Who said robins! John Fry is the new teamster for the Yale Lumber & Coal Company. Edward Andrae has been confined to his bed the past week on account of the grippe. Dr. Clyne has been attending him.

The Junior Dancing Club will hold a social hop in Central Hall on Friday evening, March 13.

Is it proper to speak of it as a "prohibition wave"? Were it not better to use a word more suggestive of drought?

Adam Gottselaben, living 7 1/2 miles east and 1 mile north of Yale, is very sick at his home with the grippe. Dr. Wright of Yale is attending him.

The infant baby of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Penfold is slowly improving, getting a little stronger each day. We are glad to note this change in the little one.

Last Friday evening the Swastika Club accompanied by their gentlemen friends took a sleigh ride out to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Adams' where a very pleasant time was enjoyed.

James Cole, of Speaker, came in Thursday and paid another year's subscription to the Expositor for his mother, Mr. Ellen Cole. This will make twenty-six years the family has taken the paper.

The auction sale of Wesley Balhoff Tuesday was one of the best of the season. We are informed that Mr. Balhoff has rented a farm one mile north of Yale and intends to move down there in a few weeks.—Peck Times.

A caucus of the Republican electors of Greenwood township is called for Wednesday, March 25th, at 2:00 o'clock local time, in the Town Hall, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the different township offices.

Levi Lane, of Yale, who played second base on last season's Knights of Columbus baseball team, has signed a contract with the Flint club, of the South Michigan League. He will play the same position with that team.—Port Huron Herald.

C. F. Welch, of New York City, left Tuesday on a trip home to see his mother. Mr. Welch recently purchased a farm of 40 acres from E. B. Fuller lying west and north of Yale. He expects to return in about a month's time and take up farming.

Children are apt to look forward to the time when they are grown up, in the belief that they can then make all the noise they want, but they always find that there is some other fellow who is making a greater noise than they can make, and they spend their maturer years, as they did their childhood, in listening.

The city officials invaded J. C. Jones' photograph gallery on Friday last and had two group pictures taken. The first was composed of the mayor, clerk and Aldermen, the second took in the mayor, clerk, aldermen, treasurer, attorney, supervisor, marshal, park commissioners, and teamster, fourteen in number. Both pictures are good likenesses.

It may interest our readers, and especially the old soldiers, who possibly are not informed, that there has been published by the state a series of regimental records, giving the name and address and other information of each soldier in a Michigan regiment during the Civil war. These records are printed in book form, a book to the regiment, forty four in all and may be obtained by writing to the adjutant general at Lansing, giving the name of the soldier whose record is wanted, stating the regiment. Each soldier is entitled to one book and the widow, oldest son or daughter, if the widow is dead.

The Yale Citizens' Band reorganized for the coming summer last Monday evening in the Council Chambers. E. H. Vickers, who has much ability as a teacher, has been engaged as leader. At this meeting E. A. Carney was chosen manager and Bruce Lothian secretary. The boys will practice every Monday and Thursday evenings in the Council Chambers. Those desiring to learn should be on hand each Wednesday evening when instructions will be given. About twelve have already signified their intention of joining. We can expect some fine music this summer when the weekly concerts are given.

Friday night A. V. Parmlee and Clyde Adams invited a representative of the Expositor to their rooms over Dick Windsor's barber shop. The rooms are under process of construction and when finished will be the best looking in town. The prevailing style will be the mission style. Mission furniture will be installed. The woodwork is being stained an ebony black. A mantle is being built in the south side of the front room. There will be three rooms, two bedrooms and one sitting room. A steel ceiling has been put on all three rooms, and has been tinted. Just below the ceiling will be a scenic border about 18 inches wide. Then a plain dark green paper will extend to within four feet of the floor. From there a burlap of a deep red extends to the baseboard which is stained a dead black. What with pictures and statuary Messrs. Parmlee, Adams and Ferguson will have a den to be proud of.

YALE INDUSTRIES.

Last week we gave a resume of the benefit which the Yale Canning Co. and the Yale Creamery had been to the farmers and Yale merchants. In this article we resume our resume and take up the Woolen Mills, Flour Mill and Flax Mill.

In the spring of 1881 C. Andrae & Sons built on their lot on First street the wooden buildings which held the woolen mills until 1885 when they were destroyed by fire. Immediately a brick building was erected and business commenced again. In 1905 the mill was enlarged to its present size, doubling its capacity.

Now the production per week is 3100 yards of double width cloth. The chief cloths manufactured are men's wear cassimeres, broadcloths and carriage cloths. These goods are sold at wholesale to large clothing and carriage manufacturers all over the country. The annual business amounts to over $20,000.

