

FRED M. WARNER,
Republican Candidate for Governor.

In the present campaign the Republican party, proud of its past record, comes before the people of the county, and again presents for their endorsement a list of candidates for the various offices who represent the highest type of citizenship, and have every qualification necessary for the first class, efficient and wise administration of the duties of the several offices for which they are nominated. It is a ticket worthy of the support of every voter. On the state ticket Governor Fred M. Warner has been nominated for a second term. The administration of Gov. Warner has been courageous, conscientious and honest. He has been the governor of all the people, and has been tireless in his efforts to serve the people by the wise, just and fearless administration of the law. The administration of Gov. Warner commends itself to the people of the state as one of the most successful in its history. He believes in giving everyone a "square deal," on the 6th of November the voters will show their appreciation of Gov. Warner's splendid qualifications by giving him a majority not exceeded at any prior election.

DANIEL FOLEY,
Republican Candidate for County Clerk.

DANIEL FOLEY, the present incumbent of the clerk's office is also the party's nominee for re-election for a second term. Mr. Foley is a man of recognized ability, high character and unimpeachable integrity; a man in whom can be placed the most implicit confidence. He is completing his first term, and the public are loud in their praise of his able conduct of the office. The voters will insist that he be given a second term, and thus reward a first class official.

Mr. Foley is well known in Yale and vicinity, he having been for many years president of the Yale Agricultural Association and took great interest in the success of the society. At present he is one of the directors of the Michigan Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of St. Clair and Sanilac counties with headquarters at Yale. We predict that his majority in this part of the county will be large for he is not only well known but very popular.

STEPHEN H. MOORE,
Republican Candidate for County Treasurer.

STEPHEN H. MOORE is the talented deputy county treasurer, and has justly earned promotion, and the voters are going to see to it that he is the next county treasurer. Mr. Moore's administrative ability is universally recognized. That he possesses splendid qualifications for a public office is conceded by all. He should receive a handsome majority on election day.

THOMAS MOORE,
Republican Candidate for Sheriff.

A man is measured by what he has done and what he can do. Thomas Moore, present sheriff and candidate for re-election, has shown himself worthy of the trust reposed in him by the voters of the county. Mr. Moore has been diligent in apprehending offenders, and bringing them to justice and during this, his first term, has effected the capture of many dangerous criminals. With "Tom" Moore in the sheriff's office, the people are satisfied that when their rights are invaded they have a man to whom they can look for protection. He has given the office a business administration, and comes before the voters of the county with a record of accomplishments. The people are so well satisfied with his administration that his re-election is assured.

ALEX. MOORE,
Republican Candidate for Prosecuting Attorney.

ALEX. MOORE, Republican Candidate for Prosecuting Attorney, is completing his first term in that office. Mr. Moore has shown himself to be able, impartial and courteous in the discharge of the duties of the office and has won universal esteem by the manner in which the official duties of the office have been performed. Mr. Moore should receive a handsome majority on November 6th in recognition of the able and impartial manner in which he has performed the duties of a public prosecutor for the last two years.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES FOR THE VARIOUS OFFICES.

The Republican party in St. Clair County has in the past invariably nominated men for office in whom the people reposed the utmost confidence, clean, able, intelligent men, who have served the people well. The success of the party in this county has been predicated upon the excellent qualifications of its nominees, and it is a source of gratification, not only to the members of the party, but to the public in general that its candidates have enjoyed a full measure of the confidence and esteem of the people.

SPAIN E. PEARCE,
Republican Candidate for Register of Deeds, St. Clair County.

There is no more important office in the county than that of Register of Deeds, and for this office the Republicans have made a wise selection in the person of Spain E. Pearce. Every one concedes that he is eminently fitted for this position, and has made a model official. While Spain Pearce has been in the office, his watchword has been "fairness and courtesy to all." The people of the county should see to it that Spain E. Pearce be continued in the office for the next two years.

Spain is an old Yale boy, having spent his early years in this locality, and every person of this part of the county has a warm spot in his heart for him. The Expositor feels safe in saying that Mr. Pearce is the unanimous choice of the voters in this locality for register of deeds and will receive a large majority over his opponent on Tuesday, November 6. We ask all our friends to vote for Spain E. Pearce for Register of Deeds.

JAMES C. HOLDEN,
Candidate for the Clothing Trade of Yale and Vicinity.

Mr. Holden is the pioneer Clothier of Yale and has met with unparalleled success by his honest and fair dealings, his courteous treatment to customers and the bargains offered to the trade.

