WHEN THE STATE OF TEXAS REVOLTED

THE ALAMO

PORT SAM HOUSTON, in San Antonio, Tex., to which 20,000 troops were hurriedly dispatched, is located close to the historic spot where the battle of the Alamo was fought.

This inscription, ascribed to Lord Macaulay, is engraved on a monument in the grounds of the Texas capitol at Austin in commemoration of the garrison, all of which died fighting against overwhelming odds in the battle of the Alamo, which ended March 6, 1836.

Americans in Texas rose in rebellion against the government of Mexico in 1835. Early in 1836 the rebellion grew into warfare. The Texans were under the leadership of the bluff Gen. Sam Houston as president of the new republic of Texas and as commander-in-chief of their little army of volunteers.

After an hour the Mexicans had overpowered the Texans and were swarming to the roof. The defenders retreated down the stairs, fighting every inch of the way.

Unprepared for Battle. The garrison at Santa Ana's coming. The first tidings of his approach were given by the sentinels posted on the roof of the Alamo, which was an abandoned Franciscan mission, built in 1723.

When the news of Santa Ana's approach reached Travis he determined to make good his defense until reinforcements could arrive. With him was Col. James Bowie, whose name was always associated with his famous knife, and Davy Crockett, the frontiersman and hunter of history and romance.

They Remember the Alamo. Among the out of date warships to be sold at Toulon by the order of the French government are the armor-clad cruisers Milan and Pascal and three submarines, Lutin, Gymnote and Gustave Zede.

Laughing Eyes. That Wilkesbarre woman who caused the arrest of a girl on the charge that she had used "laughing eyes" to "beguile" plaintiff's young son experienced no sympathy at the hands of the court.

The Cause. "What was the cause of the quarrel between the two tramps?" "One found some money, the other tried to make him fork it over, and when he refused, knifed him."

A Real Curiosity. "Has your dolly got real hair, little girl?" "Yes, but that's nothing; I know a little girl whose mamma has got real hair."

HOW THE JAPS FIGHT FIRE

Review of the Tokio Department, as a Demonstration of Practical Efficiency, Was Farcical.

As a display of low comedy talent of acrobatic skill and of lung capacity, the review of the Tokio fire brigades at Hibiyia park may have had a certain degree of interest, but as a demonstration of practical efficiency in dealing with what the Japanese translator loves to designate "conflagrations" it was unutterably farcical.

It is true that the metropolitan fire companies represent a great advance upon what they were during the pre-Meiji days, when the greatest solicitude of the members of the "hi-keshi-gumi" was devoted not to the task of extinguishing the flames but rather to that of preserving from incineration the little effigy of a god or patron saint which every company unflinchingly carried with it on these expeditions for good luck.

Old residents bear witness to the vociferous energy and enthusiasm with which the firemen fulfilled this self-appointed task, while the fire in its turn merrily discharged its mission of gutting everything inflammable within an accessible area.

Cool and capable in war, the Japanese, despite centuries of familiarity, appear to lose their heads when fire starts. Confusion reigns supreme. Connected with each fire station are large numbers of what may be termed auxiliaries, who have really nothing to do with the actual task of extinguishing the flames, but whose duties consist in appearing on the scene at the earliest possible moment armed with lanterns and in thereafter helping to remove goods and chattels from the buildings within the danger zone.—New York Herald.

Bear Romance Is Ended. Old Ben, the big black bear who has lived at the Bronx zoo almost ever since the zoo started, is dead. Old Ben was about twenty-two years old and Dr. W. Reed Blair believes that old age had a great deal to do with his death.

Not a life was lost, not a case of panic recorded. The first passenger off was a woman and the second a baby. The cabin passengers, masters of the situation and the language, generously gave precedence to the more timorous steerage.

Tom L. Johnson Gives Up. Tom L. Johnson, Cleveland's mayor, has given up. His great struggle for life has left him terribly weakened and for the first time he expressed a desire that he might take his last sleep.

Diaz Must Step Down. A declaration that all talk of peace is futile so long as President Diaz refuses to resign and that the cabinet changes at Mexico City have served only to convince the insurgents of their ultimate success, was made by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., the provisional president.

The Young Man's Tact. The man who was having his picture taken in the photograph gallery was an innocent listener to this conversation between two young ladies on the other side of the screen: "You know, Kate, I sometimes wear a long curl hanging down the back of my neck?"

The Merry Chase. "Friend," do you know anything about the pursuit of happiness?" "Ought to," chuckled the rural constable, as he filled his mouth with tobacco. "Calculate I have chased more eloping couples than any man in this section."

NEARLY ALL WERE MASSACRED

BRAVE LITTLE BAND OF 30 MEN THAT FUGHT 400 MEXICANS IS CUT TO PIECES.

ONLY 20 INSURGENTS ESCAPED AND RETURNED FROM THE BATTLEFIELD.

Madero Marching With 3,000 Men Is Prepared to Meet Large Force of Federals.

Gen. Stanley Williams buried his little battalion of rebels against Col. Miguel Mayot's 500 Mexican regulars on the Mesa five miles south of Mexicali. Eighty insurgents went into the fight, 20 returned from the battlefield.

Williams himself was fatally wounded, his head being torn by a fragment from an exploding shell. He died in the improvised hospital established by the United States troops at Calexico.

Survivors straggling into Mexicali declare that the federals took no prisoners. All those not killed by the first of these rifles, machine-guns and artillery were, it is alleged, slaughtered mercilessly by bayonets in the hands of federal soldiers.

Madero, with his 3,000 insurgents, broke camp near Chihuahua, and started towards Casas Grandes region, which is evidently a move in accordance with newly-laid plans to abandon whatever method of attack he had projected from his camp.