To the employees, about 70 in number, is paid $600 per week, making a total of over $30,000 per year. This money is paid to residents of Yale, and a great share is spent right in our own city, thus not only benefitting the employees but also the merchants of Yale.

The Yale Milling Company was started in 1896 when their three-story building was erected on Main street. Since then an excellent business has been done and the best of flour is always milled. The flour mill has always been a ready market for good wheat and no one has ever been turned down. During the past year an average of $1500 a month has been paid to the farmers for grain, making a total of about $60,000 a year. Wm. F. Ruh informs us that on some days as high as $200 has been paid out for grain.

The wheat which is purchased from farmers around Yale is turned into flour at the rate of 80 barrels a day, although this number varies and some days 100 barrels are put out. Four persons are kept busy all the time to do this work. Besides Yale's Pride the mill manufactures graham and buckwheat flours; and they cannot be beaten in the custom fees grinding they do. The farmers all praise their work along this line. Corn and mixed feeds are always kept on hand. A large share of the flour manufactured here is used in our own city and the housewives all attest to its superiority over other brands.

The James Livingston Flax Company established the head office for their Michigan mills at Yale in 1884. Six mills are located in the Thumb besides a number of receiving stations. During the six months ending Jan. 1st, 1908, the shipments of these six mills amounted to $100,141.62. To the farmers for this flax went $90,673.52 while the hired help was paid $38,068.10 for the work connected with converting the flax into tow.

For the past two years the flax instead of being pulled by hand has been cut and baled, owing to a scarcity of labor. But this year the old method will be resorted to. During all the time the flax mill has been in Yale it has been invaluable to the farmers, and to Yale citizens, furnishing outdoor employment in the summer and work in the mill during the winter. Acreage is being secured and everything indicates a good price for flax this fall.

The Family Physician

The best medicines in the world cannot take the place of the family physician. Consult him early when taken ill. If the trouble is with your throat, bronchial tubes, or lungs, ask him about taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Then take it or not, as he says.

Bilious attacks, sick-headaches, indigestion, constipation, dizzy spells—these are some of the results of an inactive liver. Ask your doctor if he endorses Ayer's Pills in these cases. The dose is small, one pill at bedtime.

FOR CITY TREASURER.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF YALE.

Gentlemen:—I desire to announce to the electors of the City of Yale that I am a candidate for the Office of City Treasurer at the coming caucus to be held on Tuesday, March 24. Your vote is earnestly solicited. Very truly yours, H. McDONALD.

The LBS will meet with Mrs. R. G. McLaughlin next week Wednesday afternoon. Plenty of work.

Alice and Edna Livingston have been here the past two weeks arranging to move here sometime soon, from Baden, Ont.

The "barn dances" of our younger days when father marked time with a trunk strap were not so popular as the variety now current.

Mrs. H. A. Granger has been quite sick for over a week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Menzies. Dr. Pollock is attending her.

The blues of the M. E. church will hold a coffee at Mrs. John Holden's on Mechanic street Tuesday afternoon, March 17. Everybody come.

Rev. E. H. Douglass, assisted by Rev. E. H. Bradford, of Cass City, are conducting a series of successful meetings in the Presbyterian church this week.

Eddie Chandler's dray has received a brand new coat of paint, and now all Eddie has to do is drive up and down Main street, with a grin on from year to year.

J. B. Weymouth moved his household furniture to Marlette on Monday and Will Bryce on Wednesday moved into the Rollis house vacated by Mr. Weymouth.

Mrs. Geo. Cork, of Yale, who has been taking care of her niece, Mrs. Doblyn received word on Tuesday that her husband was sick. She left for her home on Wednesday.—Belle River cor. to Capac Journal.

Jas. I. Vincent, who has been a civil engineer for a bridge company in New York city for some time, is expected home tomorrow to visit for a few days before sailing for India, March 27, where he has a fine position.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Vincent are contemplating moving to Chicago in the course of a few weeks. As soon as they sell their home on North Main street they will start for that city. We are sorry to hear that we are to lose them from our midst.

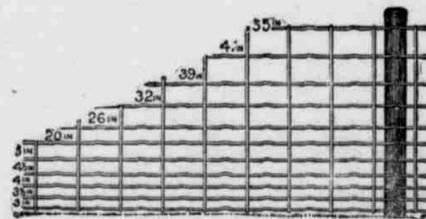

Several of Yale's residents are doing a good work by having the poplar trees around their homes cut down. These trees certainly make better wood, than they do shade. H. E. Beard, Geo. McIntyre and Richard Houghton have started the good work.

Wm. Knowles has purchased the Wark house on Mary street. Richard Houghton has bought the Gustin house on Kennebec and North streets. He has made a big improvement by cutting down the poplar trees, which were unsightly and useless. James Sterling has bought Edward Newell's house on Jones st.