On the opposite side of this insert you will find his announcement of fall and winter clothing and gent's furnishings. If you vote for the best men and buy your clothing where you can get the best bargain there will be no reason for regret.

RECIPROCITY FAKIRS

TRYING TO DEMORALIZE BAY STATE REPUBLICANISM.

The Whitney-Foss Idea Losing Ground in Canada. Although That Country Would Be the Sole Beneficiary Under the Proposed System.

It is somewhat amusing, although the subject in its essence is far from being one of mirth, to see the scramble of the reciprocity boomers to secure recognition in the Republican ranks and to hear them tell of what they "want" put in the Republican platform. The political filibusters who came so near electing one Whitney, free trader, Republican governor of this commonwealth against such a man as Eben S. Draper, should not have the nerve to attempt dictating to the very party they tried to ruin because they could not rule it. The chances are, however, that they would have even less success in their endeavor to foist free trade principles upon the convention of a protection party in a protection state than they had in previous years. In spite of the systematic agitation by the Canadian reciprocity apostles the idea has been losing rather than gaining ground in this and other states.

The Massachusetts voter is not one to be easily duped. Considerable sentiment was created last year, and its effects were felt at the polls, but the close observer of political feeling and events cannot fail to notice a diminution of the reciprocity sentiment and talk outside of the little array of political misfits who first started the boom and have been exerting themselves to keep it above water.

It requires but little reasoning on the part of the unbiased and unprejudiced voter to dispose of that Canadian reciprocity business. In order to have reciprocity there must be a mutual exchange of articles, and that exchange must be beneficial to the parties to the trade. If each one has an article that the other has not, but would like to have, there is a fair basis of exchange. But it is very evident that Canada can't sell us articles that we are trying to sell her, which we have in abundance and which she has also in large quantity. We must give Canadian products the benefit of a reduction in tariff, and Canada must do the same for ours. If we do not reduce our tariff enough to benefit the foreign producer we have conferred no advantage upon him, and we are entitled to none from him. If we take enough off the tariff to benefit him we are taking that much away from the home producer, who is entitled to protection against the stranger. The foreign producer, if he wants to avoid the tariff wall, must offer us something that we do not produce ourselves. And what has Canada to offer us that we have not? Not a single article of an nature or description. Every Canadian product sold in this country would rob some American laborer or producer of the fruit of his toil or the return from his investment. Where is the true American who could be sincere in an attempt to cripple or destroy an American industry to build up a foreign one?

If Canada only desired reciprocity, there would be some ground for at least a discussion of the subject. But Canada does not want it, does not talk about it, and its statesmen are immensely amused at the actions of our Massachusetts reciprocity performers. The Canadians don't want foreign competition against their young but prosperous industries. They are building up these industries and their commerce and are doing wonderfully well. None of the provinces has thus far "demanded" tariff legislation from the Dominion government, and none has given the political world the spectacle of a provincial election conducted over a purely federal issue. It was left for us to give that sort of exhibition.

Canada has no use for reciprocity unless she can make a good bargain at our expense. For the sake of Massachusetts' reputation for intelligence and common sense let the "medicine men" of the Foss and Whitney tribe stop their antics. The performance is getting wearisome and the people have business to attend to. The fakirs can't make them believe they are sick just to try their potions on them.

America is in splendid health, and the old Bay State is doing quite well, thank you.—Fall River Herald.

Another Name For Free Trade.

Secretary Shaw says a tariff for revenue only is simply another name for free trade. That is a fact. The Iowa Democrats demand that sort of a tariff, but they will not get it. When the Dingley schedules are revised the principle of protection will be kept in view. That this is essential to the welfare of American industries Congressmen Littlefield showed in his heart to heart talks to his Maine constituents, and he drew plenty of illustrations from his own district. There are precious few districts in the country where similar illustrations may not be found.—Lowell Citizen.

The Better Remedy.

Make it possible by rational tariffs to do business in this country and pay living wages, American wages, and then hold employer and employee alike to the observance of wholesome laws, modified from time to time as experience may suggest, but never ignored or defied. This is better than the free trader's remedy, which would burn your house to destroy the rats in it. Every approach to that method in this country has been followed by disaster. The last is too recent to be lost as a lesson. Remember 1893-94-95.—Lebanon (N. H.) Free Press.

FRANK R. WATSON,
Republican Candidate for Circuit Court Commissioner.