Passengers Taken From Stranded Ship. In just five hours and 10 minutes the 1,720 cabin and steerage passengers on the stranded North German Lloyd liner, Prinzess Irene, off the coast of Louisiana, were transferred to the deck of her sister ship, the Prinz Frederik Wilhelm, and one hour after nightfall were safely on their way to New York.

Not a life was lost, not a case of panic recorded. The first passenger off was a woman and the second a baby. The cabin passengers, masters of the situation and the language, generously gave precedence to the more timorous steerage.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Grand Rapids.—Six hundred teachers in the Grand Rapids public schools held a mass meeting to formulate a final demand for an increase in salary of 20 per cent. Although it was declared that the teachers would not cause any interruption in this year's school work if the school board does not grant the salary increase, it is estimated much trouble may be experienced in filling the 1911-12 teaching lists before the school year ends.

St. Johns.—The mystery of the Uhrbrock sugar bush has been solved. The strange man who seemed bent on persecuting the Uhrbrock family by overturning sap buckets, starting fires and committing other depredations on the Uhrbrock farm, was run down by the sheriff and proved to be a half-witted nephew named Claude Eno.

Muskegon.—Muskegon, after a three weeks' water famine, has a sufficient supply of water for domestic purposes and is in better shape for fire protection. A small emergency pipe which has not been used for more than twenty years was cleared of debris, and this is filling the wells at the pumping station fairly well.

Kalamazoo.—Louis Meszarous and Minnie Raukin were taken from Kalamazoo and will be deported, immigration officers asserting they are undesirable. The couple came here a year ago from Hungary, claiming to be husband and wife. It was later discovered that Meszarous had deserted a wife in the old country, coming here with Miss Raukin. This is the first deportation ever made from this city.

Niles.—Pearl fishing is to become an industry on St. Joseph river this season. Henry Toogood of Sturgis, a veteran in the business, has just arrived from Wisconsin, where he has been for some years on Rock river, meeting with great success. The St. Joseph river has already given indications that it is a producer of pearls of much intrinsic value.

Kalamazoo.—When two street cars collided in Kalamazoo Mrs. Louise Bassett, aged seventy-four years, was probably fatally injured. As a Washington avenue car was turning a corner, a Portage street car struck it broadside and hurled the passengers of the Washington avenue car to the floor with terrific force.

Arboretum.—General officials of the Ann Arbor railroad were here and said they will soon give an answer to Cadillac's request to deed to the city the lake front which the city recklessly signed over to them in the days when getting a railroad meant everything to this city. Now Cadillac wants it back so that the city park can be extended to the water front and clear the water's edge of ill-looking buildings.

Armad.—From the farm to the church and back again as a tiller of the soil is the record of Rev. J. C. Clutterbuck, pastor of the Congregational church of this village, who has occupied the pulpit for a number of years. Mr. Clutterbuck has resigned his pastorate and expects to leave about the last of the present month for Lake county.

Grand Rapids.—Charles Mitchell of Battle Creek drank poison while standing before the Crathmore hotel bar. He was removed to Butterworth hospital and the doctors state he will die.

Battle Creek.—Although Dr. Thomas Zelinsky, while campaigning for mayor, did not make a statement regarding his views on local option and was therefore considered to be "wet," about the first thing he did after being sworn in as mayor was to instruct Chief of Police W. H. Farrington that he expected the laws to be obeyed—from now to May 1 the local option law, from May 1 on the liquor law.

Saginaw.—By the breaking of the tie in the Ninth ward between William Roberts and John Zahner, candidates for supervisor, Mr. Roberts' winning gave the Republicans a majority of ten on the county board. At the next meeting of the board the poorhouse investigation will be revived, and may come to a definite head.

Grand Rapids.—The strike of the furniture workers, which was expected to be called against 40 furniture factories this week, is being held in abeyance by the efforts of Bishop Schrems of the Catholic diocese and Rev. A. W. Wisbart, local Baptist pastor, to have the Manufacturers' association confer with the citizens' committee and unions in an effort to settle the demands of the men by arbitration.

Cadillac.—The $50,000 bonding proposition for a new courthouse for West fort county carried by over 800 majority.

MUNYON'S PAW-PAW PILLS

TRADE MARK

A trial package of Munyon's Paw Paw Pills will be sent free to anyone on request. Address Professor Munyon, 534 & Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia, Pa. If you are in need of medical advice, do not fail to write Professor Munyon. Your communication will be treated in strict confidence, and your case will be diagnosed as carefully as though you had a personal interview.

Munyon's Paw Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods. They do not scour, they do not gripe, they do not weaken, but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. In my opinion constipation is responsible for most ailments. There are 26 feet of human bowels, which is really a sewer pipe.

When this pipe becomes clogged the whole system becomes poisoned, causing biliousness, indigestion and impure blood, which often produce rheumatism and kidney ailments. No woman who suffers with constipation or any liver ailment can expect to have a clear complexion or enjoy good health. If I had my way I would prohibit the sale of nine-tenths of the cathartics that are now being sold for the reason that they soon destroy the lining of the stomach, setting up serious forms of indigestion, and so paralyze the bowels that they refuse to act unless forced by strong purgatives.

Munyon's Paw Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverish it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it.

These pills contain no calomel, no dope; they are soothing, healing and stimulating. They school the bowels to act without physic.

Regular size bottle, containing 45 pills, 25 cents. Munyon's Laboratory, 534 & Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia.

NATURALLY.

Jonathan—Silas is dead. Went to their city ter git a tooth pulled and their dentist told him he'd better take gas first.

Postmaster—Gave him an overdose, eh? Jonathan—No. After their dentist told him that he went back ter his boarding house an' took their gas himself.
