Why Our Prices Are Lowest Don't Throw Your Money Away

Paying more for an article at one place than you would have to elsewhere is nothing more or less than throwing money away. Especially is this true in those cases in which you pay more for an article at one place than you would need to pay for a better article at another.

The Rexall Store

does most of its buying in combination with more than 5,000 other leading druggists of the United States. These combined purchases, tremendous indeed—representing many tens of millions of dollars annually—secure for us the best prices on the best goods in the best markets of the world.

Every patron of The Rexall Store gets the benefit of this buying power on every article he—or she—buys. No other store than The Rexall Store has these buying advantages. That is why you can almost get lower prices, quality considered, at The Rexall Store than elsewhere.

If you buy all of your drugs, stationery, toilet goods and other drug store supplies at The Rexall Store, you will, we promise you, save many dollars annually.

Rev. S. M. Gilchrist accidentally was shocked by the village electric lighting current last Tuesday evening and for several hours his condition was serious. He had been attending a meeting held in the M. E. church and at the close of the meeting remained to turn off the lights. He accidentally touched an uncovered wire and was thrown to the floor. His outcry as he fell attracted the attention of passers by and a doctor was called at once and Mr. Gilchrist was taken to his home. He was unconscious for over two hours but has since fully recovered and feels no ill effects resulting from his unpleasant experience.—Inlay City Times.

Geo. McIntyre enjoys a joke but when he can put it over on the other fellow he is in his glory. This time it happened to be on him. While driving along the highway between this city and North Branch on Sunday last in his automobile he spied a couple of pigs in the roadway. Going at about a 20 mile clip he either lost his head or thought the pigs would get out of his way by the time he came up to them. Before he realized where he was at, he was over them, a 200 pounder, killing the "deader" a door nail. On his return from the Branch, Mack passed over the same road at such a lively clip that he did not hear the call of the owner of the pig but noticed the family holding a post mortem examination on the lawn in front of the house. Mack on securing advice as to his being held for the price of the pig was told that the owner could not recover damages as "it was contributory negligence on the part of the pig." This story is told by Bill Fletcher who has had many a good laugh over the escapade.

A. E. Jackson writes us from Greenville where he races his horses last week stating that he had all kinds of good luck, winning three first moulies and one second with Starlight, along with bunches of fast horses in five and six heat races, stepping in 16 1/4, 17 1/4, 17 1/4 and 18 1/4 over a slow track. Little Nellie J. won two races in which she was entered. An eye has been saved by a horseman wanting to buy his horses offering big sums of money for them, but refused the offers. From Greenville he will ship to Hastings about one hundred miles distant where the horses will race this week.

Jack Batiste, one of our local bad men ran amuck of the law's strong arm last evening and was laid away for the night in ward one of the hay mow in the municipal barn. Jack had been brooding over domestic and other affairs and to make matters worse some bold naughty man treated him to liberal sips of dago red and all the tiger in Jack's make-up was in evidence and he cavorted up and down Main street for as much as half an hour when the Goodness Morpheus pulled her curtain over the scene and John stretched full length in the ditch, dead to all the world. Marshal Henry was notified and with the assistance of his son John and Doc Pollock the "load" was conveyed to the aforesaid resting place. Those who are acquainted with the "bad" man mentioned above, will know what a time the marshal had in landing his man, but for the benefit of those who don't know him we will say that he tips the beam at 84 1/2 lbs. when "filled to the neck."

STATE OF MICHIGAN, The Thirty-first Judicial Circuit, in Chancery. Addie L. Rossler, Complainant vs. Paul Rossler, Defendant.

What is This Dahl Punctureless Tire?

It consists of a resilient cushion or filler made of vegetable oils and other ingredients with which the outer casing is filled and when filled, is compressed in the casing by means of the tools furnished with each set of tires. The shock absorbing qualities of this filler are substantially the same as the pneumatic tire casing and in fact, a car has the same easy riding qualities of the air tires. The filler is moulded when made, to exactly fit the different size casings and can be used in connection with any make of casings. It is placed inside the casing and takes the place of the inner tube, which is discarded. Heat or cold does not affect it and it does not flatten nor lose its resiliency from standing.

What This Filler is Not

It is not a soft gummy mixture, like some so-called pneumatic fillers, pumped into the inner tube and only good for a short time. This filler of ours is cast or moulded to fit the casing and is in substance like rubber, but is much more resilient than solid rubber and contains no moisture to evaporate and dry out.

We do not use the inner tube at all

Our filler does not wear out, but when your casing is worn out you take it off and put a new one on the same filler. No delay, no stopping by the road side in the hot sun to repair blowouts or slow leaks. Just one round of pleasure. Think it over.

Mrs. F. W. Wilber after spending a week with friends and relatives near Yale, left for Silverwood on Tuesday, expecting to make a short visit at that point, before returning to her home in Boyne City.

Dr. Brush of Port Huron was a professional caller in the city Wednesday. While here he assisted Dr. Leinmont in performing an operation on L. C. Sterling to remove a portion of the bone which protruded out past the flesh on the leg which was recently amputated.—Sanilac Jeffersonian.

The funeral services of James Skillington, who died last week Tuesday from the kick of a horse, were held at Sacred Heart church, Yale, on Tuesday of this week, being largely attended by relatives and friends interested in the R. C. cemetery, west of this city. The delay in holding the funeral was caused by waiting for Geo. Skillington, who arrived from Vancouver, B. C., Monday.

The Inlay City fair and races, advertised in another space in this issue, will be one of the greatest exhibitions in the state this year. Its managers are exerting every effort to give the visitors the most for their money, having secured many new and interesting attractions. This fair is located in a fine farming country and the best from the farms will be shown. The horse races will be one of the features that will be exciting and closely contested. Remember the date Sept. 30, Oct. 1 and 2, and be sure and attend.

The Expositor has just added a nice line of the latest faces of type to its already well equipped job department and we are better than ever prepared to turn out plain and fancy stationery.
