever a revolution was, and such a recognition would be in strict conformity with the traditional policy of our government.

Try It and See.

Whatever may be said about the publications of Rev. I. R. Hicks by those who do not fully understand the facts, there is no denying the truth that his paper and Almanac have come to stay. His splendid journal, Word and Works, is now entering its tenth year, largely increased in circulation and in every way improved, until it deserves the national reputation it has attained. His 1897 Almanac is now ready and is by far the finest and most beautiful he has yet issued. It contains 108 pages, including cover artistically printed in colors, and is filled from back to back with just what is wanted in every shop, office and home in America. One feature of the Almanac for 1897 is a series of 12 original, beautifully engraved star maps, with explanatory chapters, which could not be bought for less than five dollars in any work on astronomy. As Mr. Hicks has so correctly and faithfully warned the public of coming droughts, floods, cold waves, blizzards, tornadoes and cyclones, in the years passed, aside from the other varied and splendid features of his paper and Almanac, these considerations alone should prompt every family to subscribe at once for 1897. The Almanac is only 25cts. a copy. Word and Works is one dollar a year, and a copy of the fine Almanac is a premium with every yearly subscription. Write to Word and Works Publishing Co., St. Louis, Mo.
