Fought His Last Fight.

It was with surprise and regret that the townspeople learned early Monday morning of the death of Lawrence Butler. It was known to but few that he had been sick at all. He was taken ill Saturday morning and walked down town to see the doctor, but went to his bed during the day, from which he was never to rise again, dying from heart trouble about five o'clock Monday morning. The funeral services were held from the house Wednesday at 2 p. m., Rev. Ellis preaching the sermon, the music being rendered by the choir from the Presbyterian church. W. H. Dunphy Post G. A. R. and the Foresters took charge of the ceremonies from the house to and at the grave, the Citizen's band marching with the procession, playing the solemn funeral march. The services at the grave were sad and impressive, the veterans performing the last rites over one of their comrades who had sat with them only the Sunday before, listening to the memorial sermon, but who had been unable to be with them when they decorated the graves of the fallen heroes.

Lawrence Butler was born in Lancaster, New York, November 14, 1846. Came to Michigan when a young lad and enlisted in the war as a drummer boy when not more than fifteen. Afterward he re-enlisted as a soldier in the infantry and served his country well, having fought in many battles. He suffered the loss of an arm which has since debarred him from many kinds of labor, but generally he was at work at something.

In 1878 he was married to Sarah McKenzie of Brockway township, and one child was born to them, Zella, now fourteen years of age. Deceased has two sisters living, and two brothers, one sister, Mrs. John McGregor, of Green's Corners, being present at the funeral.

The floral offerings were beautiful, the Flax Mill Co., Foresters, Dunphy Post, O. E. S., L. O. T. M. and many others sending lovely pieces and bouquets.

Relatives from out of town were William McKenzie, Prescott; John D. McKenzie, Omer; Mrs. Albert Funston, Imlay City; Mrs. John McGregor, Green's Corners.

Larry, as he was generally called, had many friends, all of whom join with his family in mourning the departure of a kind and loving husband, father and friend.

Probably some of our readers will remember William Frost, who lived on the Bowman farm in this vicinity about twelve years ago and also resided in the village for a time, afterward removing to a farm near Romeo. A few days since he suffered a broken leg and other injuries in a runaway accident from the effects of which he died. Mr. Frost's wife is a niece of Elder Clark.

On account of there being no electric lights, the entertainment to be given by the primary scholars will be held in the afternoon of June 12th in the Presbyterian church, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. "I have been troubled for some time with indigestion and sour stomach," says Mrs. Sarah W. Curtis, of Lee, Mass., "and have been taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets which have helped me very much so that now I can eat many things that before I could not." If you have any trouble with your stomach why not take these tablets and get well? For sale by Grant Holden.

The Memphis Bee says:—"Fred Montney, of Yale, was in the village Wednesday. He tells of a peculiar incident of Tuesday's storm, at a point north of Yale. A calf was picked up by the wind and lodged in a stub of a tree sixty feet from the ground and was apparently unhurt. A rope was tied about the calf and while he was being lowered from his perilous position the rope parted and Mr. Calf fell a distance of 15 or 20 feet and broke his neck, killing him instantly."

James Brown received a letter from his brother last week announcing the death in a Los Angeles, Cal., hospital of Horace F. Leonard, from acute inflammation of the bowels. Mr. Leonard will be remembered by many of the older citizens as having for a number of years conducted a hardware business in the old Duffie block, which stood on the site now occupied by the Masonic hall. He is one of the colony of about 40 citizens of Yale and vicinity who, during the past eighteen years have taken up their residence in Los Angeles. This little colony preserve all the traditions and likings for their old Michigan homes, and look upon each other as one of a family, and the death of Mr. Leonard is keenly felt amongst his Yale associates. He leaves a wife and one son, Fred, who is at present at the head of one of the largest wholesale establishments in California, and they have the sincere sympathy of their old Yale friends in this, their sad affliction.

YALE'S FINE NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Yale, Mich., June 2.—Just four years ago Sacred Heart parish was established in Yale. Since then great progress has been made, and to-day the congregation looks with pride to the new and handsome church and parsonage. When it became known that a Catholic parish was to be established in Yale, much enthusiasm was aroused among both the Catholic and non-Catholic people. The Catholic people were anxious for a more suitable and convenient place of worship, and when they were afforded the opportunity they lost no time in starting the work, and have been untiring in their efforts towards its completion. Father Cullinane, who has the work in charge, has met with the generous support of his own people, and has likewise received much help from the non-Catholic people. The church is not yet completed, but will be ready for dedication within a couple of months.

The Sacred Heart church property is a big improvement to the village of Yale, and is as nice a church property as there is in the "Thumb." When completed the church will have cost in the neighborhood of $15,000.

R. we would extend the heartiest thanks to the Yale Citizens' Band for valuable services rendered both on Decoration day and also at the funeral of their late comrade Lawrence Butler. Also the Post feels very grateful to Prof. Symington for his thoughtfulness in blowing the tattoo when the light of one of their number went out.

E. R. Bailes last Saturday tendered the Light and Water Board of the Village of Yale his resignation as electrician at the power house and it was accepted. Mr. Bailes has been here since the electric light plant was established and has many friends who regret to learn that he will soon leave to accept a position in some other town. Success go with him.

The Increase of Nationalities.

From the Paris American Register: According to a German statistician, Russia is the nation which increases the fastest—her population will double in about forty-five years. Germany needs sixty-five years, Austria-Hungary seventy, England eighty, Italy 110, but France can only do it in 869 years, provided the present annual increase does not diminish, which unfortunately seems to be the case. The loss of Alsace-Lorraine, with a population of 1,250,000 souls is nothing in view of the insignificant annual increase of France's population. During the last five years the population of Germany has increased 3,000,000, while France's increase has been scarcely 175,000—a considerable part of whom are moreover of foreign nationality.

Table Mountain Ropeway.

Engineering Magazine: The ropeway located at Table Mountain is an important example of a line 5,250 feet long. It consists of a single fixed rope on which one carriage is drawn to and fro with an endless hauling rope, the driving gear having reversing motion so that the direction of travel of the carrier can be controlled. Commencing at sea level, and following the ground on posts spaced about 300 feet apart, the cable takes a span of 1,500 feet, rising to a projecting rock some 1,480 feet above the starting point. Resting on a support at this point, the cable again takes a span of 1,400 feet to an upper terminal 2,200 feet above the lower one. This ropeway has worked so satisfactorily that it is not only used for the carriage of materials employed in the construction of a reservoir but is at times used for passengers.

A Simple Test.

To detect impure water, draw a tumblerful from the tap at night, put a piece of white lump sugar in it and place it on the kitchen mantelshelf, or in any place where the temperature will not be under 60 degrees Fahrenheit. In the morning the water, if pure, will be perfectly clear; if contaminated by sewage or other impurities, the water will be milky. This is a simple and safe test, well known by chemists.—New York World.

The Number of Our Hairs.

According to the Medical Record, fair-haired people possess commonly between 140,000 and 160,000 hairs on the scalp, the number being about the same for man and woman. Dark-haired people have on average 105,000, while red-haired people are said to have only 30,000 hairs. But the latter apparently possess one great advantage in the fact that they retain their hair better, seldom becoming bald. Their hair is much coarser than that of dark or fair-haired persons.

Saved the Emperor.

Lawyer Suepfe, whose death is announced from Karlsruhe, saved the life of the old Emperor William I. on July 14, 1861. The then king of Prussia was on that day attacked by Oscar Becker, while taking the baths at Baden-Baden. Suepfe threw himself on the assassin and so saved the king's life.
