Peck's Bad Boy.

"Peck's Bad Boy," which is to be presented at Central Hall, Yale, Monday night, Sept. 13th, is one of the most human stories which has ever been offered on the stage. The play's story—meagre as it is—concerns such an American boy as is to be found in any hamlet, village, town or city in this country. It shows the typical American boy of his age has played upon those with whom he comes in contact. The Bad Boy has for his companions a chum and his best girl, and this trio make things very interesting for the Bad Boy's father, his mother, and the man who runs the corner grocery store.

This season's edition of the old favorite comedy is brighter and more entertaining than any previous one has been because of the unusual ability of the vaudeville performers who are with the company, introducing their specialties during the action of the play.

How Mrs. Etchells' sweet voice will be missed from the choir. Her music was certainly an inspiration. We mourn her loss, but God knows best.

To Simon P. Murphy

(By a Grandchild)
I've often quailed beneath his gaze,
When I was just a little child;
If he disliked my heedless ways,
His brief rebuke was far from mild,
But when I look, with mind grown wise,
Upon those days of long ago,
I see the twinkle in his eyes
And feel the warmth beneath the snow.
His gruff voice could not hide somehow,
The kindness that came creeping through;
And underneath his fine wide brow,
Were loving thoughts for all he knew,
His hearty welcome always stayed,
The footsteps of each parting guest;
His friendship, staunch and unafraid,
Warms even now the hands he pressed.
God, less ungrateful we would seem,
Stilled as our grief, and dried our tears;
In our dark night his star will beam;
We thank Thee for the long, long years.

Schools May Bar Children
Common colds are contagious and boards of health in many cities are considering barring children with colds from school. Foley's Honey and Tar is an old and reliable family medicine and frees children from coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Parents may save trouble by giving before school opens. Herb T. Hennessy, Ad.

More than 10% of all Cement Used in the United States is

Consider these facts about the National Cement: Starting in 1898, with one mill having a yearly capacity of 250,000 barrels of Lehigh Cement, we have grown to the extent of twelve mills located throughout the country for quick distribution to our customers, capable of producing over 12,000,000 barrels annually.

This is the Cement age—in the United States yearly the consumption is ONE BARREL FOR EVERY PERSON—cement is used everywhere—for every conceivable purpose.

Cement has made possible the world's greatest engineering triumphs—canals—dams—irrigation projects—subways, etc. It enters into the construction of our homes—factories—public buildings—garages—streets—roads—sidewalks—bridges—railroads—piers—etc. The farmer uses it for barns—floors—silos—cisterns—water troughs—fence posts—etc.

Cement makes possible fire-proof concrete construction and will last forever. Directly or indirectly every person in the United States uses cement. You should know of the ability of cement construction.

You should know about Lehigh and the reasons which make it the National Cement—WHY 10% of all the cement used in the United States is LEHIGH (the remaining nine-tenths being manufactured by over one hundred other companies).

We have the agency for the Saginaw Steel-built Silos. They stand up against wind and storm, they are air-tight. Saginaw silage is succulent, sweet and clean all the way through. The Saginaw Silos are reinforced by steel ribs, which does three things:

- First:—It absolutely prevents the slipping lengthwise or tilting of the staves under heavy wind pressure.
- Second:—The angle steel ribs prevents the caving in of the walls.
- Third:—It makes easy the erecting of the silo.

The Silo is a tried and proven profit maker. Everywhere Silos are solving the great feed cost problem. Please call and have a talk with us on the Silo proposition before buying.
