AT REST.

All that was mortal of George Drummond, one of Yale's popular young men, was laid at rest on Wednesday, June 8th, in Lynn cemetery beside his father who preceded him several years. George, or "Drumme" as he was more familiarly known among his associates, was born in Lynn township, St. Clair county, on the 10th of April, and spent his boyhood in that township, like the rest of country boys. He came to Yale 10 years ago with his mother, who had secured a position in our public schools. About eight or nine years ago George entered The Expositor office as an apprentice, serving his time, and afterwards filled the position of foreman with ability and faithfulness. Less than a year ago he took a notion to see more of the world's horizon than the village of Yale could give him, he severed his connection with The Expositor office, and took to the road to better his fortune and improve his mind, and like most of young men in like circumstances, probably got an experience in the rough and tumble life of a traveling journeyman, which, had he lived, would no doubt have been of great value to him in toughening his mental fibre and fitting him to occupy better positions in his chosen profession. However, going from place to place, and while in Kansas City he contracted a cold in his head which developed into an abscess, hastening home, where he arrived just a few days before his death, he received all the care that loving hearts and tender hands could bestow, which with the best of medical skill was all of no avail, for on Monday morning at 2 o'clock his spirit took its flight to the other shore, leaving a host of sorrowing friends to mourn his early demise. George had a genial, kindly disposition, and was well liked by everybody with whom he associated. He joined the M. P. church several years ago, and among the young people of that society was an excellent worker. He was a member of the Fire Company of the village, and also held a $2,000 certificate in the Maccabees. Funeral services were held at the M. P. church, conducted by Rev. Saigeon, the Maccabees escorting the procession to the cemetery. His mother and one sister, May, survive him, and are almost heart-broken at the cutting down of the young life of their only son and brother. They have the sympathy of The Expositor staff in this their sad hour of affliction.

Resolutions of Condolence adopted by the Yale Tent No. 86 K. O. T. M.

Whereas, death has again entered our order and this time plucked, in the beginning of his usefulness, our dear brother Sir Knight George W. Drummond, be it

Resolved, that while we deeply lament the loss of one, who was a willing and cheerful worker, we bow in submission to Him who orders all things aright and for our good.

Resolved, that we extend to the family, thus bereft of a loving son and brother, our heartfelt sympathy, commending them to the Savior who alone can comfort and heal.

Resolved, that our charter be draped for 30 days in loving memory of our silent brother whose hand and voice will never more greet us here.

Resolved, that a copy of the resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy published in The Hale Expositor, and recorded by the Record Keeper of our Lodge.

Edward Andreae,
Herman Doelle,
Emerson Cooper,
Committee.

At the meeting of the M. P. Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor last Monday evening, the Endeavorers unanimously voted to drap their pledge for thirty days in honor and loving memory of their departed brother, George W. Drummond.

The Endeavorers also wish to extend their sympathy to his bereaved mother and friends in this sad hour of their affliction, and say, we too mourn, but "not without hope."

By faith we look to yonder world,
And see each hill, each shady gorge;
But not in vain, for there, behold,
The smiling face of brother George.

He smiles the same as in times past,
Whenever we would chance to meet;
But brighter now, and longer last,
The smiles of joy, eternal, sweet.

His home is with the angels fair,
His earthly toil and labor past;
He's now forever free from care,
His joy eternally shall last.

Rejoice then, mother, May and friends,
For God is good, and knows each best;
"Our good" He always wills, and lends
His hand to help us join the best.

Then let us to His bosom fly,
Our hand in His, His will our own;
Then when our earthly house shall die,
With George, we'll wear a gem-decked crown.

Masonic Entertainment.

Brockway Lodge No. 316, F. & A. M. will hold a public reception and give an entertainment at their Hall on the afternoon of St. John's Day, Friday June the 24th.

The Hall will be opened at high twelve and a reception committee will be in attendance at that time. This will give an opportunity for a general social meeting of all members, their wives, families and friends.

A program consisting of music, addresses, reading, songs, drills, etc., will be given at 3 o'clock.

Arrangements will be made to secure the attendance of Grand Lecturer, Arthur M. Clark, or some other suitable speaker, to deliver an address on Masonic topics.

An admission fee of 25 cents for each person will be charged, the proceeds to go into the general fund to pay the debt on the Hall.

All members are requested to make a special effort to attend this meeting, and a general invitation is also extended to the public.

Threshermen's Meeting.

The adjourned meeting of the Threshermen of St. Clair, Sanilac and Lapeer counties was called together at the Rapley House, by George Perry, president on Saturday last. Something over forty of the leading threshermen were present and took part in discussing the matter of organization, and other matters for their mutual benefit.

The discussion developed the fact that a large percentage of those present were not in favor of fixing and demanding any exorbitant prices for threshing, but that it was the opinion of the conservative men of good judgment that the prices should be fixed that would be fair and equitable for the farmer as well as for themselves. A few were in favor of a large increase in prices, but they were greatly outnumbered by those who are in favor of a fair deal all around.

Paul Willey, of Greenwood, was elected permanent chairman, and Andrew Nolan, of Emmet, was elected permanent secretary.

The president was instructed to engage Harvey Tappan to draft Articles of Association to be presented at the next meeting, in accordance with the provisions and suggestions made by the meeting and provided by a committee. The meeting then adjourned to Saturday, June 18th, at 10 o'clock, at Yale, and will probably be called together at Central Hall.

General News.

John Peters of Port Huron, is insane. John Blower, of Deckerville, will make a trip to England.

Some Port Huron people are talking up the idea of having a grand bicycle parade.