FRANK R. WATSON, a publican candidate for Circuit Court Commissioner, was born in Port Huron, St. Clair County, February 27th, 1880, attended the Public Schools in that city and graduated from the High School in 1900. In 1902 he entered the Law Department of the University of Michigan, and graduated in June 1904; was admitted to the bar and since that time has been actively engaged in the practice of law in Port Huron. He belongs to several fraternal and benevolent societies, among them being Knights of Pythias, Modern Masons, and Maccabees of the World.

GEORGE S. CLARKE,
Republican Candidate for Circuit Court Commissioner.

GEORGE S. CLARKE was born on a farm in Canada thirty-two years ago. He came to Port Huron when he was eighteen years of age securing a position in the law office of Messrs. Phillips & Jenks. Several years later he took the State Bar Examination at Lansing, Mich., and was duly admitted to the bar. He continued in the office of Phillips & Jenks until 1902 when he formed a partnership with C. W. Adams, with whom he has since been connected, the firm being known as Adams & Clarke. Mr. Clarke has always been a staunch Republican and an active worker in the ranks of the Republican party. He has held the office of Circuit Court Commissioner for one term and is well liked as an official by the attorneys who have had occasion to practice before him.

RECIPROCITY AND LABOR.

Shoe Workers Protest Against Removal of Duty on Footwear.

Officials of organized labor in Lynn, Mass., have issued a circular to shoe American wage earners in the shoe trade that a repeal of the duty on imported shoes would compel competition with foreign workers and open the way to manufacturers to cut down wages.

The Lynn shoe men show that their wages are from 60 per cent to 125 per cent higher than Canadian wages. They are from 80 per cent to 250 per cent higher than the scale in England, and from 81 per cent to 200 per cent higher than in France in similar kinds of work at the trade. They show that the American used to get nearly as much for a day wage as the German in Breslau and Bremen got for a week's work, and the disparity is still very great in favor of the American.

The circular adds that we are gaining foreign markets without reciprocity. Our exports of boots and shoes rose in value from $1,750,000 the year of the enactment of the Dingley tariff to $7,200,000 seven years later. For the fiscal year just closed the value exceeded $9,000,000. And yet four times as many boots and shoes are sold in the domestic market as in the foreign, and the home market broadens faster than the foreign.

"Reciprocity might for a time help merchants and shippers," say the Lynn men, "but for working people it would be a delusion and a snare." Governor Douglas advocates free hides and reciprocity in order to save his business, but he is building a new factory in which to set 4,000 more hands at work. His factory refutes his plea.—Buffalo News.

New England Conservative.

Mr. Bryan told the Connecticut people that he had observed New England was not a good breeding place for Democracy. That's true. Folks up there are noted for their hard sense.—Pittsburg Gazette.

The Apparent Reason.

Mr. Bryan says the money question has been quieted by "unexpected conditions." One of which is probably Mr. Bryan's private plea.—Washington Post.

It is essential to the country's welfare to send to Washington men who will aid and assist the Roosevelt administration, in carrying out the great governmental policies now outlined. A vote for Henry McMorrان for Congress is a vote for Theodore Roosevelt, and continued prosperity.

Republican Candidate for State Senator, 11th District.

BURT D. CADY, candidate for state senator, is a splendid type of the successful young man. If a man succeeds in his own business, it is a safe proposition that he can be relied upon to do full justice to the interests of others. It is of vital importance to the people of this county that Mr. Cady be elected to this office.

JOHN H. SCHWIKERT, JR.,
Republican Candidate for Coroner.

WILLIAM DUNNING,
Republican Candidate for Representative, First District, St. Clair Co.

WILLIAM M. DUNNING, Republican candidate for the legislature from the first district, is a well known farmer of Birchville township. Mr. Dunning is a representative citizen in every way. His honesty and sterling qualities are well known throughout the community. He is a man of strong convictions upon all questions involving right and wrong and rigidly adheres to what he believes to be the right.

As a member of the legislature it may be taken for granted that Mr. Dunning will endeavor to faithfully represent the very best interests of the district, county and state.

Since it is through Republican representatives that Republican senators are secured to represent our state at Washington, and thus continue Republican policies, progress and prosperity, it is most important that electors turn out on Nov. 6th to secure the election of Mr. Dunning as the Republican representative from the first legislative district.

All of these candidates are worthy of the votes of the people of the county. They are all honest, conscientious, capable and courteous gentlemen, and will give the people excellent service in the various offices for which they are nominated.

The president and his Republican coadjutors in congress have checked the trusts without filling the tariff with holes through which might have rushed a sea of foreign invasion and of the destructive competition of the ill paid labor of other countries.—Troy Times.
