The exercises at the Presbyterian Sunday school last Sunday in place of a lesson, were highly interesting and instructive. It was Missionary Sunday and all songs, items, poems, stories and verses bore altogether on this subject. The birthday box was opened and $2.06, the amount it contained, has been sent to the Foreign Missionary Society.

Societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals are spreading all over the world and are powerful agencies for benevolence. It is not necessary to argue that suppressing cruelty and promoting kindness to animals is giving a practical and impressive lesson in morality. The dullest-witted biped brute can hardly fail to infer that if punishment follows cruelty to a horse it will behave him all the more to be kind and fair toward his fellows.

Many persons labor under the impression that the disease known as "barber's itch" has its origin in barber shops, and is caused by a lack of cleanliness on the part of the barber. This is a great mistake. The disease is in the form of an insect that is invisible to the naked eye. It comes out of the ground and adheres to horses' manes, to cattle and dogs during the warm season, and is known as the mange. It is then transferred to the beards of men, who go to the barber and others get it, and the barber is blamed for it, but wrongly.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Death came to Mr. Hugh Armstrong last Tuesday night or Wednesday morning in a very sudden manner. Mr. Armstrong was a bachelor sixty-one years of age, and had been working for Walter Knapp on his farm northeast of Yale. He went to his room Tuesday night feeling as well as usual, making no complaints, and Wednesday morning he was found dead. Deceased was born in Dumfriesshire, Scotland, and has resided in this country a great many years, and for sometime with his brother Robert west of Yale. He was a man living his life quietly, and having the best of habits. He was well known in this vicinity. The funeral will be held on Friday from the Menerey church, and the interment will be at Elmwood cemetery, Rev. C. D. Ellis officiating.

VACATION DAYS.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly living out of doors. There could be no healthier place for them. You need only to guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. No remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for quickly stopping pain or removing danger of serious consequences. For cuts, scalds and wounds. "I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for sores, cuts and bruises," says L. B. Johnson, Swift, Tex. "It is the best remedy on the market." Sure cure for piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. Grant Holden.

If you have a word of cheer That may light the pathway drear Of a brother pilgrim here, Let him know.

Show him you appreciate What he does; and do not wait Till the heavy hand of Fate Lays him low.

If your heart contains a thought, That will brighter make his lot, Then in mercy, hide it not; Tell him so.

Rounds & Vancamp.
